* By the provisions of chapter 115 of the Laws of 1903, liquor tax rates were increased fifty per cent., in effect April 2, 1903.

† By the provisions of chapter 144 of the Laws of 1908, the beginning of the certificate year was changed from May 1st to October 1st, to correspond with the fiscal year of the State. Under this amendment, the excise tax collected May 1, 1908, was for only five-twelfths of one year, which explains the apparent decrease in revenue.

‡ By the provisions of chapter 672 of the Laws of 1915, liquor tax rates were increased twenty-five per cent., in effect October 1, 1915. Three-fifths of the revenue from liquor tax certificates shall be paid to the State Treasurer and two-fifths to the fiscal officer of the city or town in which the traffic was carried on and from which such revenue was received.

Local Option Status of Towns in New York State

The following summary statement of local option statistics covering all of the towns in the State from 1897 (in which year the first vote under the present law was had) to 1917, inclusive, is of interest. While it shows a fluctuation of the vote in close towns, the decrease of forty-nine in the number of full license towns, the increases of two hundred and sixty-seven in the number of no-license towns, and the decrease of two hundred and seventeen in the number of partial license towns, and the decrease of nine towns in the State during that period, indicate the drift of public sentiment:

Results in New York County

The net receipts in New York county, under the Liquor Tax Law, for the year ending September 30, 1917, after paying all rebates, were $6,698,273.51, of which there was paid into the treasury of New York city, as the locality's net share, $2,674,068.47, and into the State Treasury as the State's net share, $4,024,205.04.

Since the enactment of the Liquor Tax Law, May 1, 1896, to September 30, 1917, there has been collected under it in New York county $141,860,756.29, of which $73,723,554.05 has been paid into the treasury of New York city, and $64,160,800.18 into the treasury of the State (rebates on surrendered certificates deducted).

Benefit by Reduced Tax, Etc.

The net amount paid into the State treasury as excise taxes from the entire State for the year ending September 30, 1917, was $12,586,356.93.

New York county's share of property assessed for State taxation is given in the equalization table for 1917, prepared by the State Board of Assessors, as 40.897 per cent. Therefore, the benefit derived by New York county from liquor tax moneys paid into the State treasury during the year ending September 30, 1917, has been 40.897 per cent of $12,586,356.93, or $5,147,442.42. In other words, if the State treasury had not received the above amount as taxes from the liquor traffic, New York county would have been obliged to pay into the State treasury from taxes on real and personal property $5,147,442.42 more for the support of the State government. In addition to this benefit of $5,147,442.42 from reduced State taxes during the year ending September 30, 1917, there was paid directly into the treasury of New York city as the locality's share of the excise receipts collected in New York county, $2,674,068.47, making a total benefit for the year of $7,821,510.89, being an increase of $6,715,497.79 over the total of $1,056,013.10 receipts from excise taxes under the old law for the year ending April 30, 1896.

It will be noted from the above that New York county's benefit under the Liquor Tax Law by reduced State taxes for the year ending September 30, 1917, was $5,147,442.42, while there was paid into the State treasury as excise taxes coming from such county but $4,024,205.04; that is, New York county benefited from a reduction in its State tax through operation of the Liquor Tax Law $1,118,237.38 more than was paid into the State treasury as excise taxes from that county.

The result is due to the fact that New York county's per cent of the entire real and personal property in the State which is assessed for State taxation is greater than the per cent of the entire excise taxes paid into the State treasury which comes from that county.

Decrease in Drinking Places

Under the old law for the year ending April 30, 1896, there were 7,330 places licensed in New York county for liquors to be drunk on the premises where sold. The number of liquor tax certificates in force September 30, 1917, for such drinking places was 3,975, being a decrease of 3,355 or 46 per cent, notwithstanding an increase in population of over 53 per cent since the enactment of the present Liquor Tax Law.
