RUSSIAN MINISTER VISITS MACDONALD COLLEGE

On Thursday, Sept. 10, Macdonald College was host to a group of Russian agriculturalists led by their Minister of Agriculture, Mr. I.P. Volovchenko. Included in the group were:

B.A. Runov - Consultant on Agric. Electrical Engineer
S.S. Sdolnikov - Deputy Director of Union Scientific Research Institutes of Grain

M.A. Fedin - Chief Specialist, Deputy Chief of Science Department of U.S.S.R. Ministry of Agriculture

Y.P. Germash - Senior Economist of the Conjunctive Scientific Research Institute of the U.S.S.R. Ministry of Foreign Trade

Mr. Scheicko - Agricultural Counsellor for the U.S.S.R. Embassy, Ottawa

Mr. Bagramov - Agricultural Press, Moscow

Miss V. Kohoroshilov - Interpreter, U.S.S.R. Embassy, Ottawa

While visiting the college, the group had an opportunity to meet and to exchange ideas with their counterparts on the Macdonald staff. Several of the Russians were interested in the plant breeding work in progress at the college and took the opportunity to visit the experimental agronomy fields to see the development of new crop varieties. With the development of such well known crop varieties as Montcalm Barley, Champlain Barley and Shefford oats, Macdonald College has gained a world-wide recognition as a leading institution in plant breeding.

In addition to visiting the agronomy test fields, the group were conducted through the experimental areas dealing with animal nutrition and management of farm livestock. Following this, the delegation visited the Morgan Arboretum where they saw the production of trees as a farm crop. On their way to the Arboretum, they visited the extensive collection of Canadian birch seedlings being prepared for replanting in the Canadian Birch Trail located in the Arboretum. The College staff felt that the Russians would likely have more interest in this particular project, since the birch tree is a typical of Russia as it is of Canada.

In welcoming the Russian group of agriculturalists to the Macdonald campus, Dr. H.G. Dion and Vice-Principal pointed out how pleased the college is to have the Russians visit us, to meet the Macdonald staff and to exchange information and plant materials to benefit both Canada and Russia. Dr. Dion referred to the recent introduction of Russian varieties of sunflowers to Canada as having revolutionized the production of this oil seed crop in this country. It is hoped that similar exchanges of plant material between Russia and Canada will result in improved crop production in both countries.

We would like to acknowledge the Department of Extensions of Macdonald College for the use of this article.

COUNCIL CORNER

The Students' Council gathered for their first meeting of the term this week.

In a financial report, the Treasurer reported that a new typewriter had been purchased for the Council House and that two washers had been bought for Brittain Hall. It was suggested that a contract be drawn up for our permanent secretary, Mrs. Vautier.

A report on the Orientation Week program was accepted.

Dr. and Mrs. Brawn were unanimously elected to the posts of Honorary President and Vice-President of the Students' Society for the current year.

Seven proposals drawn up by a committee selected at the Leadership Workshop were presented to Council. These proposals were discussed at length and five were tabled for consideration at a later date when more information is available.

The two proposals passed by Council are:

The Macdonald campus is a hive of activity again after a summer of relative quietness. Last week we attempted on campus to our college activities and to campus life in general. This was the aim we hoped to accomplish through our Orientation program.

Monday was registration day for the first year Home Economics and Agricultural students. The next day while the first year teachers were registering, the Home Ec's and Aggies toured the campus. This tour finally lead them to the Morgan Arboretum where they were met by members of the Orientation Committee and were guided to the Chalet. A "fashion show" of the various Macdonald College garments which are offered for sale was presented. This was followed by a picnic supper of barbecued chicken which was enjoyed by all. The teachers were treated to a similar picnic supper in the Arboretum on Thursday. It is unfortunate that transportation to the Arboretum poses such problems. The construction work on the Trans-Canada highway causes great risk in getting students to the Arboretum. Unless a service road is provided, it is very probable that this will be the last time we will be given an opportunity to enjoy a picnic supper and a few hours of leisure in our beloved Arboretum.

The greased pig competition held Tuesday evening caused a good many laughs. The highlight came when Bob Robson was blindfolded and with the help of our Carnival Queen, Evelyn Sibbitt, managed to win out over a rather tired and confused pig!

Later at a Hootenany in the Coffee Shop, everyone was given an opportunity to flex his vocal cords. We hope to be hearing more from the fine group of musicians who so ably led in the singing.

Wednesday the new students were formally introduced to their Students' Council and Activities Chairmen. Then, following the Vice-Principal's Reception, we all struggled to catch the beat of some well-worn records as we at least enjoyed the fresh air at the Street Dance! Unfortunately, our amplification system left something to be desired as one of our mobile units decided it would be a convenient time to "burn out".

After the teachers returned from the Arboretum on Thursday, Joy Maddaugh conducted a Scavenger Hunt. This resulted in an invasion of the coffee shop in a quest for egg shells. Some difficulty was encountered in finding a certain type of female undergarment as well! While a sing-song was enjoyed around the campfire, preparations were made for the weiner roast. A shower sent everyone scurrying for shelter in the Stewart Foyer. As the weiners were being enjoyed, Trevor Cave provided the group with some very fine entertainment. So keen was the enthusiasm, that difficulty was experienced in clearing the Foyer for "clean-up" operations.

The new students provided an evening of entertainment for the upper-classmen on Friday. The Fun Night program, sponsored by Lit and Deb under the direction of Alex McKinney, indicated that our "talent resources" on campus have been increased. The Frosh Teachers walked off with top honors and were the recipients of a trophy prepared for the occasion. Congratulations on a job well done, Education '66!!

EDITORIAL

This is my first edition of the Failt-Ye, and you will no doubt find some things that could be improved. Your views would be appreciated, as it is our desire to improve the paper. There are two things which should be noted by the students:

1. Articles should be given to myself, member of the staff, or be presented at the failt-ye office on or before Monday nights. Exceptions will be made to this rule if, for instance, the event takes place Monday night or Tuesday, and if notice is given in before Monday night.
2. Articles should be in good handwriting, or typed, if possible.

If these rules are adhered to, the work load on the staff of the failt-ye would be lessened.

Lastly, the staff of the "Failt-Ye" is far from completed, so those of you who would like the experience and the challenge should see me. We are interested in any students of this college, and this includes you - COMMUTER.

Leadership Workshop

Mt. St. Hilaire

The Students' Council and student Activities Committee at Macdonald College are starting the year of 1964-65 with new ideas and new co-operation which were founded during a Leadership Workshop at Mt. St. Hilaire. A group of twenty students, consisting of Council members and student activity executive members were guided by resource men Mr. Mark Waldron, Professor Brawn and Reverend Olive through a workshop programme which lasted from Friday night to Sunday night. The seminar took place on the beautiful McGill Gault Estate at Mt. St. Hilaire.

On Friday night, members present met to set goals for the weekend. A summary is as follows:

- practice of parliamentary procedure
 - guidance and practice in public speaking
 - Discussions of group dynamics, group planning
 - promotion and publicity motivation
 - promotion of staff-student relationships
 - the importance of records and reports
- The students present were divided into three clans to appoint clan chairmen, clan secretaries, and a member to act as a member of the Steering Committee.

The Steering Committee for the weekend consisted of Darrell Wood, Bob Robson and Sue Ward.

Committee chairmen as appointed were Alex McKinney, Dough Sargeant and Chuck Warner.

The Steering Committee was responsible for planning group discussions and the programme for the weekend so that the goals, as outlined, could be realized.

On Saturday morning, workshop started before 9 a.m. with a mock meeting as a study in parliamentary procedure. Reverend Olive offered good criticism and advice, and after a question period a film, "Conducting a Meeting" was shown.

A public speaking session followed, again under the leadership of Reverend Olive. Each member present delivered a five minute talk on his or her student activity and

EDITORIAL

After a somewhat less than perfect college paper last year, there has been some doubt in many minds as to what the Failt-ye will amount to this year.

This concern is necessary, and actually is appreciated, as it means that at least some people care, and this concern has certainly been lacking over the last while, especially by the majority of the students at Macdonald College. This is a sad fact, and certainly should be corrected. This is a student paper - for them and by them and in order to make this paper of more interest to the students, it will be our endeavour to get the students themselves to fill its pages.

There are many students on campus who are capable of producing good reading material - on any subject, ranging from appraisals of college life to world affairs, to good down to earth wit. Poems are always an asset, as are notes on different group meetings. There are the things that are needed to make this paper one that you, the students, will enjoy. The ability is present - we want the results.

plans for the coming year. The entire group agreed that they had learned a lot, both about Student Activities, and about the art of public speaking.

On Saturday afternoon, workshop was concerned with the topic Motivation. Each group prepared five points and two questions, to be discussed by a panel consisting of Doug Avery, Joy Maddaugh, Dr. Brawn and Gail Robison. Subjects discussed were the new brother-sister program, the organization of Student Activities Committee, freshman orientation, Failt-Ye Times, and the use of the ques-

STUDENT SOCIETY ELECTIONS

Student Society elections, to fill the four posts of Councillors from Agriculture, Home Economics, Education and Graduate Studies will be held next Friday, October 2. Any member of the Students' Society, registered in one of the four respective courses of study, shall be eligible to stand for election as Councillor from the Faculty, School or Institute concerned.

Written nominations will be accepted by the Secretary of the Students Society on or before Sunday, September 27, at 6:00 p.m. You are reminded that nominations must be signed by ten members of the Students Society and that no member of the Students' Society may sign more than two nominations in total and only one nomination for each office.

In addition to the regular elections, the vacant positions of President of the Gold Key Society and President of the Dance Committee will be filled on October 2 as well. The position of President of the Gold Key Society shall be filled by any active member of that Society. Written nominations for this position must be signed by six (6) active members of that Society. No member may sign more than one nomination for this position.

President of the Dance Committee may be any student in second, third or fourth year at the college. This nomination must be signed by any ten members of the Students' Society and must be delivered to the Secretary of the Students' Society by Sunday, September 27, at 6:00 p.m.

You are reminded that campaigning for these positions will not begin before the adjournment of Monday's Students' Society meeting and that no campaigning will occur after 6:00 p.m. Thursday, October 1.

tionnaire filled in by all the students, indicating their interests as far as student activities are concerned. Needless to say, supper was late after a busy afternoon and the keen enthusiasm in discussion and the informal debate continued across the supper table.

On Saturday night, the age-old problem concerning co-operation between activities, council and the Failt-ye Times was discussed openly. Brad Gatenby outlined his plans for the year and all present were informed how they could use the Failt-ye to the best advantage.

Gail Robison outlined the responsibilities of her Publicity Committee and brought about a better understanding among those present concerning the poster regulations and the reasons for them.

Hans Schidler introduced his proposal to make the purchase of the Clan compulsory, and to include the cost in the Activity fee paid on registration day. This proposal will be brought before Council, the Students' Society, Administration and the McGill Senate.

On Sunday the problem of Student Activities kept all the members present busy all day.

"What do you think a Students' Activity Committee should do?"

Members met to answer this question in a group and then split into clans to draw up concrete plans to bring about the recommended changes. Different clans presented flow charts, reorganization plans and different opinions to be considered by a committee of six members on Sunday afternoon. It was decided unanimously that this committee be formed to present a resolution to Council re the organization and strengthening of a Students' Activities Committee on campus.

Copies of the report on the organization of the Workshop will be posted and are available in the Council House.

Typewriters were kept busy until early hours in the morning so the report was

GROWING UP

It is just about this time of year that we notice a peculiar quietness about the majority of freshman. There also appears to be that lack of desire, as well as a loss of initiative. This is not necessarily due to the drastic change in food, as many appear to think, but rather to that sense of loss, commonly called homesickness.

For most freshmen this is the first time away from home for such a long period, and the thought of two to four more years is certainly not comforting. Many will think of giving it all up, and going back to the security that they know so well; some may even give serious thought to failing at X-mas to accomplish the same end.

The reason for all the "heartburn" is due to our way of life and is not likely to be changed. The socialized North American family of today tends to hold on to its young people, giving all the protection and love that they can. The parents tend to make most of the decisions that appears to be the "main germ" of homesickness.

It is during the past few years of the freshman's life that his real ability to make decisions will show. He will decide when to study, when to go out, and what to do with his spare time; therefore his ability to change will possibly determine his career.

This change in way of life is hard on the best individuals, but even so, the fact that home is not far away, and will always have a sympathetic ear, tends to soften the change. This is the reason why most people believe our system of "growing up kids" is superior to others. For instance, the Eskimo child is pampered until about eighteen, and is then turned out into the world to fend for himself, with little or no sympathy from home. This is their system, and their right, but how would you like it.

Freshman can thus tackle the next few years with vigor, knowing they are attaining maturity in one of the best systems of the world; and before long they will walk a little straighter, answer a little faster and smile a little quicker, knowing in their own self

"I am the captain of my ship,
The master of my fate."

Delegates to Saskatoon

www.libtool.com.ca

Last April, the agricultural students at Macdonald College formed a student chapter of the Agricultural Institute of Canada (A.I.C.). Heading up the executive of this student chapter was: Doug Avery, President; Barry Stephen, Vice-President; Erna St. Louis, Secretary; and Jim Pickett, Treasurer. Dr. N. Nikolaiczuk was selected as Honorary President.

From the student chapter of the A.I.C. two delegates were selected to attend the International Agriculture Students Conference which was held on the University of Saskatchewan campus in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, September 15th to the 18th. The delegates were Jim Pickett and Doug Avery, both fourth year students.

The two students flew from Dorval early on the morning of September 15th and landed at Saskatoon in time to take part in the first sessions of the conference.

Thirty-three students attended the conference representing universities, such as; the University of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Guelph, and our own Macdonald College. Visiting delegates from the United States represented the University of Nebraska, and Washington State University.

The theme of the conference was "The Influences of Technological Advances in Agriculture". Upon arrival, the delegates were welcomed by Dean W.L. Hutcheon, College of Agriculture, University of Saskatchewan.

The visiting students were addressed by various professors from the staff of the university. They spoke to delegates on such topics as, "Social Implications of the Technological Advances in Agriculture, and the Implications of Technological Advances in Science and Industry." After being addressed the students divided into discussion groups and discussed some previously prepared questions.

For variety the delegates were taken on a tour of the South Saskatchewan River Dam. This project estimated to cost 200 million dollars has the following objectives - power, irrigation, recreation, flood control, and urban and rural water supply. From the dam site, the delegates were taken to the "Pre-Development Farm" at Outlook, Saskatchewan. Here they were shown how irrigation could play a part in the future farming practices of Saskatchewan. Some of the dryland farming areas will now be irrigated as a result of the harnessing of the South Saskatchewan river.

The delegates then travelled back to Saskatoon where they were taken on a tour of Labatts Brewery.

The conference came to a close with a banquet and a planary session for the next conference, which is now scheduled to be held at the University of Guelph, Guelph, Ontario.

Both Jim and Doug feel that the conference was very worthwhile. It is hoped that all students will attend the first A.I.C. meeting in which Jim and Doug will be giving a more detailed report.

dents participated in a "Miniature World Series". This event didn't receive as much response as we had hoped for, as several Frosh went home for the weekend. That evening the Orientation Dance was held in the Coffee Shop.

About a hundred and twenty students hiked to the Arboretum Sunday afternoon for a bean and weiner supper. Sunset Devotions were held before the group trudged back to campus. A film presented by IVCF, "Treasure Wilderness" concluded the Orientation Week program.

New students, we tried to make you feel a part of our college life by asking for volunteers to assist in serving at the picnics, by preparing a program for Fun Night and so forth. We tried to introduce you to our major campus activities during your first week at Mac. We welcome you to Macdonald College and look forward to participating with you in our many and varied extra-curricular activities.

We, the Orientation Committee, would welcome any constructive criticism you could give us. Why not air your views in the next issue of the Failt-Ye Times? In this way, next year's committee will be able to provide a bigger and better Orientation Program for the '65-66 Frosh.

At this time I would like to thank all those students who assisted me with the Orientation Program. Your willingness and cooperation certainly made my task much easier.

A special thanks to Miss Steward and her staff for the delicious suppers they prepared for our Arboretum visits and for all the other assistance they gave us. I also greatly appreciated the cooperation and assistance I received from Mr. Best and his staff from Buildings and Grounds. To all other members of the staff and administration who gave us help with our Orientation Program, a sincere thanks.

Marlene Robison,
Chairman, Orientation Committee.

At a convention of Elks, each delegate has shaken hands with some fellow delegates. Show that the number of people who have shaken an odd number of hands is even.

From what point on the earth's surface is it possible to go one mile south, then one mile east, and finally one mile north and find oneself at one's point of departure? Now that you have found the easy answer, can you find any others?

LIL and DEB notes

Last Friday the students of Macdonald College were treated to an excellent show put on by the classes attending the college for the first time. The judges were Mrs. Wood, deputy warden, and Mr. R. Knowles, warden of Britain Hall. The fun night trophy was awarded to the degree and diploma teachers, the class of '66. Second and third places were awarded to Aggies '68 and Home Economics '68 respectively. I would like to thank all those who took part and hope your classes are now organized to take part in the upcoming Lit and Deb interclass activities.

Amateur Night

The first Lit and Deb interclass activity will take place on Sept. 30th, and to the winners will go the Amateur Night Trophy. Classes may have more than one entry, but in order to reach the finals each entry must attend the auditions on Monday, Sept. 28th, in the assembly hall starting at 6:30 p.m. Make sure your class has at least one entry in Amateur Night.

Folk Festival

For the first time Macdonald College is holding a folk Singing Festival to be held on Oct. 17th. The college entry will be chosen on Wednesday, Oct. 7th. The rules are placed in the foyer for those interested - only up to four in a group and only those attending college this fall may enter. There is also an award for Canadian Folk Songs so form your group and start practicing now so we may choose a top entry.

Class Reps

Each class has or will have a class representative on the Lit and Deb Society which are chosen by the class. This year something new is being tried and each rep will be responsible for some type of work for the lit and Deb such as organizing a coffee party for the judges. This has worked successfully in other organizations on campus and we are confident of its success here. For the first year students your president will let you know more about this at one of your class meetings.

complete when the Workshop was completed and the cars started down the mountain to return to the college.

All participants agreed the weekend provided the Council and the activity chairman with greater enthusiasm and cooperation for the coming year.

Instead of the familiar, "How was your summer" greetings in the hall, it is "Have you completed your report for Council next week? and work will be started in September this year with no delay because your Students' Council has realized that there is too much to do in all too short a time.

Thanks to our resource men, and our regrets that Mr. Glowka of Dale Carnegie Institute and Mr. Shipley were unable to join the Workshop.

Thanks go to our 'Resource Men' for their part in making the leadership workshop a success.

FOOTBALL

The Mac Aggies Football team this year has many new faces. At present the team strength is at 31 with only 6 who have played with the Aggies before. Jim Wells is back at center with George Wall at quarterback. Aric Hoogendorn, Robin Marshall, David Leas and Ron Sevigny make up the old guard of the new team. Although many of the players are new to the game, Coach Pugh feels that there is a lot of potential on his team, particularly among such newcomers as Ron Rayner, Winston Ingalls, Wayne Rennie, Terry Pender and Jerry Fielder who, as well as being a defensive halfback, is the backup quarterback. Coach Pugh feels that with a backup quarterback more use will be made of George Wall's running ability and throwing arm, particularly in the roll-out option play. He is particularly impressed with the outside speed of his offensive line and with these two advantages look for more outside running and passing.

With many new players the emphasis in the last few weeks of practice has been placed on familiarizing the newcomers with the game and the plays.

MAA NOTES

A meeting of the M.A.A. was held on Sept. 21/64. Intramural football - An attempt is being made to make it more convenient for commuters to participate. Football will be played from 12:30 - 1:15 p.m. A new set of rules will be drawn up this year. Don Badger is the football convenor.

Harrier - Interclass harrier will take place on Oct. 6th. Mike Kentish is the convenor.

Tabloid - The tentative date has been set for Oct. 21st. Ron Trivers is the convenor.

Volleyball - Acting as convenor is Reid Barter.

Swimming - Eric Hoogendorn is convenor.

Pep Rally - will be held on Oct. 2nd, the evening before the big football game. Football between the sophomore and senior home economics will be held this night. Ron Trivers will be in charge of the Pep Rally.

Pins for football will be sold next week in Stewart foyer.

Wrestling - it is hoped that Mr. Field will again conduct this sport this year.

Golf tournaments - were discussed but no decision was made until more information can be obtained.

Events coming up:

Sept. 26 Soccer - University of Montreal at Mac 2 p.m. Football - Mount Royal Lions at Mac 1 p.m.

Oct. 2 Pep Rally - Sophs vs Seniors Harrier Carleton at Mac.

Oct. 3 Football - Bishops at Mac, Soccer - Carleton at Mac.

This week, however the coach plans on spending more time on his passing attack.

The first outing for the team is an exhibition game against Mount Royal this Saturday (Sept. 26). However this game is mainly to give all the boys experience and it is next Saturday (Oct. 3) that the real trial comes against Bishops. The coach is pleased with the spirit of his team and is optimistic in his outlook for the season.

O.S.L.A.A. FOOTBALL SCHEDULE 1964-5

MINIATURE WORLD SERIES

Today saw a minor version of the World series softball take place in front of Macdonald High. The teams consisted of Junior Swampies and freshman. A good turnout, particularly among the boys provided for an interesting game. The teams were well matched until the 6th inning when the Swampies seemed to run out of steam. The freshmen, behind good pitching went on to win 17-5. Despite the score, the afternoon was a success for all concerned.

CURLING NEWS

Now that another year has begun at Mac many activities are also getting under way. Up until now little or nothing has been said about our Macdonald Curling Club. We do have one and it's mixed for those who are interested. Several notices will be posted during the first week in October re: general meetings and where to sign if you are interested in joining our club.

Our executive for the coming year is as follows:

President - Bill McLennan
Vice-president - Nancy Hornibrook

Sec'y-treasurer - Sue Parrish

Match committee - Brian Millar

Publicity - Diane Simpson

RUGGER NEWS

As some readers of the Failt-ye will have noticed, there are notices in both the coffee shop and in Brittain Hall concerning rugger.

Rugger is a game which is not so very unlike football. The ball is the same shape although a little larger and the object of the game is to touch the ball down over your opponents goal-line. It is a fast and fairly easy game to play and has the advantage of having no heavy padding to slow you down when some two hundred pound thug is behind you.

I have seen very few people badly hurt while playing rugger (about three in nine years). It is a game which is well worth learning to play. Will anyone who is interested put their name on one of the lists provided.

CAN YOU TYPE ??

If so, the Failt-Ye Times needs you. This newspaper requires typists for only one night each week. Expert typing or newspaper experience is not necessary. A rotation schedule will be arranged so that each person will not be needed every week.

If you are interested, please contact Jane Watson, Laird Hall.

GLEE CLUB

Attention all students interested in singing in a mixed Glee Club. Dr. Churchley the new music department head is reorganizing this activity. No previous experience is necessary - only a desire to sing. It is hoped to do a selection of folk music, spirituals and other music of a popular sort.

Dr. Churchley has directed the choral society at the University of Alberta for the past few years and we are fortunate to be able to welcome to the Clan Macdonald.

Our first practice will be on Wednesday, September 20 at 4:30 in room 022 of the Main Building. Changes in time and place will be made if circumstances warrant.

NOTICE

The Students' Council has been informed that the price on cigarettes has been increased. This means that starting next week the vending machines in the Coffee Shop will be selling cigarettes at 45¢ and 55¢ a pack.

SOCCKER NOTES

With practices now in their second week the 64-65 soccer season promises to be a good one for the Mac Soccer Team.

During the past year the team showed good spirit, despite a few setbacks. Towards the end of the last session much time was devoted by the Athletics Department in making various improvements, so the boys should be pretty satisfied if the promises materialise.

Coach Field feels that we should enjoy a fairly good season. A few new players have joined Macdonald. Among them are the following: -

Dave Fletcher - a lanky six footer who was on the 62 63 Sir George Williams Championship team, and played at outside right. Due to his good conditioning he may be called upon to play in the tough centre-half position. During the summer Dave played for St. Lambert in the Metropolitan A division.

Henry Garino - a very talented inside forward is a native of Argentina where he has played the game from the time he could walk. This summer he played in the A division of the Ottawa Soccer League. Henry hopes to have a good year and to do his best to make Mac a cup winner.

Other new faces include:- Joe Jackman - a "big" full-back from Antigua who played inter island soccer.

Bob Eaton - fullback from Nova Scotia, who played in exhibition games for Truro. Mark Gorejena - a right winger, native of S. Rhodesia. Alois Chidoda - a half back also from S. Rhodesia.

Of course there are several old faces around, so the team should do well so long as they get YOUR SUPPORT:

Below is a schedule of the team's activities for this season. The first game is on Saturday, September 26th at 2:00 o'clock on the football field. LET'S SEE YOU ALL OUT THERE CHEERING ON - YOUR TEAM;

This opportunity is taken to wish Mr. Field and the entire team, success in their endeavours.
