Students prosecuting the study of the Greek language, will recite in the Greek New Testament on every Monday morning. In addition to the text books read in that language, they must be provided with the following books of reference, viz: Anthon's Classical Dictionary, Long's Classical Atlas, and Smith and Felton's History of Greece.

Compositions and Declamations are required throughout the College course. The Senior Class will declaim original compositions throughout the year.

The preceding course of instruction conforms essentially to that of the oldest and best institutions of the country. In conducting the youthful mind over the field of Science, it is designed to bring all the faculties into exercise in the natural order of their development, and to preserve that proportion among them which will produce a proper symmetry and balance of character. Where some particular faculties, in the course of instruction receive much more attention than others, it engenders an intellectual distortion, disqualifying the individual for any but a practical calling. The object of Collegiate instruction is not to complete either a practical or professional education; but, by discipline and cultivation, to bring out every power of the mind to its fullest and fairest proportions, and lay the foundation of a character fitted to appear with honor and usefulness in any department of society which Providence may call the individual to fill. Such an education will ordinarily lead to high intellectual attainments, and it is the best preparation for studying the learned professions, or entering the higher departments of business.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

1. On entering the College, the students are expected to present satisfactory testimonials of good moral character.
2. Candidates for admission into any of the advanced classes are required to furnish proper evidence of having completed all the preceding studies of the course.

3. No student will be enrolled, or admitted to the privileges of the College, until he shall have presented to the President, or some member of the Faculty, the Treasurer's receipt for his contingent fees.

DIVISION OF THE YEAR.

The College year contains three Terms of equal length. The Fall Term commences on the second Monday in August, and ends on the first Wednesday in November. The Winter Term commences on the first Monday in December, and ends on the first Wednesday in March. The Spring Term commences on the last Monday in March, and ends on the last Wednesday in June. The Commencement of the College is celebrated on the last day of the Spring Term.

EXAMINATIONS.

The last three days of the Fall and Winter Sessions, respectively, will be devoted to an examination of the College Classes, in their studies for the Term. The week preceding Commencement is occupied in like manner.

REMARKS.

As the Preparatory Course embraces four Terms, those who wish to pursue all the studies in this department should enter in the Spring. The period assigned for this course will commence with the Spring Term of one year, and close with the Spring Term of the following year; so that Students may be prepared to pass regularly from this department to the Freshman Class, at the opening of the Fall Term.

A NOTE TO PARENTS AND GUARDIANS.

Boys, fourteen years old, or younger, will be subject to the following regulations:—First, they will not be permitted to disburse their own funds, but will be required to have a Purser, who, if not designated by the Parent or Guardian of the Student, may be selected by the Faculty, or by the President of the Board of Trustees. Secondly, their place of boarding will be designated by the Faculty. Thirdly, they will enter the department of the Institution judged by the Faculty best adapted to their age, attainments and habits. Long experience has induced a conviction of the importance of each of these particulars. Without a strict adherence to them, there is but little prospect of this class of Students deriving much advantage from a connection with the College.

LIBRARY.

The College Library contains upwards of 8,000 volumes, well selected, among which are many rare and valuable works. Few institutions in this country possess one of equal extent and value. The importance of such a library to the reading Student, during his College course, is too obvious to need remark.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are three Literary Societies in connection with the College, one of which is connected with the Biblical Department. Each has a spacious hall devoted to it, fitted up in the most tasteful manner. They embrace nearly the whole body of Students. Such societies are of great utility to young men acquiring an education. They not only improve them in the art of public speaking, but also familiarize them, in some measure, with the forms of deliberative bodies, and cultivate systematic business habits. Each society has a Library of its own.

PLAN OF ENDOWMENT.

ALLEGHENY COLLEGE is under the special patronage of the Pittsburgh and Erie Annual Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church, though under the immediate supervision and control of a Board of Trustees.

Any persons subscribing and paying thirty-five dollars to the Centenary Fund Society of either of the above named Conferences, secures a perpetual Scholarship in the College. The two Centenary Fund Societies are regularly incorporated; and through their Boards, elected annually by the Conferences, one having its seat in Pittsburgh, and the other in Meadville, they receive and invest the funds, collect and apply the proceeds. For the funds invested, security is taken on productive real estate to three times the amount loaned. The interest, when collected, is paid over to the College Treasurer, to defray the expenses of instruction. Thus, by a large, permanent and productive endowment, the salaries of the Professors may be paid and tuition offered without charge.

EXPENSES.

Each Student is taxed $2.00 per Term, to defray the current expenses of the College. These expenses are of various kinds, such as for fuel, services of Janitor, printing and the ordinary repairs of the College Buildings. The contingent fee must invariably be paid in advance.

BOARDING.

Board can be had in families at a price varying from $1.75 to $2.25 per week, including room, lodging, and lights.

Those who associate and furnish their provisions, can procure their cooking done in families for about 25 cents per week. On this plan the whole expense need not exceed $1.00 per week.

Damages done to the Public Buildings, by breaking lights, &c., when the persons doing the injury cannot be ascertained, will be charged to the body of Students, and the amount raised by assessment. Expenses of books, society fees, and pocket money, will vary according to the habits and circumstances of the Student. It is believed by the Faculty that much pocket money is not only unnecessary, but in some cases, a serious injury to the Student at the College.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The Discipline of the College is mild, but strict. The Faculty endeavor to adopt such a course in the discharge of their official duties, in the College, that, while respect for order is preserved, every Student may feel that his teacher is his friend. Strongly convinced that the principles of morality and religion are essential to the happiness and prosperity of individuals and society—that no truly great or useful character can exist without them, they are frequently and earnestly inculcated. While entire freedom of religious sentiment and practice is allowed, the Students are required to attend regularly at some place of religious worship on the Sabbath, and on all occasions to treat the institutions of religion with respect.

Students who are religious are affectionately guarded, and their religious interests promoted by such means as are thought conducive to this end.—Believing that the value of education very much depends upon the mental habits it forms, the Faculty endeavor to encourage and enforce, as far as they are able, the diligent and systematic employment of time.

Any books used in the course may be procured in the village at a reasonable price.

MEADVILLE, the seat of the College, is a beautiful country town, containing six thousand inhabitants. It is pleasantly located in the valley of French Creek, and for health, industry, intelligence, and good morals of the community, will compare favorably with any other borough of similar size in the country. It is only thirty-seven miles from Erie, and is directly on the stage route to Pittsburgh, and also on the route from Erie to Bellefonte. When the river is navigable, steamboats come up the Allegheny to Franklin, only twenty-four miles distant. It is about ninety miles from Pittsburgh. The Sanbury and Erie R. R. is now completed from Erie to Warren, Pa. Persons from the East can take this road from Erie to Waterford, twenty-two miles distant. At this place there is good stage communication to Meadville. Those coming from the West can take the Erie and Pittsburgh R. R. from Girard, on the L. S. Road, to Linesville, only 14 miles distant and thence come by stage. This is a very pleasant route. The Atlantic and Great Western Rail Road, now in the process of construction is to pass directly through the place.

REMARKS.

The above is arranged to correspond with the regular College course. It comprises a number of studies embraced in other departments of the College, and, for its full accomplishment, demands a knowledge of the Preparatory studies, and of Algebra and Geometry. Students accomplishing this course will be entitled to a diploma signed by the officers of the Institution.

KRAMER PROFESSORSHIP.

There is, as yet, but one professorship endowed in this department—that of “Hebrew and Biblical Literature.” Indeed, this is not altogether perfected, but is so far advanced as to justify the expectation that it will soon be completed. For this we are indebted chiefly to the munificence of Allen Kramer, Esq., of Pittsburgh, after whom the professorship has been appropriately named. Other gentlemen, in the same city, and elsewhere, have also contributed liberally towards the endowment of this chair, thereby evincing a warm interest in behalf of Biblical Literature. It is to be hoped that this is but the nucleus around which other endowments will gather in the course of time. It may come into the hearts of other friends of sanctified learning, also, to employ, in this sphere of usefulness, a portion of the means with which a beneficent Providence has endowed them, and, by adding other professorships to the one already founded, to accomplish a great good in the earth, and erect for themselves monuments more enduring than brass or marble.

BIBLICAL LITERARY SOCIETY.

This Society has been in existence for several years, and may now be regarded as well established. Its object is the improvement of its members in Biblical and religious knowledge, as well as the arts of speaking, writing, and the forms of business in deliberative bodies. The Society has already the beginning of a good library. It is hoped that the liberality of the friends of the Biblical Department will soon fill it up.
