WINCHESTER.

UNTIL the alterations were made by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners this diocese contained the whole of Hampshire, with the Isle of Wight; the whole of the county of Surrey<sup>1</sup>, except eleven churches and chapels in Croydon deanery, peculiars to Canterbury; and one parish in Wiltshire called Whitchbury.

The isles of Jersey and Guernsey are also accounted to be within this diocese.

There are two archdeaconries in this diocese, viz. Winchester and Surrey.

The members of the cathedral are the dean and twelve prebendaries, who are not charged with the payment of first fruits and tenths.

BISHOPS OF THE WEST SAXONS.

<sup>1</sup> By order in council, dated 8th Aug. 1845, the borough of Southwark, and the parishes of Christ Church Southwark, Battersea, Bermondsey, Camberwell, Clapham, Lambeth, Rotherhithe, Streatham, Tooting Graveney, Wandsworth, and Merton, in the county of Surrey and diocese of Winchester were to be, from and after the next avoidance of the see of Winchester, detached from that diocese and annexed to that of London.

He died 3rd Dec. 648<sup>3</sup>, and was succeeded by

- 650 AEGILBERT, who was made bishop of the West Saxons in 650, but his utter ignorance of the Saxon language was so displeasing to the King that he appointed Wini to assist him. Wini, though educated in France, was a native of the island, and consequently familiar with the Saxon tongue. The bishopric of the West Saxons was thus divided into two sees<sup>4</sup>—one continued at Dorchester and the other was settled at Winchester<sup>5</sup>. Aegilberht retired to France in disgust, and became bishop of Paris<sup>6</sup>.
- 661 WINI or WINA was ordained bishop in 661<sup>7</sup>, but he was expelled from the see in the year 666, and purchased the bishopric of London from Wulfheri<sup>8</sup>. After the expulsion of Wini this see remained four years without a bishop.

Lucius, circa an. 180, and dedicated 29th Oct. 189. During the empire of Diocletian it was desecrated and ruined, but it was shortly afterwards rebuilt, and dedicated to Amphibalus the Martyr. After an interval of 200 years, it was again profaned by Cerdic, the first king of the Giwissi, and in the year 638 it was razed to the ground by Cynegils his successor.

He had the temporalities restored<sup>3</sup> to him 5th April 1309<sup>4</sup>, and he was consecrated on the 13th of the following October<sup>5</sup>. He became chancellor of England in 1310, and was sent to the council of Vienne in 1311<sup>6</sup>, and was translated to Canterbury by papal bull dated 1st Oct. 1313<sup>6*</sup>. - 1552 JOHN HOOPER, bishop of Gloucester, having resigned 6 Edw. IV. that see to the King 26th April 1552, it was dissolved and amalgamated with the diocese of Worcester, out of which it had originally been taken by king Henry VIII, and it was conferred 20th May 1552 on Hooper, under the denomination of the bishopric of Worcester and Gloucester (Nicholas Heath, bishop of Worcester, having been deprived of his see by the King)<sup>16</sup>. On the accession of queen Mary to the throne, she de-

Richard Pate had been elected to the see of Worcester immediately after the deprivation of Jerome Ghinucci, but before he received consecration, was sent abroad on an embassy, whence he refused to return, whereupon the see of Worcester was bestowed upon Hugh Latimer; and he draws his inference from the fact that at one of the sittings of the council of Trent, Pate subscribed by the name of "Rich. Patus Wigorn.

Episc." No just inference however of the fact can be maintained from that circumstance as the last session of the council of Trent was holden 3rd Dec. 1563, some years after Pate was deprived by queen Elizabeth, and he would doubtless be received and considered by the Romanists as bishop of Worcester, notwithstanding his deprivation by the Queen.

PREVIOUS to the alterations made by the Ecclesiastical Commissioners in 1836 the diocese of York contained three-fourths of Yorkshire, the whole of Nottinghamshire, and that portion of Northumberland called Hexhamshire, or Hexham peculiar.

By order in council, dated 5th Oct. 1836, in pursuance of the recommendation of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners, the town and borough of Ripon, and all such parts of the deaneries of the Ainsty and Pontefract respectively, forming part of the archdeaconry of York, otherwise called the archdeaconry of the West Riding, as adjoin to the western boundaries of the liberty of the Ainsty, and of the wapentakes of Barkston, Ash, Osgoldcross, and Staincross respectively, were absolutely dissevered and separated from the diocese of York, and made to form part of the then newly-erected diocese of Ripon.

By a second order in council, dated 22nd Dec. 1836, all places within the peculiar jurisdiction of Hexhamshire were dissevered from the diocese of York, and added to and included in the diocese of Durham and archdeaconry of Durham. By the same order in council, the deanery of Craven, in the archdeaconry of Craven, was detached from the diocese of York, and added to that of Ripon; and the parish of Craike, in the archdeaconry and diocese of Durham, was dissevered from that archdeaconry and diocese, and added to the archdeaconry of Cleveland and diocese of York.

By order in council, 21st Aug. 1837, the whole county of Nottingham, (except the deanery of Southwell), forming the archdeaconry of Nottingham, in the province and diocese of York, was detached and dis-severed from the said province, and annexed and united to the province of Canterbury and diocese of Lincoln<sup>1</sup>.

By another order in council, 1st Feb. 1838, such parts of the several parishes of Darton, High Hoyland, Silkstone, Pennistone, and Kirk Hammerton, in the archdeaconry of York, were detached and dis-severed from the said archdeaconry and diocese of York, and permanently annexed to and united with the diocese of Ripon; and the several parishes of Crofton, Warmfield, Normanton, Featherstone, and Abberford, in the county of York, archdeaconry of Craven, and diocese of Ripon, were detached and dis-severed from the said archdeaconry of Craven and diocese of Ripon, and permanently annexed to and united with the archdeaconry of York and diocese of York.

The province of York contains the dioceses of York, Carlisle, Chester, Durham, Sodor and Man, Manchester, and Ripon.

ARCHBISHOPS OF YORK.

York is known to have been an episcopal see anterior to the mission of Augustine, but the names of all its bishops are lost except four, viz. Eborius<sup>2</sup>, Sampson<sup>3</sup>, Piraunus<sup>4</sup>, and Thadiacus<sup>5</sup>. Taurinus<sup>6</sup> is also named, but he is more probably supposed to have been bishop of Evreux.

<sup>1</sup> By a further order in council, 4th June 1841, the deanery and exempt or peculiar of Southwell, comprising several parishes, was transferred from the province of York to that of Canterbury, and placed in the diocese of Lincoln; and by another order in council, 27th Aug. 1846, all peculiars in the diocese of York were abolished.

On the conversion of the Saxons to Christianity, Gregory the Great appointed London and York to be the two metropolitical sees of England, each to have twelve bishops under it, and to be equal in dignity; but Augustine having settled his seat at Canterbury, the metropolitical dignity was established there, and nothing was done at York until about the year 627, when

- 627 PAULINUS was consecrated bishop by Justus, archbishop of Canterbury, 21st July 625; and at the baptism of Eadwine, king of Northumbria, at Easter (27th April) 627, the king erected a bishop's see at York, and conferred it on Paulinus, who received a pall from Rome in 634<sup>7</sup>; but the province over which he presided becoming in a very disturbed state, he fled with Eadwine's queen and sons to Eadbald of Kent, and became bishop of Rochester at the persuasion of Honorius, archbishop of Canterbury. He left the see to the care of James his deacon, who never assumed the title of bishop, though he continued there till he died at a very advanced age<sup>8</sup>.

On the departure of Paulinus, the Northumbrians relapsed into idolatry; and although Oswald, the successor of Eadwine, invited Aidan from Scotland to reconvert them, Aidan established himself at Lindisfarne, and York remained without a bishop for above thirty years: at length, in 664,

- 664 WILFRED, abbot of Ripon, formerly a monk of Lindisfarne, was appointed to York by Egfrid, king of Northumbria; but disliking to be consecrated by the archbishop of Canterbury, whose communion with the Scottish teachers he looked on as schismatical, he passed over to Gaul to seek it at the hands of Aegilberht, formerly bishop of Dorchester, but then holding the see of Paris. During his absence, however,
- 664 CEADDA had been consecrated by Wine, the successor

- of Aegilberht, and after a fruitless attempt to obtain possession, Wilfred was obliged to retire to his monastery of Ripon. In 667 Ceadda resigned the see to
- 667 WILFRED, who held it till 678; but having given offence by his pompous style of living, he was then driven out, and his vast diocese, which included the whole north of England, was divided into the sees of York, Lindisfarne, Hexham, and Ripon.
- 678 BOSA was appointed to York, and, though Wilfred made several attempts to regain possession, by appealing to Rome, held the see till his death<sup>7</sup>, 2nd Oct. 705.
- 705 JOHN OF BEVERLEY, bishop of Hexham, was appointed to York in 705. He resigned the see in 718, and was succeeded by his chaplain
- 718 WILFRED II in 718. He resigned the see in 732, and
- 732 ECGBERHT, brother of Eadberht king of Northumbria<sup>8</sup>, became bishop of York in 732<sup>9</sup>. During his presulate York again became an archiepiscopal see in 735<sup>10</sup>. He died 19th Nov. 766<sup>11</sup>, and was buried near the King his brother in the church porch at York.
- 767 ÆTHELBERHT<sup>12</sup> or CÆNA<sup>13</sup> was elected in 766, and consecrated 26th April 767. He died 22nd Dec. 780<sup>14</sup>.

<sup>7</sup> Several of the dates relating to the presulates of Wilfred and Bosa are exceedingly doubtful, and some writers have asserted that Wilfred was restored to York, on his second return from exile, but they have confounded him with Wilfred II.

On his return to England 14th Sept. in that year he was arrested, and five days afterwards, by command of William bishop of Ely, the King's chancellor, was thrown into prison for refusing to do homage to the King; he however obtained his liberation in a few days<sup>85</sup>. He was deprived of his see by king John some time between 26th Dec. 1206 and 18th Aug. 1207<sup>86</sup>. He died at Grosmont in Normandy 18th Dec. 1212.

The see was vacant from 18th Dec. 1212 to 27th March 1216, and was in the custody of Brian de Insula<sup>87</sup>. On 18th June 1215 the King granted license to the chapter of York to elect an archbishop according to the form of the letters from the Pope<sup>88</sup>, and by the different chroniclers, but it probably took place 22nd Nov. 1181.

SIMON DE LANGTON, brother to Stephen, archbishop of Canterbury, was elected by the chapter, notwithstanding the King's recommendation of Walter de Gray<sup>89</sup>,

 died in April 1340<sup>53</sup>, and was buried in York cathedchancellor of England and treasurer of the exchequer.

 On 13th April 1340 the King issued his license to the King's hands from 6th Dec. 1315, the day on which William de Greenfeld died, until 8th Oct. 1317, when they were restored to William de Melton, then archbishop.

<sup>53</sup> The exact day is not certain; April 4, 5, 15, and 22 have been assigned by various persons as the day of his death. The first day is most probably the correct one. The last two must be wrong, as the congé d'élire is dated 13th April.

In 1404 the archbishop and others entered into a conspiracy against the King<sup>81</sup>, for which he was tried, condemned, and beheaded 8th June 1405, and all his possessions seized into the King's hands<sup>82</sup>. issued 16th Nov. 1423<sup>90</sup>; in pursuance of which the chapter elected

PHILIP, bishop of Worcester, as archbishop of York, and the King assented to the election 25th Jan. 1423-4, and informed the Pope, by letter of that date, that in the election of the bishop of Worcester the chapter had been unanimous<sup>91</sup>. The Pope nevertheless rejected the election by the chapter, and appointed

RICHARD FLEMMYNG, bishop of Lincoln, to the archiepiscopal see. This provision<sup>92</sup> however was so opposed to the feelings of the chapter, and objectionable to the King's council, (his Majesty was then only a child,) that they took vigorous measures for resisting the power assumed by the court of Rome of filling vacancies in English bishoprics against or without the King's consent. Flemming was consequently compelled to relinquish his pretensions to the archbishopric, and upon certain humiliating conditions was allowed to return to the see of Lincoln, which the council had seized into the King's hands upon his venturing to accept the archbishopric of York without the King's permission. The King's council then, among other ecclesiastical promotions, nominated<sup>93</sup>

HENRY OF NEWERK was installed 11th June 1290<sup>16</sup>, and in 1296 he was elected archbishop of this see<sup>17</sup>.

WILLIAM DE HAMELTON<sup>18</sup> was elected to this dignity, and the archbishop confirmed him, although the Pope had provided one Francis<sup>19</sup>, a Roman cardinal; after some contest, the cardinal resigned his pretensions, and William enjoyed it to the time of his death, which happened 20th April 1307.<sup>20</sup>

WILLIAM PICKERING, LL.D., archdeacon of Nottingham, was elected to this deanery iii Id. Sept. (11th Sept.) 1310, and died vii Id. Apr. (7th April) 1312<sup>22</sup>.

ROBERT PICKERING, archdeacon of Northumberland, was elected to this dignity 12th June 1312<sup>23</sup>. George de Saluciis, precentor of Sarum, pretended a right to it by papal provision, and endeavoured to obtain it by force, for which he was excommunicated by the archbishop<sup>24</sup>. After some delay, the archbishop, 26th Aug. 1347, commanded the chapter to admit Weston, but the Pope and the chapter opposing it, Talyrandus kept possession of it till his death, which happened 17th Jan. 1363<sup>32</sup>.

CARLISLE.

THIS diocese contains the better half of Cumberland and Westmoreland, under the government of the archdeacon of Carlisle<sup>1</sup>.

The cathedral has a dean and four prebendaries<sup>2</sup>.

BISHOPS.

The bishopric of Carlisle was erected by king Henry I, 11th April 1132<sup>3</sup>, who appointed as the first bishop of the see

133 ALDULF<sup>4</sup> OF AETHELWALD, prior of Nostell<sup>5</sup>; he was
ten. I.

<sup>1</sup> By order in council, dated 10th Aug. 1847, it was determined that, on the next avoidance of the see, a new archdeaconry was to be created, and styled the archdeaconry of Westmoreland. By the same order it was determined that, on the next avoidance of the see, that portion of the deanery of Kirkby Lonsdale which is in the county of Westmoreland was to be annexed to the deanery of Kendal; which said deanery, and the deanery of Coupland in the county of Cumberland, and the deanery of Furness and Cartmel in the county of Lancaster, were detached and dis severed from the diocese of Chester, and annexed to and united with the diocese of Carlisle.

consecrated by Thurstan, archbishop of York, in Aug. 1133<sup>6</sup>. The time of his death is uncertain<sup>7</sup>.

BERNARD<sup>8</sup>, according to Godwin, succeeded Aldulf as bishop of Carlisle, but neither the time of his accession nor that of his death is known. Godwin supposes that he died in 1186; as Hoveden<sup>9</sup> states, that when king Henry II was at Carlisle, in that year, he caused one Paul of Leeds to be elected bishop of Carlisle; who declined the dignity, notwithstanding the King offered to increase the revenues of the see three hundred marks per annum.

The see appears to have been vacant until the appointment of Hugh, abbot of Beaulieu, as bishop of Carlisle, in 1218: but during the long vacancy, king John granted the revenues of the see to the archbishop of Slavonia<sup>10</sup> in the year 1200, and in 1205 to Alexander de Lucy<sup>11</sup>. The custody of the see was also granted to Aymery, archdeacon of Durham<sup>12</sup>, 1214, and afterwards in the same year to the prior of Carlisle<sup>13</sup>.

<sup>6</sup> Sim. Dunelm. 1132, Rog. Wendover. According to some writers, he was consecrated 14th May 1133.

<sup>7</sup> He died in 1156, according to the Annals of Waverley; in 1155, Chron. Norm. fol. 992.

<sup>8</sup> There is considerable doubt whether there ever was a bishop called BERNARD. The mistake seems to have arisen from the fact that Bernard, archbishop of Slavonia, had a grant of the revenues of the see from king John. See Pat. 9 Joh. m. 5. Claus. 2 Hen. III. m. 2.

<sup>10</sup> Dominus Rex concessit Archiepiscopo Slavoniæ [He was also called archbishop of Ragusa. See Pat. 5 Joh. 4.] episcopatum Carleoli, ad se sustentandum donec dominus Rex ei in apriori beneficio providerit. (Chart. 2 Joh. m. 35. in dorso.)—Sciatis quod dedimus venerabili patri Bernardo episcopo Carleol. (Pat. 9 Joh. m. 5.)—Mandatum est Vicecomiti Cumberland quod sine dilatione faciat habere electo Carleol. talem saisinam de omnibus terris et tenementis pertinentibus ad episcopatum Carleol. in balliva sua, qualem Bernardus Archiepiscopus Slavoniæ quondam custos ejusdem episcopatus inde habuit, cum custodiam inde recepisset per dominum Johannem Regem patrem nostrum. Claus. 2 Hen. III. m. 2.

In the year 1216, the council of king Henry the Third informed the Pope<sup>14</sup>, that the canons of Carlisle had contumaciously contemned the authority of the holy see, and had sworn fealty to the king of Scots, the declared enemy not only of England but of Rome; and had moreover elected an excommunicated clerk as their bishop, contrary to the desire of king Henry and the papal legate. The council therefore pray the Pope to remove those schismatical canons, and place prebendaries in their room<sup>15</sup>; and also to augment the revenues of the bishopric, which were so small that no competent person could be found to accept it.

Upon the receipt of this letter, the Pope directed his legate to constitute 1218 HUGH, abbot of Beaulieu<sup>16</sup>, bishop of Carlisle, who was

 ten. III. thereupon elected by the prior and convent of Carlisle, and the King gave his royal assent to the election 1st Aug. 1218<sup>17</sup>; and the sheriffs of Cumberland and Nottingham were commanded to cause the elect of Carlisle to have as full seizin of the lands and tenements pertaining to the see as Bernard, archbishop of Slavonia, formerly custos of the same bishopric, had, when he obtained the custody thereof from king John<sup>18</sup>; and the King, moreover, restored the revenues of the bishopric, of which it had been deprived by negligence Upon this the bishop elect appealed to the Pope, who quashed the election on account of its informality, and in the plenitude of his apostolic power not only appointed him bishop of Carlisle, but also consecrated him at Rome. He then wrote and informed the King of what he had done, and entreated his Majesty to restore the bishop to favour<sup>44</sup>. Upon the receipt of the letter of pope Nicholas, the King was at length induced to restore the temporalities to the new bishop, which he did 10th July 1280<sup>45</sup>. Bishop Ireton made his profession of obedience to the archbishop of York on the 22nd of the same month<sup>46</sup>; and the prior and convent of Carlisle, upon paying a fine of 100*l.* to the King, were pardoned the two hundred marks they owed as part of the amerciamment put upon them for their temerity in proceeding to an election without obtaining the royal license<sup>47</sup>. ## CHESTER.

The members of the cathedral are the bishop, dean, and six prebendaries, &c.

This bishopric was erected by charter, dated 4th Aug.<sup>4</sup> 1541<sup>5</sup>, out of the abbey of St. Werburgh in Chester.

<sup>1</sup> By orders in council bearing date 12th Dec. 1838, 10th Aug. 1847, the whole county of Lancaster, except the deanery of Furness and Cartmel, was to be subtracted and made to form part of the bishopric of Manchester, then about to be erected, and to be called the archdeaconry of Manchester: but this order was repealed by act 10 & 11 Vict. c. 108.

1836, all that part of the county of York forming the archdeaconry of Richmond was separated from the diocese of Chester, and assigned to the newly-erected see of Ripon: and by order in council, 10th Aug. 1847, a new archdeaconry was created, consisting of the deanery of Worrall in the county of Chester, and the deanery of Warrington in the county of Lancaster, and called the archdeaconry of Liverpool.

<sup>4</sup> A charter, dated 16th July 1541, had been previously issued, but it was cancelled on account of certain errors and defects.

BISHOPS.<sup>6</sup>

- 1542 JOHN BIRDE, bishop of Bangor, became the first bishop 34 H.VIII. of Chester by the charter of erection, and made his profession of obedience to the archbishop of York 13th April 1542. He was deprived in the first year of the reign of queen Mary, 1554<sup>7</sup>, and was buried in Chester cathedral<sup>8</sup> in the year 1556.
- 1554 GEORGE COTES, S.T.P., master of Balliol college, Oxford, 2 Mar. I. was consecrated in the church of St. Saviour, Southwark, 1st April 1554<sup>9</sup>, and had the temporalities restored to him on the 18th of the same month<sup>10</sup>. He died about the beginning of Dec. 1555<sup>11</sup>.
- 1556 CUTHBERT SCOTT, S.T.P., master of Christ's college,
 2 & 3 P. & M. Cambridge, nominated by the Pope, had, as bishop elect, the custody of the temporalities delivered to him 24th April 1556<sup>12</sup>, and plenary restitution of them 29th Sept. following<sup>13</sup>. He was deprived in 1560, and died at Louvain.
- 1561 WILLIAM DOWNHAM, A.M., archdeacon of Brecknock, 3 Eliz. had the royal assent to his election 1st May 1561<sup>14</sup>, was consecrated on the 4th, and obtained the temporalities on the 9th of the same month<sup>15</sup>. He died 3rd
 Dec. 1577, and was buried in Chester cathedral.

<sup>6</sup> The bishops of Coventry and Lichfield frequently styled themselves bishops of Chester anterior to the erection of this see in 1541. This church and diocese, with the archdeaconry of Richmond, were by act of parliament 33 Hen. VIII. c. 31. dis- severed from the province of Canterbury and united to that of York.

Dunmow in Essex; but this seems to be a mistake. Dr. John Bird, parson of Dunmow, died in 1559, and was there buried, and bishop Birde died in 1556.

<sup>1</sup> The archdeaconry of Northumberland, by order in council 27th Aug. 1842, was divided into two, one to be called the archdeaconry of Northumberland, and the other the archdeaconry of Lindisfarne, and by the same order in council it was directed that the canony that next should become vacant in this cathedral should be annexed and united to the archdeaconry of Northumberland.

<sup>2</sup> By order in council 4th June 1841, the third and eleventh canonries were annexed to the professorships of Divinity and Greek in the university of Durham; and the first canony, which had become vacant by the death of Thomas Gisborne 25th March 1846, was by order in council 1st Aug. 1846 vested in the university of Durham for the purposes therein mentioned.

On the fall of Edwin and his army in battle, in the year 633, the apostasy of the Northumbrians from the Christian faith was almost universal. Beda.

ARCHDEACONS.

LEOBWYN seems to have been the first archdeacon of Durham, and was the chief cause of the murder committed by bishop Walchere's servants, in revenge for which the bishop himself and all his family, and this Leobwyn amongst them, were slaughtered ii Id. Mai. (14th) 1080<sup>67</sup>. After this murder, the name of archdeacon became so odious to the people, that the succeeding bishop thought proper to sink the title, and to vest the power in the prior of Durham; but after some time, when the murder was forgotten, the title and office were resumed, and this seems to have been done about the beginning of the twelfth century.

ALDWINE died possessed of this dignity 12th April 1087.

TURGOT was made bishop of St. Andrews in 1108.

MICHAEL, archdeacon, subscribed as a witness to a deed of Bishop Ralph's<sup>68</sup>. He seems to have been the first after Leobwyn, who resumed the title and office as a distinct person from the prior. To him in this dignity succeeded ROBERT; he held the dignity in 1129<sup>69</sup>.

TURSTINUS archidiaconus occurs temp. bishop William, circa 1143.

WAZO; the time of his coming in does not appear<sup>70</sup>, but he was possessed of it 1st Dec. 1147<sup>71</sup>.

RANULPH held it about 1150.

LAURENCE, archdeacon of Durham, and Laurence, the prior, went to Rome in 1153 to defend the election of bishop Hugh Pudsey<sup>72</sup>.

WILLIAM was archdeacon of Durham in 1174<sup>73</sup>.

JOHN subscribed by this title as witness to a deed of bishop Hugh's about 1180<sup>74</sup>.

BUCHARD PUDSEY held it in 1190, and died possessed of this dignity viii Id. Dec. (6th) 1196<sup>75</sup>.

EMERICK or HAIMERICK DE TAILBOYS was possessed of it in 1198<sup>76</sup>. By this title he had a prebend in the church of Lichfield conferred on him by the King, 18th Feb. 1213<sup>77</sup>.

WILLIAM was archdeacon of Durham in 1219, as appears by an ancient inscription in a window of the hall of University college, Oxon. He was probably the same as William de Lanum; if so, his name occurs again 28th April 1234<sup>78</sup>.

THOMAS DE ANESTY was archdeacon of Durham and Northumberland about the year 1250.

ROBERT DE S. AGATHA was collector of the tenths in the diocese of Durham, 7th Sept. 1267<sup>79</sup>. He held the dignity in 1271.

SODOR AND MAN.

A REGULAR succession of the Bishops of the Isles, for so they were first styled<sup>1</sup>, is very difficult to be gathered from existing chronicles and materials.

This district which formerly contained not only the Æbuda or Western Isles, but also the Isle of Man, was originally subject to the kingdom of Northumbria, but it was captured by the Danes and Norwegians about the year 1065, who appointed a petty king until about 1266, when the Scots by a mixed title of conquest and purchase obtained it, and held it for the most part till the reign of Edward III, when it was conquered by William Montacute, earl of Salisbury<sup>2</sup>, who enjoyed it during his life, and his son sold it in 1393 to sir William Scrope, on whose attainder in 1399 it was bestowed on Henry Percy, earl of Northumberland<sup>3</sup>, and on 6th April 1406 it was granted to sir John Stanley<sup>4</sup>, whose posterity, earls of Derby, possessed an interest in it up to the year 1825<sup>5</sup>.

By act 7 James I. it was confirmed and assured to the right heirs of James seventh earl of Derby.

Stanley, ninth earl of Derby, died without issue male in 1702, and the sovereignty of the Isle of Man descended to his only surviving daughter Henrietta in the year 1714. Anne, her only daughter, by John lord Asburnham, died without issue in 1732, and her estate in the Isle of Man devolved on her uncle James Stanley, ex parte materna; on his death in 1736 without issue, it

The patronage of the bishopric was in the lord of the Isles; for though pope Celestine III granted it to the abbey of Furness in Lancashire, yet his bull does not appear to have been acted upon.

The bishop was nominated by the lord of Man; the King gave his royal assent to such nomination, and the archbishop of York consecrated him as one of his suffragans<sup>6</sup>, but he had no place in parliament, as neither his diocese nor barony was within the realm of England.

Tradition asserts that in the time of the persecution, in the reign of the emperor Diocletian, many Christians fled into Scotland, and the Isle of Man was assigned to them for their refuge, where a church was erected, and also a bishop's seat; and AMPHIBALUS is reported to have presided there about the year 360. Other writers however state that St. Patrick, the Irish apostle, founded the see and appointed

GERMANUS about the year 447; and after him consecrated

CONINDICUS or CONINDRICUS; and after him ROMULUS.

MACHUTUS, called also MACHILLA, and MAUCHOLDUS, is reported to have sat here from 498 to 518.

CONANUS, tutor to Eugenius king of Scotland and his went to James Murray duke of Athol, as great-grandson of James Stanley, seventh earl of Derby, by his daughter Amelia Sophia who married John marquis of Athol. The duke of Athol sold the said island and its dependencies to the crown of England in 1763, (Stat. 5 Geo. III. c. 26.) reserving however certain sovereign rights inter alia, the nomination of the prelates of the see; and in 1825 he sold to the crown the whole of his sovereign rights in that island. (Stat. 6 Geo. IV. c. 35.) The next appointment therefore, that of Dr. Ward in 1828, was made by letters patent of the crown.

<sup>6</sup> By act of Parliament 33 Hen. VIII, the Isle of Man was dis-severed from the jurisdiction of Canterbury and was annexed to the province of York.

three sons, is the next whose name occurs as bishop of this see; after him were

CONTENTUS,

BLADUS,

MALCHUS,

TORKINUS,

ROOLWER,

WILLIAM,

BRENDINUS OF BRANDANUS.

WYMUNDUS<sup>7</sup> or REYMUNDUS, called also HAMUNDUS, a monk of Seex in Normandy, was the first bishop of this see<sup>8</sup> after it had been made suffragan to York; he was consecrated by Thomas archbishop of York, who died in 1114. He was deprived and blinded in 1151. His successor was

JOHN, a monk of Seex<sup>9</sup>, in 1151.

GAMALIEL, an Englishman, is said to have been consecrated by Roger archbishop of York; after him came REGINALD, the Norwegian; and after him

CHRISTIAN ARCHADIENSIS (OF ORKNEY) then

MICHAEL, a Manksman, who died in 1203, and was buried in Fountains abbey, Yorkshire. He was succeeded by 1203 NICHOLAS DE MEAUX<sup>10</sup>, abbot of Furness, in 1203. He resigned his see in 1217.

1217 REGINALD succeeded in 1217, and died about the year 1226.

1226 JOHN, son of Harfare, was bishop here in 1226.

1230 SIMON ARCHADIENSIS (OF ORKNEY). He is called

- “Episcopus Sodorensis,” and is said to have been consecrated in 1226. He held this see in 1230, and died in 1249.
- 1249 LAURENCE, archdeacon of Man, was elected in 1249; and, being at that time in Norway, received consecration at the hands of the archbishop of Drontheim. He was shipwrecked and drowned on his return to take possession of his see.
- 1252 RICHARD held the office in 1252, and enjoyed the dignity but a short time.
- 1253 STEPHEN was bishop of the Isles in 1253<sup>11</sup>.
- 1253 RICHARD, an Englishman, was consecrated at Rome also in 1253. He died in 1274. He was succeeded by MARK OF GALLOWAY, who had letters of protection 13th June 1326. He was styled “Episcopus de Man,” and “Episcopus Sodorensis.” Ob. in 1303.
- ONACHUS was bishop in 1304.
- ALAN held the see in 1305<sup>12</sup>. He died 15th Feb. 1321, and was buried at Rothsay in Scotland, and was succeeded by
- 1321 GILBERT, who died in 1323, and was also buried at Rothsay.
- 1324 BERNARD DE LINTON, abbot of Arbroath; he was styled “Episcopus Sodorensis,” died in 1333, and was succeeded by
- 1334 THOMAS about the year 1334; he died 20th Sept. 1348. During his episcopate the English obtained possession of the Isle of Man, and he was consequently the last bishop appointed by the Scotch. His successor was
- 1348 WILLIAM RUSSEL, a Manksman, who was consecrated at Avignon by pope Clement VI in 1348. He died 21st April 1374, and was buried at Furness abbey. He was succeeded by
- 1374 JOHN DUNKAN, a native of Man, who was elected 21st May 1374, confirmed by Gregory XI at Avignon 6th Nov. following, and consecrated on the 25th of the same month. In his return to his diocese he was taken prisoner in France and redeemed for 500 marks. He was enthroned 25th Jan. 1376, and died in 1380<sup>13</sup>. ROBERT WALDBY is said to have been bishop here, <sup>13</sup> Upon the death of John Dunkan in 1380, the Scotch appear to have rejected the bishops elected under the influence of the crown of England, and to have chosen their own prelates, whom they called bishops of Sodor, while those appointed by the English were styled bishops of Man. The following is a list of the bishops of Sodor from that time to the revolution in 1688, when the prelates of this see were deprived :

John was bishop in the reign of king Robert II with the other bishops of Scotland. "Johannes episcopus Sodor-ensis" was named in a commission, dated 14th July 1388, to treat with Godifrido filio Joannes de Yle nuper domini insularum Scotiæ<sup>a</sup>, and in another commission to treat with Donaldo filio Johannis de Yle, et Johanne fratre ejusdem Donaldi<sup>b</sup>.

Michael witnessed a grant as bishop of Sodor in 1409.

Angusius or Angus witnessed a grant as bishop of Sodor in 1427, and was present in the Scotch parliament 25th Nov. 1476. As there are about 50 years between the date of the charter in 1427 and that of the sitting of parliament in 1476, it is probable that there were two bishops of the name of Angusius.

Robert held this see in 1492.

John held the see in 1507; he died in 1509.

George Hepburn succeeded in 1510. He styles himself "Georgius Sodoren. episcopus et monasterii Ionisæ commendatarius perpetuus." He was slain with the King at Flodden 9th Sept. 1513.

John was bishop elect of Sodor in 1524.

Ferquhard had the temporalities of the see restored to him 24th May 1530. He resigned it in 1544.

Roderick Maclean, archdeacon of the Isles, succeeded to the bishopric in 1544.

The see was vacant in 1549. Alexander Gordon was provided to this see 26th Nov. 1553.

John Campbell, prior of Ardchattan, was elected in 1558.

John Carswell, nominated by queen Mary 24th March 1566.

Andrew Knox was made bishop of the Isles and abbot of Icolmkill 2nd April 1606. He was translated to Raphoe in 1622.

Thomas Knox, son of the last-named bishop, succeeded to the see on the translation of his father. He died in 1626.

John Lesley was preferred to this bishopric 17th Aug. 1628, and translated to Raphoe in 1633.

but there is not sufficient evidence extant of such a fact. He was archbishop of Dublin in 1391, and appears to have been translated thither from Avi in Gascony. He was bishop of Chichester in 1395, and promoted thence to York.

RICHARD PULLY held this see in 1429.

JOHN GRENE, alias SPROTTON, occurs as bishop here in 1448 and 1454.

THOMAS BURTON died possessed of it in March 1457-8.

His will is dated 18th Feb. in that year.

1458 THOMAS III was elected bishop here 21st June 1458, on the death of Thomas Burton. He was abbot of Vale Royal in Cheshire. He died in 1480.

1481 RICHARD OLDHAM, abbot of Chester, was promoted to this see in 1481. He died 19th Sept. 1486.

1487 HUAN BLACKLEACH, alias HUAN HESKETH, was consecrated in 1487. He died in 1509-10.

1510 THOMAS STANLEY succeeded bishop Blackleach in 1510. He was deprived in 1545.

1545 ROBERT FERRARAS was a subscribing witness to a deed in 1545; he was afterwards preferred to the see of St. David's. There is however some doubt whether he was ever consecrated to this see, as he was consecrated on being made bishop of St. David's.

1546 HENRY MAN, dean of Chester, had the royal assent to his nomination to this bishopric 22nd Jan. 1546<sup>14</sup>, and was consecrated by Paul Bushe first bishop of Bristol. He died 17th Oct. 1556<sup>15</sup>. On his death

1556 THOMAS STANLEY was restored by queen Mary in 1556. He died in 1568. His successor was see in 1634, and was deprived of it in 1638.

Robert Wallace was consecrated at St. Andrew's in Jan. 1661.

Andrew Wood succeeded to this see, and was translated to Caithness in 1680.

Archibald Graham was promoted to this see in 1680, where he continued till the Revolution in 1688, when he was deprived with the rest of his brethren.

He died in Sept. 1573, and was buried in Norwich cathedral.
- JAMES STANLEY is said to have been bishop of this see from 1573 to 1575, other accounts make the see vacant from the death of bishop Salisbury until the appointment of
- 1575 JOHN MERICKE, who was nominated by Henry earl of Derby, and the Queen assented to his election 5th Nov. 1575<sup>17</sup>, and again 13th April 1576<sup>18</sup>. He was consecrated at Lambeth 15th April 1576, and installed in his own cathedral in the following year. He died 7th Nov. 1599, and was succeeded by

<sup>2</sup> A vacancy having taken place in a prebendal stall in Westminster in Feb. 1835, the King suspended his appointment until the Ecclesiastical Commissioners had reported thereon.—The Commissioners by their first Report (17th March 1835) recommend that the vacant stall shall be permanently annexed to the church of St. Margaret, Westminster; and that the profits of the stall be suffered to accumulate until a new church be there built, when the parish shall be divided, and the incumbent of the new parish shall receive that annual portion; the accumulation being applied towards providing a parsonage-house for such incumbent.—The Commissioners in their second Report (4th March 1836) state that, the King having resigned his right of appointing to the stall vacant by the death of Dr. Holcombe, they had annexed it to the parish of St. John, Westminster.—By their fifth Report the Commissioners recommend that the number of canons should be reduced to four, but this Report was not signed when the commission expired by reason of the demise of the Crown.

SOUTHWELL.

THE collegiate church of St. Mary, Southwell, is said to have been founded by Paulinus archbishop of York about the year 630. The archbishop of York (patron of this church) and the prebendaries surrendered the church into the hands of king Henry VIII in 1540<sup>78</sup>; and he refounded the chapter shortly after, and endowed it with the greatest part of its ancient possessions<sup>79</sup>. The collegiate body was dissolved and the property seized by Edward VI. The property, after passing through two or three hands, reverted, in great part, to the crown by the attainder of the duke of Northumberland. Queen Mary restored it and re-established the church in the last year of her reign. It was confirmed by queen Elizabeth and James I<sup>80</sup>. A list of the dignitaries of this church has never before been printed, and the editor is indebted to the rev. James F. Dimock, a minor canon of Southwell, for the ensuing account of them, which he expressly prepared for this work.

Prebendaries of Norwell, but of which of the three prebends uncertain.

MASTER VACEM was prebendary either of Overhall or Tertia Pars about 1200, in the time of Geoffrey Plantagenet, archbishop of York<sup>44</sup>.

ALAN DE RIPUN was succeeded by ROBERT DE LEXINTON in the year 1214<sup>45</sup>. They were prebendaries either of Overhall or Palishall<sup>46</sup>. Robert de Lexinton was a Judge from 1220 to 1243<sup>47</sup>: he died in 1250<sup>48</sup>.

WALTER DE TANAY succeeded Robert de Lexinton. He was canon of Southwell as early as 1244. He is called sometimes archdeacon of Nottingham, at other times archdeacon of the East-Riding<sup>49</sup>.

MR. PAULINUS is placed by Torre as prebendary of Palishall somewhere between 1280 and 1298. This seems to be a mistake. Probably he was prebendary of Tertia Pars; which prebend, in pope Nicholas's Taxation A. D. 1291, is called "Prebenda Paulini."

JOHN DE DENTON, according to Torre, was collated to Palishall 9th Dec. 1333. Probably, however, he was prebendary of Tertia Pars.

ROBERT DE SANDALE, prebendary of Norwell, died shortly before Trinity Sunday 1361<sup>50</sup>. He also was probably prebendary of Tertia Pars.

OXTON, OR OXTON AND CROPWELL,

PRIMA PARS.

This prebend was founded, at the latest, soon after the Conquest: endowed with half the great tithes of Oxton and Cropwell-Bishop, certain tithes in Blidworth, Calverton, and Woodburgh, and with certain temporals in Oxton, Cropwell-Bishop, Blidworth, Calverton, and Hickling.

<sup>1</sup> Le Neve has prefixed to each diocese a slight notice of the date and circumstances of its foundation, as also of its territorial limits, which I have amended so as to include the recent changes made in accordance with the recommendations of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners. He has, however, avoided entering on the vexed question of the foundation of the Universities, and I have followed his example, referring those who wish for all the information that has been collected on the matter to the works specially devoted to the subject.

<sup>2</sup> The chancellor of this University is elected by the members of the convocation. The office was formerly triennial, sometimes annual; but now is held for life.

EXETER COLLEGE

WAS founded by Walter Stapeldon, bishop of Exeter; who had license 10th May 1314<sup>70</sup> to give two messuages in Oxford to twelve scholars studying in that university.

It was first founded in Hart hall, and called Stapeldon hall, after the founder, who, within a year after, being displeased with his design, and having bought some other lands and tenements, transplanted his scholars to St. Stephen's hall, the place where part of the college now stands.

CHRIST CHURCH.

DEANS.

KING HENRY the Eighth, by his patent dated 10th May 1524, granted leave to cardinal Wolsey to convert the monastery of St. Frideswide into a college, by virtue of which the cardinal changed the name of St. Frideswide into Cardinal college; and king Henry confirmed it by his patent dated 13th July 1525. The same King by other patents, dated 1st, 5th, and 10th May 1526, granted several immunities and privileges to the said newly-erected college. But on 15th Jan. 1530-31, all the lands and patronages were surrendered into the King's hands, by deed dated as above, John Higden being then dean; and the King (changing the name from Cardinal college to King Henry the Eighth's college) on 27th Sept. 1532 vested all back again into the hands of trustees. In the year 1542 the same King erected a new bishop's see at Osney; but soon after, not liking that situation, removed it to Oxford, and changed the name once more, from King Henry the Eighth's college, to Christ Church.

So that though John Higden, John Oliver, and John London are reckoned deans here, yet

RICHARD COX, S.T.P., made dean of the newly-erected see at Osney 8th Jan. 1543-4, and translated hither in 1545, became the first dean of Christ Church 4th Nov. He was deprived of this deanery in 1553.

WORCESTER COLLEGE,
FORMERLY CALLED GLOUCESTER HALL.

In 1291 John Giffard of Brimesfeld had license to grant certain houses in Oxford to the prior and convent of St. Benedict in Oxford<sup>14</sup>, and he immediately granted the same (situate in Stockwell-street) to that establishment as a habitation for their students in that University. It was called Gloucester Hall in honour of the abbey of Gloucester, from which the prior and twelve first monks came, who settled at Oxford. At the suppression of monasteries, king Henry the Eighth in 1541 granted the custody of the mansion called Gloucester college to John Glyn and another<sup>15</sup>, and in the following year the King granted the same mansion to the bishop of Oxford for a palace<sup>16</sup>; but it was taken away in the reign of Mary, and queen Elizabeth sold it to sir Thomas Whyte, who gave it to his newly-founded college of St. John the Baptist, and ordered it to be continued for a house of learning. On 29th July 1714 the name was changed from Gloucester Hall to Worcester College, and it was incorporated<sup>17</sup>.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE

Owes its foundation to the lady Margaret, countess of Richmond and Derby, mother to King Henry the Seventh.

This lady (though she lived not to put all her religious designs in execution) left it ordered by her last will, that her executors should endeavour to obtain a proper license to convert an hospital of regular canons (then standing in the same place) into a college, by the ancient name of St. John the evangelist.

This license was first granted by her grandson, king Henry the Eighth, dated 7th Aug. 1509, soon after which, viz. 20th Jan. 1510-11<sup>37</sup>, the old house was dissolved, and leave given to erect a college, to consist of a master, and fifty fellows and scholars, aut circa.

This license was afterwards confirmed by a bull of pope Julius the Second, by virtue of which authorities the building of the new college was undertaken in the year 1511, and carried on successfully by the care and conduct of Robert Shorton, the first master.

By the college then in being I mean only what is now the first court, the second and fairest being afterwards added mostly at the charge of Mary, countess of Shrewsbury, in the year 1602, as the case of the new library was, after that built at the charge of John Williams, bishop of Lincoln, lord keeper, in the year 1624.

THE OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS.

Extracts from Opinions.

"The large collection of varied information which you have appended to the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS, in a form so readily available for reference, has evidently been compiled with the greatest care; and the testimony which you have received to its accuracy is a guarantee of its high value. I cannot doubt that the volume, in its various forms, will be of great service."—THE ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

"The notion of including in one volume all the helps that a clergyman or teacher would be likely to want for the study of the Bible has never been realised before with the same success that you have attained in the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS. In the small edition (Ruby 16mo. thin), by the use of paper very skilfully adapted to the purpose, there is a Bible with an Atlas, a Concordance, an Index, and several Tractates on various points of Biblical antiquity, the whole, in a very solid binding, weighing a pound and an ounce: so great weight for what is really a miniature library. The clergy will probably give the preference to the larger book, marked No. 4. This includes the Apocrypha, with all the helps to the use of the Bible that distinguish the series. Its type is excellent. Many clergymen are obliged to write sermons when travelling from place to place. This volume would serve as a small library for that purpose, and not too large for the most moderate portmanteau. I think that this work in some of its forms should be in the hands of every teacher. The atlas is very clear and well printed. The explanatory work and the indices, so far as I have been able to examine them, are very carefully done. I am glad that my own University has, by the preparation of this series of books, taken a new step for the promotion of the careful study of the Word of God. That such will be the effect of the publication I cannot doubt."—THE ARCHBISHOP OF YORK.

"It would be difficult, I think, to provide for Sunday-School Teachers, or indeed for other students of the Bible, so much valuable information in so convenient a form as is now comprised in the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS."—THE BISHOP OF LONDON.

"The idea of a series of Bibles in different types, corresponding page for page with one another, is one which the Dean has long wished to see realised for the sake of those who find the type of their familiar copies no longer available . . . . The amount of information compressed into the comparatively few pages of the Appendix is wonderful. And the Dean is glad to hear that the help of such eminent contributors has been available for its compilation. The Concordance seems to be sufficiently full for reference to any text that may be required."—THE DEAN OF ROCHESTER.

"Having by frequent use made myself acquainted with this edition of the Holy Scriptures, I have no hesitation in saying that it is a most valuable book, and that the explanatory matter collected in the various appendices cannot but prove most helpful, both to teachers and learners, in acquiring a more accurate and extensive knowledge of the Word of God."—THE BISHOP OF LICHFIELD.

"I have examined the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS with very great care, and congratulate you upon the publication of so valuable a work. It contains within a reasonable compass a large mass of most useful information, arranged so conveniently as to be easily accessible, and its effect will be not merely to aid, but also, I think, to stimulate the studies of the reader. The book is also printed so beautifully, and is so handsome in every way, that I expect it will be greatly sought after, as a most acceptable present to any who are engaged in teaching in our Sunday Schools and elsewhere."—THE DEAN OF CANTERBURY.

Extracts from Opinions (continued).

"I have examined with some care a considerable portion of the 'Helps to the Study of the Bible,' which are placed at the end of the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS, and have been much struck with the vast amount of really useful information which has there been brought together in a small compass, as well as the accuracy with which it has been compiled. The botanical and geological notices, the account of the animals of Scripture, &c., seem to be excellent, and the maps are admirable. Altogether, the book cannot fail to be of service, not only to teachers, but to all who cannot afford a large library, or who have not time for much independent study."—THE DEAN OF PETERBOROUGH.

"I have been for some time well aware of the value of the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS, and have been in the habit of recommending it, not only to Sunday-School Teachers, but to more advanced students, on the ground of its containing a large mass of accurate and well-digested information, useful and in many cases indispensable to the thoughtful reader of Holy Scripture; in fact, along with the Bible, a copious Index, and a Concordance complete enough for all ordinary purposes, this one volume includes a series of short but comprehensive chapters equivalent to a small library of Biblical works."—THE BISHOP OF LIMERICK.

"Having examined the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS carefully, I am greatly pleased with it. The 'Helps to the Study of the Bible' at the end contain a great amount of most valuable information, well calculated not only to lead to a good understanding of the text, but to stimulate the student to further efforts. It differs from many publications in this, that the information is so admirably arranged, that it is well suited for reference, and is easily available for the student. The edition would be most useful to Sunday-School Teachers, a great help to those who desire that the young shall have a real knowledge of the Word of God."—THE BISHOP OF CORK.

"The OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS may, I think, without exaggeration, be described as a wonderful edition of the Holy Scriptures. The clearness and beauty of the type, and the convenient shape of the volume, leave nothing to be desired. I know nothing of the same compass which can be compared to the 'Helps to the Study of the Bible' for fulness of information and general accuracy of treatment. It is only real learning which can accomplish such a feat of compression."—THE BISHOP OF DERRY AND RAPHAH.

"I consider the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS to be simply the most valuable edition of the English Bible ever presented to the public."—THE VEN. ARCHDEACON REICHEL.

"The OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS is in every respect, as regards type, paper, binding, and general information, the most perfect volume I have ever examined."—THE REV. PREBENDARY WILSON, of the National Society's Depository.

"The essence of fifty expensive volumes, by men of sacred learning, is condensed into the pages of the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS."—THE REV. ANDREW THOMSON, D.D., Edinburgh.

"The latest researches are laid under contribution, and the Bible Student is furnished with the piñh of them all."—DR. STOURGTON.

"The whole combine to form a Help of the greatest value."—DR. ANGUS.

"I cannot imagine anything more complete or more helpful."—DR. W. MORLEY PUNSHON.

"I congratulate the teacher who possesses it, and knows how to turn its 'Helps' to good account."—DR. KENNEDY.

Extracts from Opinions (continued).

"The OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS is the most valuable help to the study of the Holy Scriptures, within a moderate compass, which I have ever met with. I shall make constant use of it; and imagine that few who are occupied with, or interested in the close study of the Scriptures, will allow such a companion to be far from their side."—THE REV. BALDWIN BROWN.

"I do not think I shall ever leave home without the OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS, for one can scarcely miss his ordinary books of reference when this Bible is at hand. I know no other edition which contains so much valuable help to the reader."—THE REV. A. H. CHARTERIS, D.D., Dean of the Chapel Royal.

"The OXFORD BIBLES FOR TEACHERS are as good as ever we can expect to see."—THE REV. C. H. SPURGEON.

"The modest title of the work scarcely does justice to the range of subjects which it comprehends, and the quality of their treatment. As a manual of Biblical information and an auxiliary of Biblical study, it is unrivalled. It is as exhaustive as it is concise,—no irrelevant matter has been introduced, and nothing essential to Biblical study seems to have been omitted,—and in no instance, so far as I can judge, has thoroughness or accuracy been sacrificed to the necessities of condensation."—THE REV. ROBERT N. YOUNG, of Headingley College, Leeds.

"The OXFORD BIBLE FOR TEACHERS is really one of the greatest boons which in our day has been offered to the reading public. The information given is so various, and so complete, as scarcely to leave a single desideratum. To Christians, in their quiet researches at home, or in the course of extensive journeys, or in preparation for the duties of tuition, it is simply invaluable, and constitutes in itself a Biblical Library. The range of topics which it seeks to illustrate is very great, while the care and accuracy manifest in the articles deserves the highest praise. It is no exaggeration to say, that to the mass of Christian people it saves the expense of purchasing and the toil of consulting a library of volumes. At the same time, I know no book more likely to stimulate enquiry, and to give the power of appreciating further research into the history, structures, and meaning of the Sacred Oracles."—DR. GOOLD, of Edinburgh.

"I have only recently possessed one of the OXFORD BIBLES FOR TEACHERS; and after a most patient examination of it, am astonished at the immense amount of accurate and carefully digested matter it contains: and that, too, of a kind precisely adapted to the Teacher's needs. Would that such a Bible had been within my reach when I first began my teaching life; and would that I had possessed one earlier, since I began to write for Teachers. As I look at its upwards of 300 pages of 'Helps to the Study of the Bible,' I recall my toilsome pilgrimage through many volumes, at much expenditure of time, for what is here so distinctly stated and tabulated. With such a desk companion I might have done so much more, and done it so much better. All I can do now is to entreat all Teachers who need a perfectly reliable Bible for study or class purposes, to procure one of the OXFORD BIBLES FOR TEACHERS. This I do most earnestly. And I would add that as a presentation volume by a class to its Teacher, or by a School to its Superintendent, no gift would be better appreciated or more appropriate than the small quarto size with its wide margin, and magnificent type, and superb flexible binding."—THE REV. JAMES COMPER GRAY, Author of "Class and Desk," "Topics for Teachers," "Biblical Museum," &c, &c.

"These admirable Bibles must tend to extend the fame even of the Oxford Press."—THE RIGHT HON. W. E. GLADSTONE, M.P.
