The New York Institution.

Excerpts from the Principal's Annual Report.

AFTER giving the number of pupils during the year of 400, followed by statistics concerning the causes of deafness and the ages when loss of hearing occurred, Principal Gardner continues:—

Abundance of fresh air, sunlight and opportunity for outdoor exercises, sports and games, together with an ever-watchful attention to the details of domestic arrangements which contribute to the comfort and well-being of the student body, have continued to secure the usual condition of good health during the year. For the details of treatment given in this department you are respectfully referred to the reports of the physician and the dentist.

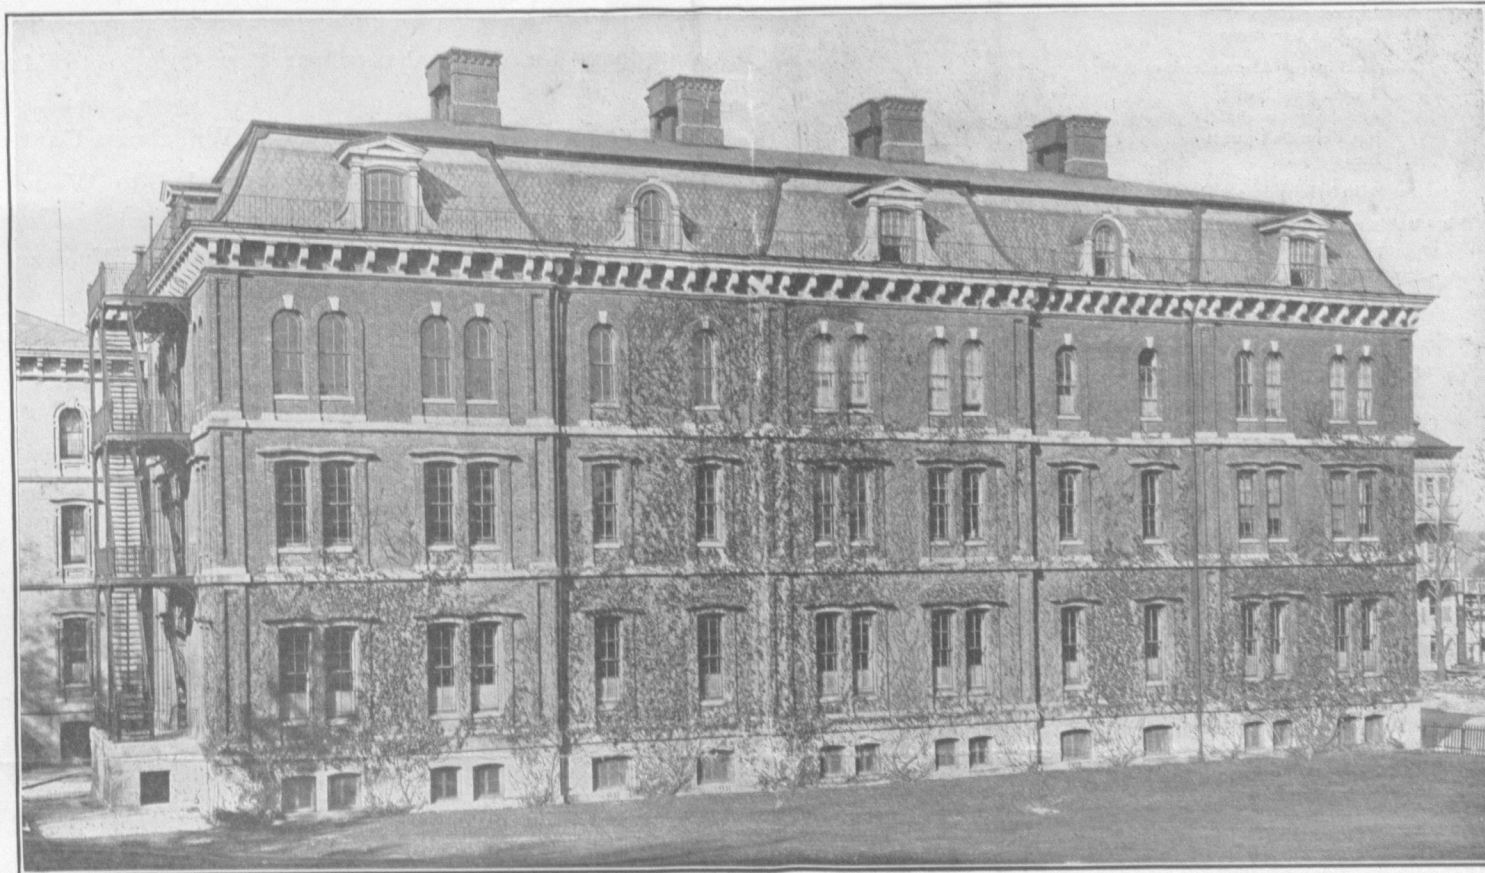

Established standards of proficiency have been maintained in the Departments of Industrial, Physical and Military Training, as well as in the classrooms.

No event of extraordinary importance in the work of instruction has occurred during the period under review, but a number of minor changes in classification and additions to the curriculum have been initiated, which seek to meet the conditions due to the ever broadening interests and activities of the deaf. In this connection, I may mention especially the organization of classes in millinery, the re-organization of of classes in cooking and in tailoring, the extension of the work done in the sign-writing classes, and the introduction of a number of new features for the better development and co-ordination of the Department of Industrial and Technical Art with other activities in the different schools of art and industry. This work is now directed by Miss Michalena LeFrere Carrol, an instructor of experience, whose training was received at New York State Normal School, Columbia University, New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, Art League, and Pratt Institute, also one year in Paris, and works on the theory of "some kind of Art for everybody." That the work of this department may be so organized as to develop high economic and civic values, as well as aesthetic tastes and inclinations, is being demonstrated here by Miss Carroll.

A substantial increase in the per capita allowances made for the maintenance and instruction of pupils by the State and by the various Counties has now become imperative. Institutions of the type of special schools such as ours, and of which type there are eight now doing this work in our State, are among the first to be affected by any unusual disturbance in economic or financial conditions, and, likewise, among the last to find relief. Since the opening of the year 1917, small increases have been made in our allowances by the legislature each year, but the resulting increases in our total receipts have at no time been sufficient to meet the added costs of service and commodities, so that with each succeeding year our total deficit has been growing larger, while our income from invested funds has been steadily reduced in consequence of drafts upon our capital funds. The total drafts from capital funds to meet current expenditures during the past four years have amounted to approximately $125,000, and the draft for the current year ending June 30th next will certainly be proportionately larger than of any previous year. In the closing days of the legislature of last year, and after the allowances for these special schools had already been fixed, a bill was passed making mandatory an average increase of more than $800 in the salaries of public school teachers throughout the State. No argument is needed to make apparent the effect of this legislation upon the work of the schools for the deaf, unless something is done to reduce the present wide discrepancy between the salaries of our teachers and those of the public schools.

Through the week beginning June 28th, 1920, there was held at the Mt. Airy Institution for the Deaf, Philadelphia, a joint meeting of the Convention of American Instructors of the Deaf, the American Association to Promote the Teaching of Speech to the Deaf, and the Society of Progressive Oral Advocates, embracing practically the entire group of teachers of the deaf in the United States, Canada, and South American countries. Representatives were also present from some of the European countries. During this meeting a day was set apart for the celebration of the centenary of the Mt. Airy School, which for the past thirty-six years has been under the guidance of its present Principal and Superintendent, Dr. A. L. E. Crouter. Both the Convention and the celebration will mark periods in the progress of our special work.

Academic Building—150 x 50 feet.

A permanent Committee, consisting of representatives of all the various Associations of instructors of the deaf, was appointed and authorized to formulate and conduct a general survey of all the Institutions for the instruction of the deaf in the United States, with a view to establishing definite standards of efficiency, the ultimate purpose being a graded classification of all such schools. The Committee reported the scope of the survey to embrace:

1. Location: Adaptability to carry on the work in the most efficient way. Accessibility.
2. Buildings: Comfortable housing with reference to roominess, sanitation, including heating, ventilation, etc. Also kinds and quality of buildings to do the work of education and custodial care in the best way.
3. Grounds and lands as to opportunity for expansion and for manual and industrial training; playgrounds, gardening, orcharding, farming, etc.
4. Domestic and custodial: Proper grouping of children with sufficient supervision to care properly for the person of pupils, their personal habits, clothing, beds and bedding, toilets, manners and morals, and all other things that go to make up a first-class family life. Cooking service, feeding, cleaning. Social life, religious and moral training. Laundry work, ward-robing and dressing and preparing for school.

5. Organization as to Sufficiency and Proficiency: Spirit and purpose. Its origin and direction.

6. The Educational Department: Its management and tendency. Classification records and equipment. Course of Study, extent of work, the end in view, its adaptability to train for a life-work or self-maintenance.

Industrial training: Extent and kind. Its adaptability to the needs of the pupils in their respective communities. Graduation.

The training of a teaching and supervising force, salaries, libraries; laboratories, physical education, including child study, and all that goes to develop the mind and body of child life.

7. Medical and Hospital Department: Equipment in every way and extent for taking care of epidemics, etc. A system and equipment for eye, ear, nose and throat.

8. Farm land: Farming, dairying, testing, feeding, etc., when a farm is owned.

9. Plan for the retirement of aged and worthy teachers and employees of long terms of service.

10. Management as to controlling authority, such as one Board for many Institutions, a single Board under an educational sentiment, or otherwise.

Such a survey as proposed would gather much information of general interest and of great value in promoting the educational interests of the deaf, but the benefits to be derived through the standardization and graded classification of American Schools are by no means so apparent.

During the progress of this Convention there was some discussion regarding what was there termed "scientific" methods of instructing the deaf, and the remark was repeatedly heard that various national associations representing the different branches of medical science are now ready to issue an authoritative pronouncement regarding what constitutes a scientific method of instruction. It will be a joyful day for the deaf and for all who are interested in their instruction when such a happy issue out of all their troubles may be successfully brought to pass. My own experience, however, runs contrary to this general statement regarding the attitude of medical science. On more than one occasion during recent years it has been my privilege to appear before National and State bodies of scientific men in different branches of medical and surgical practice, and each time the scientists there gathered have declined to assume responsibility for any such knowledge or authority.

It is perhaps true that those in authority in schools for the deaf have not heretofore profited to the fullest extent possible by the special learning of the otologist, the psychologist, the sociologist, and others; but I am unable to lose sight of the fact that we are organized for the special purpose of providing general educational and instructional facilities for exceptional children, and while the otologist always finds a welcome here, it does not seem in keeping with our general purposes that our organization should ever be transformed into a permanent clinic for scientific experimentation.

All railroads in the State of Texas, have granted reduced rates on the Certificate Plan, at one and one half the regular rate.

The deaf of Texas are alive to the situation, and are going to put a crimp in the plan of the Oralists' ambitions to turn the Texas School into a Simon Pure Oral School. All the deaf people realize that some of the pupils can make fair progress in Lip-Reading and Speech, but they know that the majority of them get nowhere; therefore the Texas Deaf people announce now that they are for the Combined System, and that they will fight any effort on the part of the Volta Bureau or anyone else to make the Texas School anything else. We know that the Rochester system of writing and finger spelling to be the best system, and will do all in our power to help the Superintendent give the Deaf the best possible education.

2. Montessori, Kindergarten and Primary Exercises. Conducted by Miss Myer, Miss Whittaker, Miss Caswell.

June Day Revels

JACK AND JILL

Rubin Goldstein and Catherine O'Brien.

I'm Jack! I'm Jill.
We fell down the hill.

Jack: I broke my crown when I fell down,
And Jill began to yell.
We've filled our pail with flowers blue,
And bring them all, O Queen, to you!

3. Miss Muffet. Congetta Fernando.

I'm little Miss Muffet
Who sat on a tuffet
I give you this flower
I found for your bower.

4. Little Boy Blue. Charles Terry.

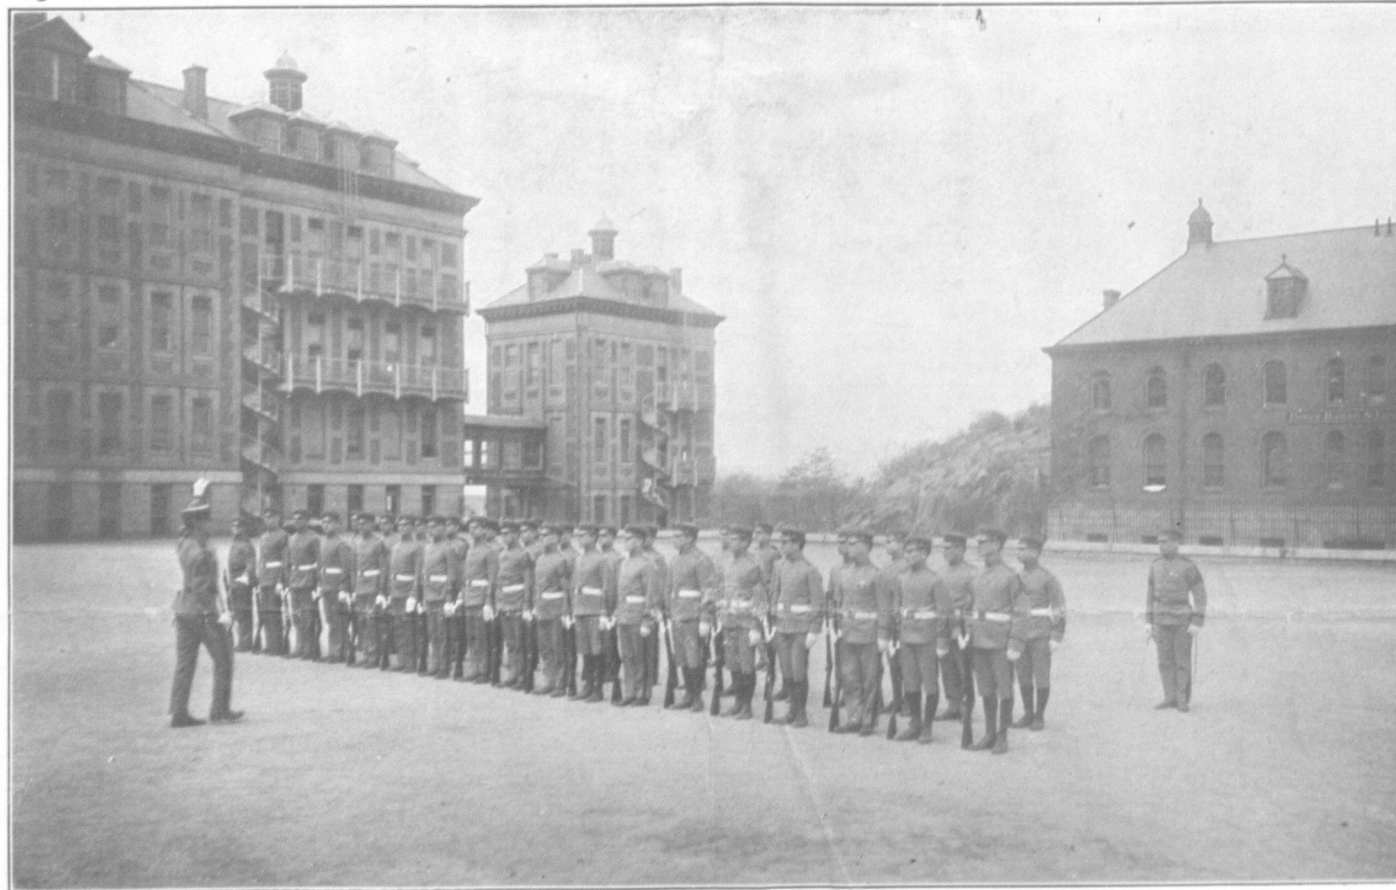

I'm little Boy Blue and with my horn,
I frightened the cows from out of the corn.
My dear fair Queen, I'm happy too,
I came this day to bow to you.

5. The Old Woman who Lived in a Shoe. Fannie Weishauss.

I'm The Old Woman who lived in a shoe,
I have so many children, but I know what to do,
I'll bring them all here to bow to their Queen—
They're the nicest family that ever was seen.

5. Little Jack Horner. David Mahler.

I'm Little Jack Horner.
I left my corner,
To make my bow to the Queen.

Provisional Company.

6. Bo-Peep. Edna Jensen.

O! Queen so fair,
Do tell me where
Little Bo-Peep
Can find her sheep

7. Simple Simon. Alexander Ovary.

I went a fishing
And caught a whale,
But I couldn't put it
Into my pail.

Jack: "Oh! Here comes Robinson Crusoe."

8. Robinson Crusoe. Albert Boyajian.

I am glad I landed here today
To see the girls and boys at play.
It makes me very happy, too,
To give these flowers, dear, to you.
And here's my good man, Friday.

9. Mary, Mary, quite contrary. Edith Kaercher

I am Mary, Mary, sweet and airy,
The rest of it all you know,
These flowers I bring to you, my Queen;
Farewell to you all, we must go!

10. The Queen. Madeline Szernetz.

I'm glad to see you all today
And thank you for the flowers so gay;
I'll call the children from far and near
And let them dance before you here.

3. Advanced Pupils. Conducted by Miss Berry.

VI. "America," recited in signs by the Choir and sung by the audience.

My country 'tis of thee, Sweet land of liberty, Of thee I sing; Land where my fathers died! Land of the Pilgrim's pride! From every mountain side Let freedom ring.	My native country, thee, Land of the noble free— Thy name I love; I love thy rocks and rills, Thy woods and templed hills; My heart with rapture thrills, Like that above.
---	--

Our fathers' God! to thee,
Author of liberty,
To thee we sing:
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by thy might,
Great God, our King.

VIII. Benediction.

Planting the Ivy.

The Class Ivy was planted with the customary ceremony on the afternoon of Thursday, June 9th.

The Graduating Class marched to the office of Principal Gardner where greeting and advice was given.

The Cadet Battalion came to present arms when the Class appeared at the entrance to the Main Building, and with the Band playing, escorted them to the place where the ivy was to be dedicated. Principal Gardner and the teachers were in the procession.

Miss Anna Hoffman was flag-bearer. The Class representatives were Mary Caplan and Benjamin Cohen. The Class Motto was "Speak well, act nobly." The Class flower was the carnation. Charles Moscovitz was Ivy Orator, and delivered the following:—

IVY ORATION

Dear Principal, Professors, Instructors and Schoolmates:—The time for the planting of the class ivy has come again, and we are gathered here to plant the ivy for the Class of 1921. Many classes in the past have followed this time-honored custom—we have witnessed quite a number. But this afternoon, we come to place our own contribution, and the class of 1921 feels the solemnity of the occasion. We feel that we are about to take a serious advance in life and are somewhat afraid of the unknown before us. We are encouraged by the hope that we are prepared for our life's work.

When we consider what we owe to this school, which is soon to be our Alma Mater, we cannot express our thanks sufficiently, nor show how greatly we value what has been done for us.

Soon the moment will come for us to face the end of our school life. We feel that we will have a severe task in learning to depend upon ourselves. We will try to do our best.

Dear Principal:—You and your staff have prepared us well, and we shall try to show that your admonitions, advice and help, have not been in vain.

Your training has done so much to make us capable to face life, that it encourages us to hope that we may turn out a credit to your efforts.

We express our grateful acknowledgment to you.

We find it hard to part from our beloved Fanwood, our Principal, and the friends who have done so much for us in the past years. We are bidding you all farewell, with sincere thanks for all your consideration, courtesy, and kindness to us.

Fellow Graduates: We must try to live up to our class motto—"Speak well, Act nobly." If we only follow the advice of these simple and beautiful words, it is possible for us to reach the high goal of success, and to make our beloved Alma Mater feel proud of the Class of 1921. If we do this we will be doing our share in repaying this Institution, our Principal, teachers and officers, a small part of the great debt we owe them.

Good-bye and good luck to you all.

Addresses were made by Principal Gardner, Dr. Fox, and several of the Professors.

As Others See Us.

The Home News of Sunday, May 22d, contained the following: "With a precision and regularity strongly reminiscent of the West Point Cadets, the male pupils of the New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, 99 Fort Washington Avenue, presented an exhibition of their training before army officials at the Annual Military Examination held a few days ago. Col. Arthur Thayer, U. S. Cavalry, stated that, inasmuch as the students were unaided by signals of any kind and were guided by counting to themselves, special commendation was due them.

"The examination consisted of a review by Col. Arthur Thayer, who is in charge of Reserve Officers Corps, 2d Corps Area, an exhibition by Cadet Provisional Company; a parade by three companies of cadets and an elimination test or individual competition in the Manual of Arms. In the latter case, a company of cadets were put through a drill with guns. After the cadet, whose posture or manner of holding a rifle was the least bit incorrect, was eliminated from the test. In this way the three best boys in each company were picked, and awarded a gold medal for first prize, silver for second, and bronze for third.

"MEDAL WINNERS—Those who were successful in winning medals were, Co. A, R. Marshall, first; H. Yager, second; C. Fitzpatrick, third; Co. B, J. Krassner first; A. Lander second; J. Curatolo, third; Co. C, comprising the younger boys: W. Raynor, smallest boy in the institution, first; H. Carrol, second; H. Rubenstein, third. The Sanger Memorial Medal for Band excellence was won by Band Leader R. Pokorny. The gold medal for the best Drill Officer was won by E. Malloy. The Medal for General Excellence in Field Music was won by Cadet Drum Major M. Steinberg. The reviewing officers were Col. A. Thayer, assisted by Capt. R. Knight and M. J. Rockwell, 22d U. S. Infantry.

"This institution is the first and oldest oral school for the deaf in America. It is free to all deaf children, both girls and boys, of the state. In the 102 years of its existence it has given instruction to 4,965 deaf-mutes. Every known instrument or aid which is of value in their education is used. Speech and speech-reading are taught to all. A course of study equivalent to that of common schools and academies, and a mechanical trade, are taught each pupil. The girls are given instruction in cooking. A special feature of the institution is thorough training in all departments of art. Under the supervision of a physical director, a completely equipped gym has been provided. Classes in band practice and military drill for boys complete the courses offered.

"At present, the institution has a total of 11,217 volumes, of which 8,912 are bound, and 2,305 are in paper covers. Part of the collection is in the main library; another section fills the pupils' branch in the Academic building, and still another sell, Commander of Cadets and Instructor of Tactics; Lieut. William H. Edwards, band leader and instructor of cadet band and field music.

Due to the effort of these men, the deaf-mute cadets have become so proficient in the school of the soldier that none of the City schools will compete with them. The cadets were recently presented with a loving cup by the United Spanish War Veterans for excellence in silent drill.

Los Angeles, Cal.

Mr. John W. Barrett will be no more a grasswidower, as his wife has resigned from the Iowa School for the Deaf as a teacher and is expected to be in town about the middle of June. She has been connected with the school for the deaf for a number of years.

The site where the Episcopal Church is now located has been sold preparatory to the erection of a new, big hotel. The tearing down of the church is to start soon. Therefore, there will be no Wednesday evening meetings and Sunday services for the deaf. However, the Episcopal Church is to have a magnificent new church in the future on Figueroa near Sixth Street.

Mr. Lambert, the Santa Barbara pioneer, was in town on business, and returned home the next day. He is a prosperous rancher. The only person whom the rancher knows very well is the scribe. They both are old Berkeley schoolmates.

The marriage of Miss Overton, of Covina, to Mr. C. Bates, of Kansas, came as a real surprise to the deaf. Without our knowledge, they have been married two months. Wishes for a long and happy life are extended to the new couple.

The Los Angeles branch of the N. A. D., was recently organized, and the following officers were elected. President, M. J. Matheis; Vice-President, J. W. Barrett; Secretary, Mrs. Bingham; and Treasurer, N. Lewis. The Chairman on Constitution and By-Laws, assisted by Messrs. Barrett and Harris, is Waldo H. Rothert. The branch meets again next Wednesday.

Mr. J. O. Harris, working for the City Water Department, has an inclination to make calls on his friends when he can take advantage of the inclement weather. He has been employed by the Department for over three years.

Mr. Arthur Peterson was suddenly called to his home in Minnesota by the death of his sister. He was in such haste that he said nothing of his return to the southland.

Mr. C. Doane was suddenly taken ill at his home last week. His family physician was sent for, and ordered him to be immediately taken to the Angelus Hospital where he underwent an operation, and is now getting along as finely as possible. He would have died, but for the prompt action of the doctor.

The wonderful climate is tempting Mr. Davidson to make his home here. He has just returned from Mexico City, where he visited the deaf school. He said that the deaf Mexicans were quite different from us in the sign-language. He was graduated from the Berkeley school and was also a student at Gallaudet College.

For several months Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kenzy, of Iowa, have not been able to find any trace of the deaf, until Mrs. Marsden recently happened to meet them on the street in Pasadena. Mr. and Mrs. Kenzy are Mr. J. O. Harris' classmates.

The Silent Club, of which Miss Cora Hitesman has been a member since its organization, was surprised to learn that she left for Washington, D. C., last week to see her chum graduate at Gallaudet College. She might fool the club also by getting married to her old sweetheart in the East.

Mr. W. Traeger, who was recently appointed sheriff here, is well-known throughout the Pacific Coast as a great foot-ball star at Stanford University. The scribe is reminded of when he played with the Seattle Athletic Club against the Stanford University team, champions of the Pacific Coast, in Seattle. The scribe and sheriff had a very hard scuffle throughout the game in the heavy rain.

Mr. John Heitshusen is too modest to speak of his heroic action in his home town, Anaheim. As none of his friends have heard of the incident, the following clipping is reproduced:—

The theatre crowds last night on Center Street were treated to a thriller before they got into the movie palaces when Juan D. Genarid, Mexican, about 7:30 p.m. walked up to a glass show window at Wisser's sporting goods store, struck a fist through the glass and grabbed a couple of revolvers.

John Heitshusen, who is deaf and dumb, happened along just then, and grabbed the Mexican, who stuck one of the guns into Heitshusen's stomach. The latter did not know, of course, whether or not the gun was loaded. He was game, however, and whirled the Mexican about, holding the Mexican's wrists in the air from behind.

In this way, with the Mexican pointing the guns in the air, Heitshusen marched him into Franz's barber shop next door—there were some startled folks there. Heitshusen was unable to explain matters and had to hold the Mexican until police arrived. Later the Mexican was sent to San Quentin penitentiary for 5 years. Heitshusen was graduated from Berkeley.

SUNDRY NOTES

www.hbtool.com.cn

From the New Haven Register of May 24th it is learned that the Connecticut Senate have reported favorably a bill appropriating $250,000 for the American School for the Deaf.

Music is frequently employed to restore lost power of speech and memory, it having been found by experiment that the neurasthenic and paralyzed are often able to sing while they can not speak.

Miss Edith Johnston, for twelve years heard of the lip language department of the Nebraska School for the Deaf, leaped to her death from the seventh floor of a hotel on the 23d of May. She had been in ill health for some time.

The New Mexico School for the Deaf closed on May 25th, there being no graduates this year and, therefore, there was no closing exercises. It is understood that the entire faculty, which so ably conducted the school during the past year, under the direction of Prof. Wesley O. Connor, will be reappointed.

Things were peaceful, not to say quiet, in the house where George Meakin and John Pykett, both deaf mutes, live, in Nottingham England, until Pykett hired a servant girl whom Meakin didn't like. Then Meakin put the gas pipes under Pykett's pillow and turned the valve. To make sure he cut Pykett's throat with a razor. One's in the hospital and the other in jail.

Speechless for more than three years from an ailment contracted at Camp Anniston, Ala. John Gilbert Jenkins of Fairville, near here, has recovered his power of speech. Jenkins was stricken while he was a first sergeant in the Fifty-ninth Pioneer Infantry and removed to a hospital. He was discharged, but without his power of speech, and came to his home here. A week ago, while with his father, he began to talk. Just what the ailment was, doctors seem to be unable to fathom.

A three-day session for deaf-mutes of the Pittsburgh district closed yesterday with service in old St. Patrick's Church, Liberty Avenue and Seventeenth Street, with a sermon by the Rev. M. A. Purcell, S. J., of Baltimore, and general communion of the 100 persons who attended the mission. These missions are held once every two years and are for social purposes as well as the religious one which is the aim of the missions. Services were conducted by Father Purcell by means of the sign language.

Notice to Atlanta Visitors Via New York.

In answer to many inquiries the S. S. City of Montgomery leaves Pier 35, N. R., at 3 P. M., Thursday July 7th. Of the twenty-five rooms reserved for the N. F. S. D. party, all but six are taken. Each room accommodates two.

The steamer is due at Savannah Sunday morning, and some of the people of that city are arranging a reception and auto ride for the northern visitors. Fare, including room and all meals on ship, and railway from Savannah to Atlanta, is $34.50. Returning by rail on certificate plan will probably mean an expenditure of $17.00 for railway fare and $10.00 for a Pullman lower berth.

All the state-rooms reserved are on the hurricane deck, and of the 34 reservations 10 are for wives of delegates and lady friends accompanying them.

It will be the largest party that ever left New York for a Convention.

Incoming delegates will meet at the office of the undersigned on the morning of the 7th, and all had better secure tickets early to avoid the rush, though the rooms are secure, being reserved right up to the day of sailing.

Atlanta Convention Rates

WHAT THE RAILROADS OFFER THE FRATS AND THE FRIENDS:—

The triennial convention of the National Fraternal Society of the Deaf will be held at Atlanta, Ga., July 11th to 16th.

Railroad associations have granted a special rate on the certificate plan of one and a half times the one-way fare—provided 350 certificates are presented to their special agent at Atlanta. This means that the full fare must be paid going to Atlanta; the return rate will only be one-half of the fare going—if we get the required 350 certificates.

WHAT YOU MUST DO TO GET THE BENEFIT OF THE "CERTIFICATE PLAN" AND HELP OTHERS ALSO TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT

IF YOU LIVE IN ANY STATE EXCEPT CALIFORNIA, OREGON, WASHINGTON, OR THE NEW ENGLAND STATES:

Buy a ONE WAY ticket to Atlanta. And be sure to get from the agent a CERTIFICATE OF PURCHASE—not a mere receipt. This certificate is to be handed to the Grand Secretary (F. P. Gibson) at Atlanta.

IF YOU LIVE IN CALIFORNIA, OREGON OR WASHINGTON:

Buy a ROUND TRIP "Summer Excursion" ticket to Chicago. (or to St. Louis, Memphis or New Orleans). These tickets will be on sale after June 15. The cost for round trip will be about one and one-third times the one-way fare. Then, from Chicago (or any of the other points above named) buy a ONE WAY ticket to Atlanta. When buying this ticket, be sure to get a CERTIFICATE showing such purchase.

IF YOU LIVE IN ONE OF THE NEW ENGLAND STATES:

Buy a ticket to New York (or to the nearest point in New York State) and from that point buy a ONE WAY ticket to Atlanta, and be sure to secure a CERTIFICATE.

For room reservations and information concerning hotels, etc., write Ross A. Johnson, 63 N. Pryor St., Atlanta, Ga.
