BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

Article 3 of Chapter 2 of Title 40 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to special license plates for certain persons and vehicles, is amended by striking Code Section 40-2-60.1, relating to administrative issuance of special license plates, and inserting in its place a new Code section to read as follows:

(a) The General Assembly finds that during recent years prior to and including 1997 2005 there have been proposed and enacted numerous laws providing for the issuance of special license plates for certain persons and vehicles. The General Assembly finds that there exists a need for a standardized administrative process to provide for the authorization of issuance of such special license plates and that the public interest will be best served by such a standardized administrative process. While recognizing that the legislature may not abridge its powers, the General Assembly declares that it is in the public interest of this state for future proposals for special license plates to be governed by the administrative process established by this Code section rather than by the legislative process, except in any case where resulting revenue is to be directed to any recipient other than the general fund of the state treasury in which instance the legislative process shall be followed.

(b)(1) The commissioner is authorized to adopt rules and regulations for the issuance of special license plates for groups of individuals and vehicles. Such rules and regulations shall provide that no such special license plate shall be issued except upon the application of at least ~~1,000~~ 250 persons. The rules and regulations shall provide for the manner of such applications. The rules and regulations shall provide that upon receipt of the requisite number of applications, a special license plate may be issued as provided in this Code section. All special license plates shall have an application period of two years after the receipt of the initial application for the payment of the manufacturing fee. After such time if the minimum number of applications is not met, the department shall not be required to continue to accept the manufacturing fee for that special license plate.

(2) The department shall not be required to continue to manufacture any special license plate when the number of active registrations falls below 150 registrations at any time during the period provided for in subsection (b) of Code Section 40-2-31. Current registrants may continue to renew such special license plate during their annual registration period. The department may continue to issue such special license plates that it has in its inventory to assist in achieving the minimum number of registrations. If the special license plate falls below 150 active registrations at any time during the period provided for in subsection (b) of Code Section 40-2-31, the organization sponsoring the special license plate shall be required again to obtain 250 applications accompanied by the manufacturing fee.

(3) The rules and regulations may provide for exceptions whereby a special plate will not be issued if the issuance of the plate would adversely affect public safety. The rules and regulations shall provide for the design and manufacture of such special license plates and shall provide that such plates shall be readily recognizable as Georgia license plates through the adoption of a standard design containing a smaller space for the insertion of an appropriate logo or graphic identifying the special nature of the license plate. The logo or graphic shall be no larger than three inches by three inches and shall be placed to the left of the alphanumeric characters. The department shall not utilize any graphic that is copyrighted unless a sponsoring organization has secured for the state the authority to utilize the copyrighted design at no cost to the state and the sponsoring organization has agreed to hold the state harmless against any related claim of copyright violation or infringement. Subject to the foregoing provisions of this subsection paragraph, the design of each special license plate shall be in the discretion of the commissioner.

(c) Any resident motor vehicle owner desiring a special license plate provided for in this Code section shall submit to the commissioner a completed application form for such plate with a $25.00 manufacturing fee in addition to the regular motor vehicle registration fee. Upon complying with the motor vehicle registration and licensing laws and the rules and regulations authorized in this Code section, a resident motor vehicle owner shall be issued a special license plate if the issuance of such plate is otherwise authorized under this Code section.

(d) Special license plates issued under this Code section shall be renewed annually with a revalidation decal, as provided in Code Section 40-2-31, upon payment of an additional $25.00 annual registration fee which fee shall be collected by the county tag agent at the time of collection of other registration fees and shall be remitted to the state as provided in Code Section 40-2-34. Special license plates issued under this Code section may be transferred between vehicles as provided in Code Section 40-2-80.

(e) ~~Nothing in this Code section shall affect~~ The commissioner shall have the discretion to apply the provisions of this Code section to any special license plate provided for by any other law in existence on or becoming effective on May 1, 1997 January 1, 2006."

SECTION 2.

"(a) Motor vehicle owners who have been awarded the Medal of Honor and who are residents of this state, upon complying with the motor vehicle laws relating to registration and licensing of motor vehicles, shall be issued two distinctive personalized license plates free of charge. Such license plates shall be fastened to both the front and the rear of the vehicle. Such license plates shall be transferred to another vehicle as provided in Code Section 40-2-80. '1-4-15.

(a) The General Assembly finds that a Georgia family's proud tradition of racing began in Dawsonville, Georgia, under the tutelage and guiding hand of George Elliott. George's young son Bill began to demonstrate at an early age a natural skill and competitive racing instinct at Dixie Speedway in Woodstock, and in 1976, at the tender age of 20, Bill Elliott entered his first Winston Cup race and launched a career that would span decades. Awesome Bill from Dawsonville, a modest, unassuming, and unpretentious man, has become a household name in NASCAR racing and has been selected Most Popular Driver an unprecedented 16 times, Georgia Professional Athlete of the Year twice, National Motorsports Driver of the Year 14 times, and in 1998, was inducted into the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame. It is virtually impossible to list all of the honors and awards Million Dollar Bill has garnered over his incandescent career, but perhaps his most acclaimed accomplishment is his support, love, and respect from racing fans. He has given unstintingly of his time, talents, energy, and financial resources to numerous charities including the Special Olympics, the M.D. Anderson Cancer Center, and the Make-A-Wish Foundation and it is abundantly fitting and proper that this extraordinary Georgian be recognized in a special and lasting manner.

(b) The members of the General Assembly commend Bill Elliott for his over 30 years of outstanding contributions to the sport of racing and designate October 8 of each year as Bill Elliott Day in Georgia."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

Chapter 1 of Title 10 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to selling and other trade practices, is amended by adding a new Article 34 to read as follows:

"ARTICLE 34

10-1-910.

The General Assembly finds and declares as follows:

- (1) The privacy and financial security of individuals is increasingly at risk due to the ever more widespread collection of personal information by both the private and public sectors;
- (2) Credit card transactions, magazine subscriptions, telephone numbers, real estate records, automobile registrations, consumer surveys, warranty registrations, credit reports, and Internet websites are all sources of personal information and form the source material for identity thieves;
- (3) Identity theft is one of the fastest growing crimes committed in this state. Criminals who steal personal information such as social security numbers use the information to open credit card accounts, write bad checks, buy cars, and commit other financial crimes with other people's identities;
- (4) Identity theft is costly to the marketplace and to consumers; and
- (5) Victims of identity theft must act quickly to minimize the damage; therefore, expeditious notification of possible misuse of a person's personal information is imperative.

10-1-911.

As used in this article, the term:

- (1) 'Breach of the security of the system' means unauthorized acquisition of an individual's file or computerized data that compromises the security, confidentiality, or integrity of personal information of such individual maintained by an information broker. Good faith acquisition of personal information by an employee or agent of an information broker for the purposes of such information broker is not a breach of the security of the system, provided that the personal information is not used or subject to further ~~unauthorized disclosure~~.

(2) 'File,' when used in connection with information on any individual, means all of the information on that individual recorded and retained by an information broker regardless of how the information is stored.

(3) 'Information broker' means any person or entity who, for monetary fees or dues, engages in whole or in part in the practice of collecting, assembling, evaluating, compiling, reporting, transmitting, transferring, or communicating information concerning individuals for the purposes of furnishing personal information to third parties, but does not include any governmental agency whose records are maintained primarily for traffic safety, law enforcement, or licensing purposes.

(4) 'Notice' means:

(A) Written notice;

(B) Electronic notice, if the notice provided is consistent with the provisions regarding electronic records and signatures set forth in Section 7001 of Title 15 of the United States Code; or

(C) Substitute notice, if the information broker demonstrates that the cost of providing notice would exceed $250,000.00, that the affected class of individuals to be notified exceeds 500,000, or that the information broker does not have sufficient contact information to provide written or electronic notice to such individuals. Substitute notice shall consist of all of the following:

(i) E-mail notice, if the information broker has an e-mail address for the individuals to be notified;

(ii) Conspicuous posting of the notice on the information broker's website page, if the information broker maintains one; and

(iii) Notification to major state-wide media.

Notwithstanding any provision of this paragraph to the contrary, an information broker that maintains its own notification procedures as part of an information security policy for the treatment of personal information and is otherwise consistent with the timing requirements of this article shall be deemed to be in compliance with the notification requirements of this article if it notifies the individuals who are the subjects of the notice in accordance with its policies in the event of a breach of the security of the system.

(5) 'Person' means any individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, estate, cooperative, association, or other entity. The term 'person' as used in this article shall not be construed to require duplicative reporting by any individual, corporation, trust, estate, cooperative, association, or other entity involved in the same transaction.

(6) 'Personal information' means an individual's first name or first initial and last name in combination with any one or more of the following data elements, when either the name or the data elements are not encrypted:

(A) Social security number;

- (B) Driver's license number of an individual or number of an individual's identification card issued pursuant to Article 5 of Chapter 5 of Title 40;
- (C) Account number, credit card number, or debit card number, in combination with any required security code, access code, or password that would permit access to an individual's financial account; or
- (D) Other information collected, assembled, evaluated, compiled, reported, transmitted, transferred, or communicated concerning such individual.

The term 'personal information' does not include publicly available information that is lawfully made available to the general public from federal, state, or local government records.

- (a) Any information broker that owns or licenses files or computerized data that includes personal information of individuals shall give notice of any breach of the security of the system following discovery or notification of the breach in the security of the data to any resident of this state whose unencrypted personal information or file was, or is reasonably believed to have been, acquired by an unauthorized person. The notice shall be made within ten days following such discovery or notification.
- (b) Any information broker that maintains computerized data that includes personal information of individuals that the information broker does not own shall notify the owner or licensee of the information of any breach of the security of the data immediately following discovery, if the personal information was, or is reasonably believed to have been, acquired by an unauthorized person.
- (c) The notification required by this Code section may be delayed if a law enforcement agency determines that the notification will impede a criminal investigation. The notification required by this Code section shall be made after the law enforcement agency determines that it will not compromise the investigation.
- (d) The duty of an information broker to disclose a breach of the security of the system under this Code section shall apply to all such breaches occurring on and after the effective date of this article and any breaches that occurred within six months immediately prior to the effective date of this article."

SECTION 2.

This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval.

SECTION 3.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.

(6) Engaged in any unprofessional, immoral, unethical, deceptive, or deleterious conduct or practice harmful to the public, which conduct or practice materially affects the fitness of the licensee or applicant to practice chiropractic, or of a nature likely to jeopardize the interest of the public, which conduct or practice need not have resulted in actual injury to any person or be directly related to the practice of chiropractic but shows that the licensee or applicant has committed any act or omission which is indicative of bad moral character or untrustworthiness; unprofessional conduct shall also include any departure from, or the failure to conform to, the minimal standards of acceptable and prevailing practice of chiropractic;

(7) Knowingly performed any act which in any way aids, assists, procures, advises, or encourages any unlicensed person or any licensee whose license has been suspended or revoked by the board to practice chiropractic or to practice outside the scope of any disciplinary limitation placed upon the licensee by the board;

(9) Been adjudged mentally incompetent by a court of competent jurisdiction inside or outside this state; any such adjudication shall automatically suspend the license of any such person and shall prevent the reissuance or renewal of any license so suspended for as long as the adjudication of incompetence is in effect; ~~or~~

(A) In enforcing this paragraph, the board may, upon reasonable grounds, require a licensee or applicant to submit to a mental or physical examination by licensed health care providers designated by the board. The results of such examination shall be admissible in any hearing before the board, notwithstanding any claim of privilege under a contrary rule of law or statute, including, but not limited to, Code Section 24-9-21. Every person who shall accept the privilege of practicing chiropractic in this state or who shall file an application for a license to practice chiropractic in this state shall be deemed to have given his or her consent to submit to such mental or physical examination and to have waived all objections to the admissibility of the results in any hearing before the board, upon the grounds that the same constitutes a privileged communication. If a licensee or applicant fails to submit to such an examination when properly directed to do so by the board, unless such failure was due to circumstances beyond his or her control, the board may enter a final order upon proper notice, hearing, and proof of such refusal. Any licensee or applicant who is prohibited from practicing chiropractic under this paragraph shall at reasonable intervals be afforded an opportunity to demonstrate to the board that he or she can resume or begin the practice of chiropractic with reasonable skill and safety to patients;

(B) For the purposes of this paragraph, the board may, upon reasonable grounds, obtain any and all records relating to the mental or physical condition of a licensee or applicant, including psychiatric records; and such records shall be admissible in any hearing before the board, notwithstanding any privilege under a contrary rule of law or statute, including, but not limited to, Code Section 24-9-21. Every person who shall accept the privilege of practicing chiropractic in this state or who shall file an application to practice chiropractic in this state shall be deemed to have given his or her consent to the board's obtaining any such records and to have waived all objections to the admissibility of such records in any hearing before the board, upon the grounds that the same constitutes a privileged communication; and

(C) If any licensee or applicant could, in the absence of this paragraph, invoke a privilege to prevent the disclosure of the results of the examination provided for in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph or the records relating to the mental or physical condition of such licensee or applicant obtained pursuant to subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, all such information shall be received by the board in camera and shall not be disclosed to the public, nor shall any part of the record containing such information be used against any licensee or applicant in any other type of proceeding."

46-5-120.

This part shall be known and may be cited as the 'Georgia Emergency Telephone Number "~~911~~" 9-1-1 Service Act of 1977 '

46-5-121.

(a) The General Assembly finds and declares that it is in the public interest to shorten the time required for a citizen to request and receive emergency aid. There currently exist numerous different emergency phone numbers throughout the state. Provision for a single, primary three-digit emergency number through which emergency services can be quickly and efficiently obtained would provide a significant contribution to law enforcement and other public service efforts by making it easier to notify public safety personnel. Such a simplified means of procuring emergency services will result in the saving of lives, a reduction in the destruction of property, and quicker apprehension of criminals. It is the intent of the General Assembly to establish and implement a cohesive state-wide emergency telephone number '~~911~~' 9-1-1 system which will provide citizens with rapid, direct access to public safety agencies by dialing telephone number '~~911~~' 9-1-1 with the objective of reducing the response time to situations requiring law enforcement, fire, medical, rescue, and other emergency services.

(b) The General Assembly further finds and declares that the benefits of '911' 9-1-1 service should be widely available, regardless of whether a '911' 9-1-1 call is placed from a traditional landline telephone or from a wireless telephone. It is also in the public interest that users of wireless telephones should bear some of the cost of providing this life-saving service, as users of landline telephones currently do. It is the intent of the General Assembly to bring wireless telephone service within the scope of this part and to establish a means by which local public safety agencies may provide enhanced '911' 9-1-1 service to wireless telephone users.

As used in this part, the term:

(1) 'Addressing' means the assigning of a numerical address and street name (the name may be numerical) to each location within a local government's geographical area necessary to provide public safety service as determined by the local government. This address replaces any route and box number currently in place in the '911' 9-1-1 data base and facilitates quicker response by public safety agencies.

~~(1.1)~~(2) 'Agency' means the Georgia Emergency Management Agency established pursuant to Code Section 38-3-20 unless the context clearly requires otherwise.

~~(2)~~(3) 'Director' means the director of emergency management appointed pursuant to Code Section 38-3-20.

(4) 'Cost recovery' means the mechanism by which service suppliers may recover the recurring and nonrecurring costs they expend on the implementation of wireless 9-1-1 services.

~~(3)~~(5) 'Emergency "911" 9-1-1 system' means a local exchange telephone service or wireless service which facilitates the placing of calls by persons in need of emergency services to a public safety answering point by dialing the telephone number '911' 9-1-1 and under which calls to '911' 9-1-1 are answered by public safety answering points established and operated by the local government subscribing to the '911' 9-1-1 service. The term 'emergency "911" 9-1-1 system' also includes 'enhanced "911" 9-1-1 service,' which means an emergency telephone system that provides the caller with emergency '911' 9-1-1 system service and, in addition, directs '911' 9-1-1 calls to appropriate public safety answering points by selective routing based on the geographical location from which the call originated and provides the capability for automatic number identification and automatic location identification features.

(6) 'Enhanced ZIP code' means a United States postal ZIP code of 9 or more digits.

~~(4)~~(7) 'Exchange access facility' means the access from a particular telephone subscriber's premises to the telephone system of a service supplier. Exchange access facilities include service supplier provided access lines, PBX trunks, and Centrex network access registers, all as defined by tariffs of the telephone companies as approved by the Georgia Public Service Commission. Exchange access facilities do not include service supplier owned and operated telephone pay station lines, Wide Area Telecommunications Services (WATS), Foreign Exchange (FX), or incoming only lines.

(8) 'FIPS' means the Federal Information Processing Standard (FIPS) 55-3 or any future enhancement.www.fips.gov

(5)(9) 'Local government' means any city, county, military base, or political subdivision of Georgia and its agencies.

(10) 'Mobile telecommunications service' means commercial mobile radio service, as such term is defined in 47 C.F.R. Section 20.3 as in effect on June 1, 1999, or as subsequently amended.

Such reduction in the '911' 9-1-1 or wireless enhanced '911' 9-1-1 charge shall be in an amount which will avert the accumulation of revenues in such fund at the end of the fiscal year which will exceed by one and one-half times the amount of revenues in the fund at the end of the immediately preceding fiscal year. Funds in the Wireless Phase I Reserve Account and the Wireless Phase II Account shall not be considered in making the calculations described in this paragraph.

(e) A wireless service supplier may recover its costs expended on the implementation and provision of wireless enhanced 9-1-1 services to subscribers in an amount not to exceed 30¢ of each 9-1-1 charge collected from a place of primary use that is within the geographic area that is served by the local government or would be served by the local government for the purpose of such emergency 9-1-1 system. Such cost recovery amount shall be based on the actual cost incurred by the wireless service supplier in providing wireless enhanced 9-1-1 services. Disputes arising from the collection of such cost recovery fees shall be heard by the 9-1-1 Advisory Committee as provided in Code Section 46-5-124 and as further provided in subsection (d) of Code Section 46-5-123. ~~(h)~~(j) In order to provide additional funding for the local government for emergency '911' 9-1-1 system purposes, the local government may receive federal, state, municipal, or private funds which shall be expended for the purposes of this part.

~~(i)~~(k) Subject to the provisions of Code Section 46-5-133, a telephone subscriber may be billed for the monthly '911' 9-1-1 or wireless enhanced '911' 9-1-1 charge for up to 18 months in advance of the date on which the '911' 9-1-1 service becomes fully operational.

~~(j)~~(l) In the event the local government is a federal military base providing emergency services to local exchange telephone subscribers residing on the base, a local exchange telephone service supplier is authorized to apply the '911' 9-1-1 charges collected to the bill for '911' 9-1-1 service rather than remit the funds to an Emergency Telephone System Fund.

(m)(1) Any local government collecting or expending any 9-1-1 charges or wireless enhanced 9-1-1 charges in any fiscal year beginning on or after July 1, 2005, shall file an annual report of its collections and expenditures in conjunction with the annual audit required under Code Section 36-81-7. The form shall be designed by the state auditor and shall be distributed to local governments administering such funds. The annual report shall require certification by the recipient local government and by the local government auditor that funds were expended in compliance with the expenditure requirements of this Code section.

(2) Any local government which makes expenditures not in compliance with this Code section may be held liable for pro rata reimbursement to telephone and wireless telecommunications subscribers of amounts improperly expended. Such liability may be established in judicial proceedings by any aggrieved party. The noncompliant local government shall be solely financially responsible for the reimbursement and for any costs associated with the reimbursement. Such reimbursement shall be accomplished by the service providers abating the imposition of the 9-1-1 charges and 9-1-1 wireless enhanced charges until such abatement equals the total amount of the rebate.

(a) This Code section shall apply in counties where the governing authorities of more than one local government have adopted a resolution to impose a wireless enhanced '911' 9-1-1 charge in accordance with the provisions of subsection (a) of Code Section 46-5-133 and notwithstanding any contrary provision of Code Section 46-5-133 or 46-5-134.

(b) A wireless service supplier may certify to any of the governing authorities described in subsection (a) of this Code section that the wireless service supplier is unable to determine whether the billing addresses of its subscribers are within the geographic area that is served by such local government. Upon such certification, the wireless service supplier shall be authorized to collect the wireless enhanced '911' 9-1-1 charge from any of its subscribers whose billing address is within the county and is within an area that is as close as reasonably possible to the geographic area that is served by such local government. The wireless service supplier shall notify such subscribers that if such subscriber's billing address is not within the geographic area served by such local government, such subscriber is not obligated to pay the wireless enhanced '911' 9-1-1 charge.

(c) Unless otherwise provided in an agreement among the governing authorities described in subsection (a) of this Code section, the charges collected by a wireless service supplier pursuant to this Code section shall be remitted to such governing authorities based upon the number of calls from wireless telecommunications connections that each such individual local government receives and counts relative to the total number of calls from wireless telecommunications connections that are received and counted by all of such local governments.

(d) The authority granted to a wireless service supplier pursuant to this Code section shall terminate (1) on the date that the wireless service supplier certifies to a governing authority described in subsection (a) of this Code section that the wireless service supplier is able to determine whether the billing addresses of its subscribers are within the geographic area that is served by such governing authority or (2) on the date which is 180 days from the date that any of its subscribers were first billed under this Code section, whichever is earlier. Upon termination of such authority, the wireless service supplier shall collect the wireless enhanced '911' 9-1-1 charge as provided in Code Section 46-5-134.

A service supplier, including any telephone company and its employees, directors, officers, and agents, is not liable for any damages in a civil action for injuries, death, or loss to persons or property incurred by any person as a result of any act or omission of a service supplier or any of its employees, directors, officers, or agents, except for willful or wanton misconduct, either in connection with developing, adopting, implementing, maintaining, or operating any emergency '911' 9-1-1 system or in the identification of the telephone number, address, or name associated with any person accessing an emergency '911' 9-1-1 system.

(a) The governing authority of a local government by resolution shall create an advisory board consisting of the sheriff, representatives from other public safety agencies which respond to emergency calls under the system, and other individuals knowledgeable of emergency '911' 9-1-1 systems and the emergency needs of the citizens of the local government, provided that such advisory board shall not exceed 13 members.

(b) The advisory board shall assist the local government in:

- (1) Reviewing and analyzing the progress by public safety agencies in developing '911' 9-1-1 system requirements;
- (2) Recommending steps of action to effect the necessary coordination, regulation, and development of a '911' 9-1-1 system;

(4) Assisting in the promulgation of necessary rules, regulations, operating procedures, schedules, and other such policy and administrative devices as shall be deemed necessary and appropriate; and

(5) Providing other services as may be deemed appropriate by the local government.

(c) The members of the advisory board shall not be compensated from moneys deposited into the Emergency Telephone System Fund.

46-5-137

This part shall not be construed as affecting the jurisdiction or powers of the Public Service Commission to establish rates, charges, or tariffs.

46-5-138.

(a)(1) By proper resolution of the local governing bodies, an authority may be created and activated by:

(A) Any two or more municipal corporations;

(B) Any two or more counties; or

(C) One or more municipal corporations and one or more counties.

(2) The resolutions creating and activating a joint authority shall specify the number of members of the authority, the number to be appointed by each participating county or municipal corporation, their terms of office, and their residency requirements.

(3) The resolutions creating and activating joint authorities may be amended by appropriate concurrent resolutions of the participating governing bodies.

(b) The public authority shall be authorized to contract with the counties or municipalities which formed the authority to operate an emergency ~~'911'~~ 9-1-1 system for such local governments throughout the corporate boundaries of such local governments. Pursuant to such contracts, the local governments shall be authorized to provide funding to the authority from the Emergency Telephone System Fund, including the Wireless Phase I and Phase II Reserve Accounts, maintained by each local government. No authority shall be formed until each local government forming the authority has imposed a monthly ~~'911'~~ 9-1-1 charge or a monthly wireless enhanced ~~'911'~~ 9-1-1 charge.

(c) Each authority shall have all of the powers necessary or convenient to carry out and effectuate the purposes and provisions of this part, including, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the power:

(1) To bring and defend actions;

(2) To adopt and amend a corporate seal;

(3) To make and execute contracts and other instruments necessary to exercise the powers of the authority;

(4) To receive and administer gifts, grants, and devises of any property;

(5) To operate emergency call answering services for law enforcement, emergency management, fire, and emergency medical service agencies 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year;

- (6) To acquire, by purchase, gift, or construction, any real or personal property desired to be acquired to operate the emergency '911' 9-1-1 system;

- (8) To mortgage, convey, pledge, or assign any properties, revenues, income, tolls, charges, or fees owned or received by the authority.
- (d) The authority shall elect a chairperson and such other officers as deemed necessary by the authority. The authority shall select a director who shall be responsible for establishing operating standards and procedures and overseeing the operations of the emergency '911' 9-1-1 system. The director may be an employee working in the operation of the emergency '911' 9-1-1 system. The authority shall be responsible for hiring, training, supervising, and disciplining employees working in the operation of the emergency '911' 9-1-1 system. An appropriate number of full-time and part-time employees shall be hired to operate the emergency '911' 9-1-1 system. The authority shall determine the compensation of such employees and shall be authorized to provide other employee benefits. The authority shall submit its annual budget and a report of its financial records to the local governments which created the authority.
- (e) The authority may contract with a service supplier in the same manner that local governments are so authorized under the provisions of this part.
- (f) Notwithstanding subsection (i) of Code Section 46-5-134, if the joint authority and each local governing body activating the joint authority certify to the service provider in writing prior to the end of the 18 month period in advance of the date on which the '911' 9-1-1 service was to have become fully operational that the system cannot be placed in operation on the date originally projected but that all parties are proceeding in a diligent and timely fashion to implement such service, the service provider shall continue to collect the monthly '911' 9-1-1 charge for an additional period of 18 months or until the '911' 9-1-1 service becomes fully operational, whichever occurs first.

- (a) Notwithstanding any provision of paragraph (1) of subsection (a) of Code Section 46-5-134 to the contrary, where two or more counties, none of which offers emergency '911' 9-1-1 services on May 1, 1998, and any participating municipalities within such counties, if any, agree by intergovernmental contract to initiate or contract for the joint operation of an emergency '911' 9-1-1 system for the first time after May 1, 1998, such local governments may impose a monthly '911' 9-1-1 charge which exceeds $1.50 per exchange access facility but only so long as the following procedure is followed:
- (1) The participating local governments shall, with input from a local exchange service supplier, prepare an estimated budget for the implementation of the joint emergency '911' 9-1-1 system with costs limited to items eligible for funding through the Emergency Telephone System Fund;
 - (2) An estimate of the revenue to be generated by the '911' 9-1-1 charge authorized by paragraph (1) of subsection (a) of Code Section 46-5-134 during the first 18 months of collection shall be prepared;

(3) If the total amount necessary for implementation of the emergency '911' 9-1-1 system in ~~paragraph (1)~~ of this subsection exceeds the estimated revenue from imposition of the '911' 9-1-1 charge specified in paragraph (2) of this subsection, the monthly '911' 9-1-1 charge per exchange access facility may be increased on a pro rata basis during the first 18 months of collection to the extent necessary to provide revenue sufficient to pay the amount specified in paragraph (1) of this subsection, but in no case shall such monthly charge be greater than $2.50 per exchange access facility. Notwithstanding subsection (i) of Code Section 46-5-134, if each local governing body which is a party to an intergovernmental contract certifies to the service provider in writing prior to the end of the 18 month period in advance of the date on which the '911' 9-1-1 service was to have become fully operational that the system cannot be placed in operation on the date originally projected but that all parties are proceeding in a diligent and timely fashion to implement such service, the service provider shall continue to collect the monthly '911' 9-1-1 charge for an additional period of 18 months or until the '911' 9-1-1 service becomes fully operational, whichever occurs first; and

(4) Such local governments comply with the requirements of Code Section 46-5-133 which relate to the imposition of a monthly '911' 9-1-1 charge.

Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to authorize the imposition of any charge upon a wireless telecommunications connection. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the requirements of Code Section 46-5-134 which relate to monthly '911' 9-1-1 charges on exchange access facilities shall apply to charges imposed pursuant to this subsection.

(b) The increased monthly '911' 9-1-1 charge authorized by subsection (a) of this Code section shall also be available to any joint '911' 9-1-1 authority created pursuant to Code Section 46-5-138 after May 1, 1998.

~~46-5-139.~~

Such joint study committee shall make any recommendations it considers appropriate to the General Assembly no later than December 31, 2002. The General Assembly may implement the provisions of this Code section by appropriate resolution."~~

SECTION 10.

Part 1 of Article 1 of Chapter 8 of Title 48 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to general provisions relative to sales and use tax, is amended by striking in its entirety Code Section 48-8-13, relating to taxing jurisdictions for mobile telecommunications services, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"48-8-13.

(a) For purposes of this Code section, the terms and corresponding definitions set forth in 4 U.S.C. Section 124 shall apply. In addition, as used in this Code section, the term:

(1) 'Enhanced ZIP code' means a United States postal ZIP code of 9 or more digits.

(2) 'Fee' shall include, without limitation, any emergency 9-1-1 charge imposed pursuant to Part 4 of Article 2 of Chapter 5 of Title 46.

(3) 'FIPS' means the Federal Information Processing Standard (FIPS) 55-3 or any future enhancement.

(4) 'Home service provider' means the facilities based carrier or reseller with which the customer contracts for the provision of mobile telecommunications services.

(5) 'Mobile telecommunications service' means commercial mobile radio service, as such term is defined in 47 C.F.R. Section 20.3 as in effect on June 1, 1999, or as subsequently amended.

(6) 'Place of primary use' means the street address representative of where the customer's use of the mobile telecommunications service primarily occurs, which must be the residential street address or the primary business street address of the customer. At such time as the state certifies a master street address data base covering all or a portion of the state, addresses within the area so covered shall be identified by FIPS code. If the state has not designated such a data base, a home service provider desiring to be held harmless from any tax, charge, or fee liability under the provisions of 4 U.S.C. Section 120 shall employ an enhanced ZIP code to assign each street address to a specific taxing jurisdiction for each level of taxing jurisdiction and exercise due diligence at each level of taxing jurisdiction to ensure that each such street address is assigned to the correct taxing jurisdiction. If an enhanced ZIP code overlaps boundaries of taxing jurisdictions of the same level, the home service provider shall designate one specific jurisdiction within such enhanced ZIP code for use in taxing the activity for such enhanced ZIP code for each level of taxing jurisdiction.

(7) 'Taxing jurisdiction' means the state or any municipality or county.

(b) Subject to the provisions of 4 U.S.C. Section 116(c), the tax levied by this chapter shall apply only to those charges for mobile telecommunications services subject to tax that are deemed to be provided to a customer by a home service provider pursuant to 4 U.S.C. Section 117(a) if the customer's place of primary use is located within this state, regardless of where the mobile telecommunications services originate, terminate, or pass through.

(c) If a customer believes that an amount of tax, charge, or fee or an assignment of place of primary use or taxing jurisdiction included on a bill under the provisions of this Code section is erroneous, the customer shall notify the home service provider in writing to the address provided as required by subsection (g) of this Code section. The customer shall include in this written notification the street address for the customer's place of primary use, the account name and number for which the customer seeks a correction, a description of the error asserted by the customer, and any other information that the home service provider reasonably requires to process the request. Within 60 days of receiving a notice under this subsection, the home service provider shall review its records to determine the customer's taxing jurisdiction. If this review shows that the amount of tax, charge, or fee or assignment of place of primary use or taxing jurisdiction is in error, the home service provider shall correct the error and refund or credit the amount of tax, charge, or fee erroneously collected from the customer for a period of up to two years. If this review shows that the amount of tax, charge, or fee or assignment of place of primary use or taxing jurisdiction is correct, the home service provider shall provide a written explanation to the customer. The procedures in this subsection shall be the first course of remedy available to customers seeking correction of assignment of place of primary use or taxing jurisdiction or a refund of or other compensation for taxes, charges, or fees erroneously collected by the home service provider, and no cause of action based upon a dispute arising from such taxes, charges, or fees shall accrue until a customer has exhausted the remedies set forth in this subsection.

(d)(1) If a mobile telecommunications service is not subject to the tax levied by this chapter, and if the amount charged for such mobile telecommunications service is aggregated with and not separately stated from the amount paid or charged for any service that is subject to such tax, then the nontaxable mobile telecommunications service shall be treated as being subject to such tax unless the home service provider can reasonably identify the amount paid or charged for the mobile telecommunications service not subject to such tax from its books and records kept in the regular course of business.

(2) If a mobile telecommunications service is not subject to the tax levied by this chapter, a customer may not rely upon the nontaxability of such mobile telecommunications service unless the customer's home service provider separately states the amount charged for such nontaxable mobile telecommunications service or the home service provider elects, after receiving a written request from the customer in the form required by the provider, to provide verifiable data based upon the home service provider's books and records that are kept in the regular course of business that reasonably identify the amount charged for such nontaxable mobile telecommunications service.

(e)(1) A mobile telecommunications services provider who is obligated to remit or pay the tax levied by this chapter shall be held harmless from any liability, including tax, interest, and penalties, which would otherwise be due solely as a result of an assignment of a place of primary use to an incorrect jurisdiction, if the mobile telecommunications services provider satisfies the requirements of 4 U.S.C. Section 120(a).

(2)(A) The department may elect to provide an electronic data base that satisfies the requirements of 4 U.S.C. Section 119. If the department provides such data base, a home service provider using the data contained in such data base shall be held harmless from any liability, including tax, interest, and penalties, which would otherwise be due solely as a result of an assignment of a place of primary use to an incorrect local jurisdiction.

(B) Paragraph (1) of this subsection shall apply to a home service provider who is in compliance with the terms of such paragraph until the later of:

- (i) Eighteen months after the approval described in 4 U.S.C. Section 119(a); or
- (ii) Six months after the department provides an electronic data base that satisfies the requirements of 4 U.S.C. Section 119.

(3) A home service provider shall be responsible for obtaining and maintaining the customer's place of primary use. Subject to paragraph (5) of this subsection, if the home service provider's reliance on information provided by its customer is in good faith:

(A) The home service provider shall be entitled to rely on the applicable residential or business street address supplied by such customer; and

(B) The home service provider shall be held harmless from liability for any additional tax, including any related interest or penalties, which is based on a different determination of such customer's place of primary use.

(4) Except as provided in paragraph (5) of this subsection, a home service provider shall be allowed to treat the address used for purposes of the tax levied by this chapter for any customer under a service contract in effect on August 1, 2002, as that customer's place of primary use for the remaining term of such service contract or agreement, excluding any extension or renewal of such service contract or agreement.

(5)(A) If the department determines that the address used by a home service provider as a customer's place of primary use does not meet the definition of 'place of primary use,' the department shall notify such customer of such determination and provide such customer an opportunity to demonstrate that such address satisfies such definition.

(B) If the customer fails to demonstrate that the address meets the definition of such customer's place of primary use, the department shall provide the home service provider with the proper address to be used as such customer's place of primary use, and the home service provider shall begin using the address provided by the department as such customer's place of primary use in the next full billing period.

(6)(A) If the department determines that the assignment of a taxing jurisdiction by a home service provider does not reflect the correct taxing jurisdiction, the department shall notify the home service provider of such determination and provide such home service provider an opportunity to demonstrate that the assignment represents the correct taxing jurisdiction.

(B) If the home service provider fails to demonstrate that the assignment reflects the correct taxing jurisdiction, the department shall provide the home service provider with the correct taxing jurisdiction to be used, and the home service provider shall begin using the taxing jurisdiction provided by the department in the next full billing period.

(f) A home service provider shall identify each customer's place of primary use and shall provide at least quarterly a complete listing of the total number of customers to the Georgia Emergency Management Agency. The home service provider shall indicate in such report whether it is employing an enhanced ZIP Code to assign each street address to a specific taxing jurisdiction so as to qualify for the safe harbor provisions of 4 U.S.C. Section 120. Further, each home service provider shall, upon request, provide information showing the total number of billings and the amount of fees collected to any taxing jurisdiction as to the customers whose place of primary use is within the jurisdiction of such taxing jurisdiction; provided, however, that in no event shall customer identification be required to be released. Such information shall initially be made available not later than July 1, 2006.

(g) A home service provider shall clearly state on each customer bill or invoice the following information:

- (1) The taxing jurisdiction to which each tax and fee charged to the customer is paid and the amount paid to each taxing jurisdiction; provided, however, that such information shall initially be made available not later than July 1, 2006; and
- (2) An address, telephone number, or electronic method for the customer to send the notification required by subsection (c) of this Code section or otherwise."

SECTION 11.

Code Section 50-18-72 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to when public disclosure not required and disclosure of exempting legal authority, is amended by striking in its entirety paragraph (16) of subsection (a) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(16) Unless the request is made by the accused in a criminal case or by his or her attorney, public records of an emergency '911' 9-1-1 system, as defined in paragraph (3) of Code Section 46-5-122, containing information which would reveal the name, address, or telephone number of a person placing a call to a public safety answering point, which information may be redacted from such records if necessary to prevent the disclosure of the identity of a confidential source, to prevent disclosure of material which would endanger the life or physical safety of any person or persons, or to prevent the disclosure of the existence of a confidential surveillance or investigation; or"

SECTION 1.

Code Section 9-11-23 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to class actions, is amended by striking subsection (f), and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

~~"(f) The appropriate appellate court may in its discretion permit an appeal from an order of a trial court granting or denying class action certification under this Code section if application is made to it within ten days after entry of the order. An appeal does not stay proceedings in the trial court unless the trial judge or the appellate court so orders.~~

(1) After the commencement of an action in which claims or defenses are purported to be asserted on behalf of or against a class, the court shall hold a conference among all named parties to the action for the purpose of establishing a schedule for any discovery germane to the issue of whether the requested class should or should not be certified. At this conference, the court shall set a date for a hearing on the issue of class certification. Except for good cause shown, such hearing may not be set sooner than 90 days nor later than 180 days after the date on which the court issues its scheduling order pursuant to the conference. If evidence is presented by affidavit, the parties shall have an opportunity to cross-examine affiants as to such testimony offered by affidavit.

(2) Except for good cause shown, the court shall stay all discovery directed solely to the merits of the claims or defenses in the action until the court has issued its written decision regarding certification of the class.

(3) When deciding whether a requested class is to be certified, the court shall enter a written order addressing whether the factors required by this Code section for certification of a class have been met and specifying the findings of fact and conclusions of law on which the court has based its decision with regard to whether each such factor has been established. In so doing, the court may treat a factor as having been established if all parties to the action have so stipulated on the record.

(4) Nothing in this Code section shall affect, or be construed to affect, any provision of Code Section 9-11-12 or Code Section 9-11-56.

(g) A court's order certifying a class or refusing to certify a class shall be appealable in the same manner as a final order to the appellate court which would otherwise have jurisdiction over the appeal from a final order in the action. The appellate courts shall expedite resolution of any appeals taken under this Code section. Such appeal may only be filed within 30 days of the order certifying or refusing to certify the class. During the pendency of any such appeal, the action in the trial court shall be stayed in all respects."

SECTION 2.

This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval and shall apply to all cases pending on that effective date in which the trial court has not yet certified the case as a class action and to all cases filed on or after that effective date.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED AND ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA: cn

ARTICLE I

SECTION 1.

That the State of Georgia is the owner of the hereinafter described real property in Baldwin County, and the property is in the custody of the Department of Juvenile Justice, hereinafter referred to as the "easement area" and that, in all matters relating to the easement area, the State of Georgia is acting by and through its State Properties Commission.

SECTION 2.

That the State of Georgia, acting by and through its State Properties Commission, may grant to Alltel Communications, or its successors and assigns, a nonexclusive easement for the operation and maintenance of a telecommunications equipment site in, on, over, under, upon, across, or through the easement area for the purposes of maintaining, repairing, replacing, inspecting and operating a telecommunications equipment site together with the right of ingress and egress over adjacent land of the State of Georgia as may be reasonably necessary to accomplish the aforesaid purposes. Said easement area is located in the City of Milledgeville, Baldwin County, Georgia, and on the grounds of the Bill E. Ireland Youth Development Campus and is more particularly described as follows:

"That portion and that portion only as shown in yellow on a plat of survey dated February 20, 2004, prepared by James R. McDougald and on file in the offices of the State Properties Commission" and may be more particularly described by a plat of survey prepared by a Georgia Registered Land Surveyor and presented to the State Properties Commission for approval.

SECTION 3.

That the above-described premises shall be used solely for the purposes of installing, maintaining, repairing, replacing, inspecting, and operating said telecommunications equipment site.

SECTION 4.

That Alltel Communications shall have the right to remove or cause to be removed from said easement area only such trees and bushes as may be reasonably necessary for the proper operation and maintenance of said telecommunications equipment site.

SECTION 5.

That, after Alltel Telecommunications has put into use the telecommunications equipment site this easement is granted, a subsequent abandonment of the use thereof shall cause a reversion to the State of Georgia, or its successors and assigns, of all the rights, title, privileges, powers, and easement granted herein. Upon abandonment, Alltel Communications, or its successors and assigns, shall have the option of removing their facilities from the easement area or leaving the same in place, in which event the utility shall become the property of the State of Georgia or its successors and assigns.

SECTION 6.

That no title shall be conveyed to Alltel Communications and, except as herein specifically granted to Alltel Communications, all rights, title, and interest in and to said easement area are reserved to the State of Georgia, which may make any use of said easement area not inconsistent with or detrimental to the rights, privileges, and interest granted to Alltel Communications.

SECTION 7.

That if the State of Georgia, acting by and through its State Properties Commission, determines that any or all of the facilities placed on the easement area should be removed or relocated to an alternate site on state owned land in order to avoid interference with the state's use or intended use of the easement area, it may grant a substantially equivalent nonexclusive easement to allow placement of the removed or relocated facilities across the alternate site, under such terms and conditions as the State Properties Commission shall in its discretion determine to be in the best interests of the State of Georgia, and Alltel Communications shall remove or relocate its facilities to the alternate easement area at its sole cost and expense, unless the State Properties Commission determines that the requested removal or relocation is to be for the sole benefit of the State of Georgia and approves payment by the State of Georgia of all or a portion of such actual cost and expense, not to exceed by 20 percent the amount of a written estimate provided by Alltel Communications. Upon written request, the State Properties Commission, in its sole discretion, may permit the relocation of the facilities to an alternate site on state owned land so long as the removal and relocation is paid by the party or parties requesting such removal at no cost and expense to the State of Georgia.

SECTION 8.

Grantee shall obtain any and all other required permits from the appropriate governmental agencies as are necessary for its lawful use of the easement area or public highway right of way and comply with all applicable state and federal environmental statutes in its use of the easement area.

SECTION 9.

That the easement granted to Alltel Communications shall contain such other reasonable terms, conditions, and covenants as the State Properties Commission shall deem in the best interest of the State of Georgia and that the State Properties Commission is authorized to use a more accurate description of the easement area, so long as the description utilized by the State Properties Commission describes the same easement area herein granted.

SECTION 10.

That the consideration for such easement shall be for the fair market value, but not less than $650.00 and such further consideration and provisions as the State Properties Commission may determine to be in the best interests of the State of Georgia.

SECTION 12.

That the authorization in this resolution to grant the above-described easement to Alltel Communications shall expire three years after the date that this resolution becomes effective.

That if the State of Georgia, acting by and through its State Properties Commission, determines that any or all of the facilities placed on the easement area should be removed or relocated to an alternate site on state owned land in order to avoid interference with the state's use or intended use of the easement area, it may grant a substantially equivalent nonexclusive easement to allow placement of the removed or relocated facilities across the alternate site, under such terms and conditions as the State Properties Commission shall in its discretion determine to be in the best interests of the State of Georgia, and Victor M. Corral shall remove or relocate its facilities to the alternate easement area at its sole cost and expense, unless the State Properties Commission determines that the requested removal or relocation is to be for the sole benefit of the State of Georgia and approves payment by the State of Georgia of all or a portion of such actual cost and expense, not to exceed by 20 percent the amount of a written estimate provided by Victor M. Corral. Upon written request, the State Properties Commission, in its sole discretion, may permit the relocation of the facilities to an alternate site on state owned land so long as the removal and relocation is paid by the party or parties requesting such removal at no cost expense to the State of Georgia.

SECTION 21.

That this resolution does not affect and is not intended to affect any rights, powers, interest, or liability of the Department of Transportation with respect to the state highway system, of a county with respect to the county road system, or of a municipality with respect to the city street system. Grantee shall obtain any and all other required permits from the appropriate governmental agencies as are necessary for his lawful use of the easement area or public highway right of way and comply with all applicable state and federal environmental statutes in his use of the easement area.

SECTION 1.

Article 3 of Chapter 2 of Title 40 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to prestige license plates for motor vehicles, is amended by adding a new Code Section 40-2-86.10 to read as follows:

"40-2-86.10.

(a) There shall be issued beginning in 2006 special and distinctive vehicle license plates honoring families with a member serving in the military, subject to the conditions set forth in this Code section.

(b) The ~~commissioner shall~~ design special distinctive license plates to honor families with a member serving in the military. The license plates must be of the same size as general issue motor vehicle license plates and shall include a unique design and identifying number, whereby the total number of characters does not exceed six. No two recipients shall receive identically numbered plates. The license plate will contain the words 'Family Member Serving' in the space normally containing the county of issuance. Such design shall not provide space in which to indicate the name of the county of issuance. The graphic on the special license plate shall be placed to the left of the alphanumeric characters and shall be no larger than three inches by three inches.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Code section, this Code section shall not be implemented until such time as the State of Georgia has, through a licensing agreement or otherwise and at no cost to the state, received such licenses or other permissions as may be required for the use of any logo or as may otherwise be necessary or appropriate to implement this Code section. No royalty, license fee, or other moneys shall be paid to any organization or its licensor for the use by the state of such logo or design on license plates authorized by this Code section. The commissioner may charge fees, take other actions, and agree to or impose terms and conditions which might normally be envisioned in licensing and cross-licensing agreements for the use of designs and similar intellectual property. Without limitation, the commissioner may agree to allow to others the exclusive or nonexclusive use of the design of the special license plate. The design of the special license plate, excepting only any part of the design owned by others and licensed to the state, shall be owned solely by the State of Georgia for its exclusive use and control, except as authorized by the commissioner. The commissioner may take such steps as may be necessary to give notice of and protect such right, including the copyright. However, such steps shall be cumulative of the ownership and exclusive use and control established by this subsection as a matter of law and no person shall reproduce or otherwise use such design, except as authorized by the commissioner.

(d) Beginning in calendar year 2006, any qualified Georgia resident who is the owner of a motor vehicle, except a vehicle registered under the International Registration Plan, upon complying with the motor vehicle laws relating to registration and licensing of motor vehicles and upon the payment of a manufacturing fee of $25.00 in addition to the regular motor vehicle registration fee shall be issued a license plate honoring families with a member serving in the military. Revalidation decals shall be issued for such license plates in the same manner as provided for general issue license plates.

(e) An applicant may request a license plate identifying him or her as a person who has a family member serving in the military at any time during the applicant's registration period. If such a license plate is to replace a current valid license plate, such license plate shall be issued with appropriate decals attached.

(f) No special license plate authorized pursuant to this Code section shall be issued except upon the receipt by the department of at least 1,000 applications. The special license plate shall have an application period of two years after July 1, 2005, for payment of the manufacturing fee. After such time if the minimum number of applications is not met, the department shall not continue to accept the manufacturing fee, and all fees shall be refunded to applicants.

(g) The department shall not be required to continue to manufacture the special license plate if the number of active registrations falls below 500 registrations at any time during the five-year period as provided in subsection (b) of Code Section 40-2-31. A current registrant may continue to renew such special license plate during his or her annual registration period upon payment of an additional $25.00 annual special tag fee which fee shall be collected by the county tag agent at the time of collection of other registration fees and shall be remitted to the state as provided in Code Section 40-2-34. The department may continue to issue such special license plates that it has in its inventory to assist in achieving the minimum number of registrations. If the special license plate falls below 500 active registrations at any time during the five-year period as provided in subsection (b) of Code Section 40-2-31, the department must receive 1,000 applications accompanied by the manufacturing fee to continue to manufacture the license plate.

(h) License plates honoring families with a member serving in the military shall be transferred from one vehicle to another vehicle in accordance with the provisions of Code Section 40-2-80.

(i) License plates honoring families with a member serving in the military shall be issued within 30 days of application once the requirements of this Code section have been met.

(j) The funds derived from the sale of license plates honoring families with a member serving in the military, less a $1.00 processing fee, which shall be granted to county tag offices per plate sold, and less the actual manufacturing cost of the plates, shall be deposited in the general fund of the state treasury. As soon as practicable after December 31 of each year, the commissioner shall report the net amount derived from the sale of such license plates to the Office of Planning and Budget and the Department of Veterans Service. It is the intent of the General Assembly that the General Assembly appropriate an amount equal to the net proceeds from the sale of such license plates to the Department of Veterans Service for use by the National Guard Foundation in carrying out such programs and purposes as may be contractually agreed upon by the department and the foundation."

This Act shall become effective on July 1, 2005.

The department may continue to issue such special license plates that it has in its inventory to assist in achieving the minimum number of registrations. If the special license plate falls below 500 active registrations at any time during the five-year period as provided in subsection (b) of Code Section 40-2-31, the department must receive 1,000 applications accompanied by the manufacturing fee to continue to manufacture the license plate.

(h) License plates identifying persons who support Georgia troops shall be transferred from one vehicle to another vehicle in accordance with the provisions of Code Section 40-2-80.

(i) License plates identifying persons who support Georgia troops shall be issued within 30 days of application once the requirements of this Code section have been met.

(j) The funds derived from the sale of license plates identifying persons supporting Georgia troops, less a $1.00 processing fee, which shall be granted to county tag offices per plate sold, and less the actual manufacturing cost of the plates, shall be deposited in the general fund of the state treasury. As soon as practicable after December 31 of each year, the commissioner shall report the net amount derived from the sale of such license plates to the Office of Planning and Budget and the Department of Veterans Service. It is the intent of the General Assembly that the General Assembly appropriate an amount equal to the net proceeds from the sale of such license plates to the Department of Veterans Service for use by the National Guard Foundation in carrying out such programs and purposes as may be contractually agreed upon by the department and the foundation."

33-59-1.

This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the 'Small Business Employee Choice of Benefits Health Insurance Plan Act.'

33-59-2.

The General Assembly recognizes the need for employers and individuals in this state to have the opportunity to choose among group and individual health insurance plans that are more affordable and flexible than standard market policies of accident and sickness insurance and the need to increase the availability of health insurance coverage by authorizing the transaction of this type of plan or policy by accident and sickness insurers licensed to transact business in this state. This chapter shall require insurers which provide major medical coverage to offer policies that contain all state mandated health benefits as well as policies that contain the limited selection of state mandated health benefits set forth in Code Section 33-59-3; provided, however, that, on and after July 1, 2005, employees in group plans or individuals may choose pursuant to this chapter among new health insurance plans offered by insurers that either include all state mandated health benefits or include the limited state mandated health benefits set forth in Code Section 33-59-3.

As used in this chapter, the term:

(1) 'Alternative health benefit plan' means a group or individual health benefit plan that contains:

(A) Major medical benefits;

(B) Standard provisions or rights required to be present in an individual, blanket, or group policy or contract for accident and sickness insurance pursuant to state law or regulations unrelated to specific health illnesses, injuries, or conditions of the insured, including, but not limited to, those related to continuation of coverage in Code Section 33-24-21.1, Code Section 33-24-21.2, paragraph (4) of Code Section 33-30-4, and paragraph (8) of subsection (b) of Code Section 33-30-6; entitlement to conversion privileges in Code Section 33-24-21.1; termination of coverage in Code Sections 33-24-21 and 33-24-28; and coverage of newly born or adopted children in Code Section 33-24-22; and

(C) Coverage of testing for chlamydia in Code Section 31-17-4.1; coverage for complications of pregnancy in Code Section 33-24-24; coverage for general anesthesia and related hospital and outpatient facility charges for dental care for persons who are developmentally disabled, seven or younger, neurologically impaired, or suffering severe face or head trauma in Code Section 33-24-28.4; surveillance tests for ovarian cancer in Code Section 33-24-56.2; colorectal cancer screening and testing in Code Section 33-24-56.3; coverage for hospital stays after delivery in Code Section 33-24-58.2; direct access to obstetricians and gynecologists in Code Section 33-24-59; treatment of dependent children with cancer in Code Section 33-24-59.1, coverage for equipment and self-management training for individuals with diabetes in Code Section 33-24-59.2; coverage for prescribed female contraceptive drugs or devices in Code Section 33-24-59.6, provided that nothing contained in this paragraph shall be construed to require any insurance company to provide coverage for abortion; coverage for prescription inhalers in Code Section 33-24-59.8; coverage for autism in Code Section 33-24-59.10; coverage for mastectomy and lymph node dissection in Code Section 33-24-72; coverage for mammograms, pap smears, and screening for prostate cancer in Code Sections 33-29-3.2 and 33-30-4.2; provisions concerning mail-order pharmaceuticals in Code Section 33-30-4.3; and coverage for child wellness exams in Code Sections ~~33-29-3.4~~ and 33-30-4.5.

- (2) 'Group' means any employer group of 50 employees or less.
- (3) 'Insurer' means any insurer or nonprofit organization authorized to sell accident and sickness policies, subscriber contracts, certificates, or agreements of any form under Chapters 15, 18, 19, 20, 21, 29, and 30 of this title.

- (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law and on and after July 1, 2005:
 - (1) Any insurer authorized to transact business in this state offering group accident and sickness policies or contracts shall be required to offer, through a licensed agent or agency, a group health benefit plan that contains all state mandated health benefits and may offer a group alternative health benefit plan as defined in this chapter; and
 - (2) Any insurer authorized to transact business in this state offering individual accident and sickness policies or contracts shall be required to offer, through a licensed agent or agency, an individual health benefit plan that contains all state mandated health benefits and may offer an individual alternative health benefit plan as defined in this chapter.
- (b) On and after July 1, 2005, an employer who chooses to offer group health benefit plans to its employees shall offer to each eligible employee a group health benefit plan that contains all state mandated health benefits and may offer to each eligible employee a group alternative health benefit plan as defined in this chapter.
- (c) The provisions of Chapter 21 of this title shall not be deemed to prohibit licensees thereunder from selling the policies provided for in this Code section.
- (d) The purchase of an accident and sickness policy or contract under this Code section shall not preclude the purchaser from purchasing additional limited benefit insurance policies or contracts.

33-59-5.

- (a) In each sale of an alternative health benefit plan, the insurer shall provide to each proposed individual group member or individual policyholder a notice and an acknowledgment at the beginning of the application for the alternative health benefit plan containing the following language in boldface type:

'You have the option to choose this Small Business Employee Choice of Benefits Health Insurance Plan which does not provide all of the state mandated health benefits normally required in accident and sickness insurance policies in Georgia. This health benefits plan may provide a more affordable health insurance policy for you, although, at the same time, it may provide you with fewer health benefits than those normally included as state mandated health benefits in policies in Georgia. If you choose this option, please consult with your insurance agent to discover which state mandated health benefits are excluded in this policy.'

- (b) An acknowledgment separate from the notice and application provided for in subsection (a) of this Code section shall be provided to and completed by each individual policyholder or individual group member. Such acknowledgment shall contain a comparison of the benefits contained in each of the health benefit plan options being offered to the individual policyholder or individual group member. The Commissioner shall promulgate such rules and regulations as he or she deems necessary to implement this subsection including rules and regulations concerning the form and contents of such acknowledgment. In the case of group health benefit plans being offered by an employer, a copy of the acknowledgment for each individual group member shall be maintained by the employer.

The Commissioner of Insurance may promulgate rules and regulations as necessary to implement the provisions of this chapter and specify the information to be contained on the forms supplied by insurers of these policies and contracts to individual group members and policyholders."

SECTION 2.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.

Education Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, as they exist immediately prior to January 1, 2006, shall continue to be designated as Education Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, respectively, but as newly described under this Act, and on and after January 1, 2006, such members of the board serving from those former education districts shall be deemed to be serving from and representing their respective districts as newly described under this Act.

The Evaluation Committee shall employ such experts as needed in the performance of its duties and charge the expenses incurred by it to such funds made available to the department for such purposes.

(3) 'Letter of intent to negotiate' means the written statement of mutual intent by the department and the proposer for a public-private initiative to develop and implement a course of negotiation, within a substantive framework, which if successfully completed could lead to a binding contractual agreement to accomplish a proposed transportation system project.

(C) Cooperation in researching, developing, and implementing transportation system projects or services.

(6) 'Solicited proposal' means a written proposal for a public-private initiative that is submitted by a private entity for the purpose of entering into an agreement with the department concerning a transportation system project in response to a formal solicitation or notification issued by the department. A solicited proposal may be made as a competing proposal or comparable proposal to an unsolicited proposal.

~~(5)~~(8) 'Unsolicited proposal' means a written proposal for a public-private initiative that is submitted by a private entity for the purpose of entering into an agreement with the department concerning a transportation system project but that is not in response to a formal solicitation or request issued by the department."

Unique or innovative features which may be considered by the department in evaluating such a proposal may include but not be limited to unique or innovative financing, construction, design, or other components as compared with other projects or as otherwise defined by department rules or regulations;

(d) If the unsolicited proposal does not comply with the requirements of subsection (b) of this Code section, the department shall return the proposal without further action. In taking such action, the department shall not disclose either the originality of the research or any proprietary information associated with the proposal to any other person or entity. If the unsolicited proposal complies with all the requirements of subsection (b) of this Code section, the department may further evaluate the proposal pursuant to this Code section.

(e) Within 30 days of receipt of an unsolicited proposal that meets the requirements of subsection (b) of this Code section, the department shall provide public notice of the proposed project. This notice shall:

Any letter of intent received by the department after the expiration of the ~~30~~

45 day period or without any fee required by the department shall not be valid, and any competing ~~proposal~~ ~~submitted~~ thereafter by a person or entity who has not submitted a timely letter of intent shall not be considered by the department and shall be returned to the person or entity who did not submit a letter of intent by the deadline. For those persons or entities who elect to submit a competing proposal and submit a timely letter of intent with the department, any such competing proposal shall be submitted to the department by no later than ~~90~~ 135 days after the department's initial publication of the notice required by this Code section. Only those competing, compliant proposals submitted by such deadline shall be considered by the department.

(g) Upon receipt of a proposal properly submitted in response to the notice described in subsection (e) of this Code section which fully meets the requirements of subsection (b) of this Code section, the department shall:

(1) Determine, in its discretion, if any submitted proposal is comparable in nature and scope to the ~~unsolicited~~ original proposal and whether it warrants further evaluation;

(2) Evaluate the original proposal and any comparable proposal and make a recommendation to the Evaluation Committee on whether to move forward with a letter of intent to negotiate; and

(3) Conduct good faith discussions and, if necessary, ~~negotiation~~ negotiations concerning each ~~comparable~~ qualified proposal.

(h) The department shall base its evaluation of the ~~unsolicited~~ original proposal or comparable proposals on the following factors:

(i) Once the department has concluded its evaluation of the ~~unsolicited~~ original proposal and any comparable proposals or a solicited proposal where applicable, the department shall transmit its findings and research to the Evaluation Committee for further review. Once the Evaluation Committee has concluded its review and makes its recommendation to the department, the department may execute a ~~commitment agreement~~ letter of intent to negotiate with the entity submitting the most desirable proposal as determined by the department's evaluation process. At least two weeks prior to approval of any project, the department shall present to the Governor and the House and Senate transportation committees a report with respect to the proposed ~~commitment agreement~~ letter of intent to negotiate. Such ~~commitment agreement~~ letter of intent to negotiate shall indicate the department's ~~commitment~~ willingness to undertake a public-private initiative ~~to execute~~

- (1) Should provide public notice that the department will receive public comment with respect to such proposal. The notice shall:

- (l) In taking the actions required by subsections (e) and (k) of this Code section, the department shall not disclose either the originality of the research or any proprietary information associated with the proposal as listed by the proposer required by paragraph (3) of subsection (b) of this Code section.
- (m) Except as provided under subparagraph (b)(3)(A) of this Code section, the ~~The~~ provisions of Code ~~Section~~ Sections 50-14-1 and 50-18-70 to the contrary notwithstanding, no proposal shall become a 'public record' nor be subject to disclosure as such until ~~such time as a commitment agreement has been signed and notice of~~ Proposers should familiarize themselves with the provisions of the Act to ensure that all documents identified as confidential will not be subject to disclosure under the Open Records Act; provided, however, that the department in consultation with the Department of Law shall make the final determination of whether or not the requested materials are exempt from disclosure. In the event that the department elects to disclose the requested material, it shall attempt to provide the proposer advance notice of its intent to disclose.

(n) The power of eminent domain shall not be delegated to any private entity under any public-private initiative commenced or proposed pursuant to this chapter.

(o) The department or the department's designee has the authority to make the determination and take the actions required by this Code section.

(b) The commission is given the authority and charged with the duty of managing the utilization of administrative space by all state entities, except that the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia and the Georgia Department of Labor may manage their own space but only for leases that are within the State of Georgia and required for their core mission. By inserting a new section immediately following line 34 of page 37 to read as follows:

Said Title is further amended by striking Code Section 19-10-1. relating to abandonment of dependent child, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(a) A child abandoned by its father or mother shall be considered to be in a dependent condition when the father or mother does not furnish sufficient food, clothing, or shelter or does not pay child support as ordered by a court for the needs of the child.

(b) If any father or mother willfully and voluntarily abandons his or her child, either legitimate or born out of wedlock, leaving it in a dependent condition, he or she shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Moreover, if any father or mother willfully and voluntarily abandons his or her child, either legitimate or born out of wedlock, leaving it in a dependent condition, and leaves this state or if any father or mother willfully and voluntarily abandons his or her child, either legitimate or born out of wedlock, leaving it in a dependent condition, after leaving this state, he or she shall be guilty of a felony punishable by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than three years. The felony shall be reducible to a misdemeanor. Any person, upon conviction of the third offense for violating this Code section, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be imprisoned for not less than one nor more than three years. The felony shall not be reducible to a misdemeanor. Any person, upon conviction of the second offense for violating this Code section, shall be guilty of a high and aggravated misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine for not less than $500.00 nor more than $1,000.00. Any person, upon conviction of the third offense for violating this Code section, shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned for not less than one nor more than three years, and shall be subject to a fine for not less than $1,000.00 nor more than $3,000.00, which felony shall be reducible to a misdemeanor. Any person, upon conviction of the fourth or subsequent offense for violating this Code section, shall be guilty of a felony, shall be imprisoned for not less than three nor more than five years, and shall be subject to a fine for not less than $1,000.00 nor more than $5,000.00. The husband and wife shall be competent witnesses in such cases to testify for or against the other.

(c) The offense of abandonment is a continuing offense. Except as provided in subsection (i) of this Code section, former acquittal or conviction of the offense shall not be a bar to further prosecution therefor under this Code section, if it is made to appear that the child in question was in a dependent condition, as defined in this Code section, for a period of 30 days prior to the commencement of prosecution.

(d) In prosecutions under this Code section when the child is born out of wedlock, the venue of the offense shall be in the county in which the child and the mother are domiciled at the time of the swearing out of the arrest warrant; but, if the child and the mother are domiciled in different counties, venue shall be in the county in which the child is domiciled.

(e) Upon the trial of an accused father or mother under this Code section, it shall be no defense that the accused father or mother has never supported the child.

(f) In the trial of any abandonment proceeding in which the question of parentage arises, regardless of any presumptions with respect to parentage, the accused father may request a paternity blood test and agree and arrange to pay for same; and in such cases the court before which the matter is brought, upon pretrial motion of the defendant, shall order that the alleged parent, the known natural parent, and the child submit to any blood tests and comparisons which have been developed and adapted for purposes of establishing or disproving parentage and which are reasonably accessible to the alleged parent, the known natural parent, and the child. The results of those blood tests and comparisons, including the statistical likelihood of the alleged parent's parentage, if available, shall be admitted in evidence when offered by a duly qualified, licensed practicing physician, duly qualified immunologist, duly qualified geneticist, or other duly qualified person. Upon receipt of a motion and the entry of an order under this subsection, the court shall proceed as follows:

(1) Where the issue of parentage is to be decided by a jury, where the results of those blood tests and comparisons are not shown to be inconsistent with the results of any other blood tests and comparisons, and where the results of those blood tests and comparisons indicate that the alleged parent cannot be the natural parent of the child, the jury shall be instructed that if they believe that the witness presenting the results testified truthfully as to those results and if they believe that the tests and comparisons were conducted properly, then it will be their duty to decide that the alleged parent is not the natural parent;

(2) The court shall require the defendant requesting the blood tests and comparisons pursuant to this subsection to be initially responsible for any of the expenses thereof. Upon the ~~entry of a verdict~~ incorporating a finding of parentage or nonparentage, the court shall tax the expenses for blood tests and comparisons, in addition to any fees for expert witnesses whose testimonies supported the admissibility thereof, as costs.

(g) In prosecutions under this Code section, when the child is born out of wedlock and the accused father is convicted, the father may be required by the court to pay the reasonable medical expenses paid by or incurred on behalf of the mother due to the birth of the child. (h) The accused father and the mother of a child born out of wedlock may enter into a written agreement providing for future support of the child by regular periodic payments to the mother until the child reaches the age of 18 years, marries, or becomes self-supporting; provided, however, that the agreement shall not be binding on either party until it has been approved by the court having jurisdiction to try the pending case.

(i) If, during the trial of any person charged with the offense of abandonment as defined in this Code section, the person contends that he or she is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, in a jury trial the trial judge shall charge the jury that if its verdict is for the acquittal of the person and its reason for so finding is that the person is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, then its verdict shall so state. In a trial before the court without the intervention of the jury, if the court renders a verdict of acquittal based on the contention of the person that he or she is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, the trial judge shall so state this fact in his verdict of acquittal. Where the verdict of the jury or the court is for acquittal of a person on the grounds that the person is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, the person cannot thereafter again be tried for the offense of abandoning the child, and the verdict of acquittal shall be a bar to all civil and criminal proceedings attempting to compel the person to support the child.

(j)(1) In a prosecution for and conviction of the offense of abandonment, the trial court may suspend the service of the sentence imposed in the case, upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe for the support, by the defendant, of the child or children abandoned during the minority of the child or children. Service of the sentence, when so suspended, shall not begin unless and until ordered by the court having jurisdiction thereof, after a hearing as in cases of revocation or probated sentences, because of the failure or refusal of the defendant to comply with the terms and conditions upon which service of a sentence was suspended.

(2) Service of any sentence suspended in abandonment cases may be ordered by the court having jurisdiction thereof at any time before the child or children reach the age of majority, after a hearing as provided in paragraph (1) of this subsection and a finding by the court that the defendant has failed or refused to comply with the terms and conditions upon which service of the sentence was suspended by the court having jurisdiction thereof.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, in abandonment cases where the suspension of sentence has been revoked and the defendant is serving the sentence, the court may thereafter again suspend the service of sentence under the same terms and conditions as the original suspension. The sentence shall not be considered probated and the defendant shall not be on probation, but the defendant shall again be under a suspended sentence. However, the combined time of incarceration of the defendant during the periods of revocation of suspended sentences shall not exceed the maximum period of punishment for the offense.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the terms and conditions prescribed by the court as to support by the defendant shall be subject to review and modification by the court, upon notice and hearing to the defendant, as to the ability of the defendant to furnish support and as to the adequacy of the present support payments to the child's or children's needs. The review provided for in this paragraph as to the ability of the defendant to furnish support and as to the adequacy of the present support payments to the child's or children's needs shall not be had in less than two-year intervals and shall authorize the court to increase as well as to decrease the amount of child support to be paid as a term and condition of the suspended sentence. The review as to ability to support and adequacy of support shall not be equivalent to a hearing held in cases of revocation of probated sentences for purposes of service of the suspended sentence; nor shall a modification, if any, be deemed a change in sentence; nor shall a modification, if any, be deemed to change the suspended sentence to a probated sentence."

Senator Powell of the 23rd asked unanimous consent that his amendment #7 be withdrawn. The consent was granted, and the amendment was withdrawn.

(2) The court shall require the defendant requesting the blood tests and comparisons pursuant to this subsection to be initially responsible for any of the expenses thereof. Upon the entry of a verdict incorporating a finding of parentage or nonparentage, the court shall tax the expenses for blood tests and comparisons, in addition to any fees for expert witnesses whose testimonies supported the admissibility thereof, as costs.

(g) In prosecutions under this Code section, when the child is born out of wedlock and the accused father is convicted, the father may be required by the court to pay the reasonable medical expenses paid by or incurred on behalf of the mother due to the birth of the child. (h) The accused father and the mother of a child born out of wedlock may enter into a written agreement providing for future support of the child by regular periodic payments to the mother until the child reaches the age of 18 years, marries, or becomes self-supporting; provided, however, that the agreement shall not be binding on either party until it has been approved by the court having jurisdiction to try the pending case.

(i) If, during the trial of any person charged with the offense of abandonment as defined in this Code ~~section, the person~~ contends that he or she is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, in a jury trial the trial judge shall charge the jury that if its verdict is for the acquittal of the person and its reason for so finding is that the person is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, then its verdict shall so state. In a trial before the court without the intervention of the jury, if the court renders a verdict of acquittal based on the contention of the person that he or she is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, the trial judge shall so state this fact in his verdict of acquittal. Where the verdict of the jury or the court is for acquittal of a person on the grounds that the person is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, the person cannot thereafter again be tried for the offense of abandoning the child, and the verdict of acquittal shall be a bar to all civil and criminal proceedings attempting to compel the person to support the child.

(j)(1) In a prosecution for and conviction of the offense of abandonment, the trial court may suspend the service of the sentence imposed in the case, upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe for the support, by the defendant, of the child or children abandoned during the minority of the child or children. Service of the sentence, when so suspended, shall not begin unless and until ordered by the court having jurisdiction thereof, after a hearing as in cases of revocation or probated sentences, because of the failure or refusal of the defendant to comply with the terms and conditions upon which service of a sentence was suspended.

(2) Service of any sentence suspended in abandonment cases may be ordered by the court having jurisdiction thereof at any time before the child or children reach the age of majority, after a hearing as provided in paragraph (1) of this subsection and a finding by the court that the defendant has failed or refused to comply with the terms and conditions upon which service of the sentence was suspended by the court having jurisdiction thereof.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, in abandonment cases where the suspension of sentence has been revoked and the defendant is serving the sentence, the court may thereafter again suspend the service of sentence under the same terms and conditions as the original suspension. The sentence shall not be considered probated and the defendant shall not be on probation, but the defendant shall again be under a suspended sentence. However, the combined time of incarceration of the defendant during the periods of revocation of suspended sentences shall not exceed the maximum period of punishment for the offense.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the terms and conditions prescribed by the court as to support by the defendant shall be subject to review and modification by the court, upon notice and hearing to the defendant, as to the ability of the defendant to furnish support and as to the adequacy of the present support payments to the child's or children's needs. The review provided for in this paragraph as to the ability of the defendant to furnish support and as to the adequacy of the present support payments to the child's or children's needs shall not be had in less than two-year intervals and shall authorize the court to increase as well as to decrease the amount of child support to be paid as a term and condition of the suspended sentence. The review as to ability to support and adequacy of support shall not be equivalent to a hearing held in cases of revocation of probated sentences for purposes of service of the suspended sentence; nor shall a modification, if any, be deemed a change in sentence; nor shall a modification, if any, be deemed to change the suspended sentence to a probated sentence.”

Senator Powell of the 23rd offered the following amendment #12 to HB 221.

By inserting a new section immediately following line 29 of page 35 to read as follows:

SECTION 12.1

Said Title is further amended by striking Code Section 19-10-1. relating to abandonment of dependent child, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(a) A child abandoned by its father or mother shall be considered to be in a dependent condition ~~when the father or mother does not furnish sufficient food, clothing, or shelter~~ or does not pay child support as ordered by a court for the needs of the child.

(b) If any father or mother willfully and voluntarily abandons his or her child, either legitimate or born out of wedlock, leaving it in a dependent condition, he or she shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Moreover, if any father or mother willfully and voluntarily abandons his or her child, either legitimate or born out of wedlock, leaving it in a dependent condition, and leaves this state or if any father or mother willfully and voluntarily abandons his or her child, either legitimate or born out of wedlock, leaving it in a dependent condition, after leaving this state, he or she shall be guilty of a felony punishable by imprisonment for not less than one nor more than three years. The felony shall be reducible to a misdemeanor. Any person, upon conviction of the third offense for violating this Code section, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be imprisoned for not less than one nor more than three years, which felony shall not be reducible to a misdemeanor. Further, the court may order the defendant father or mother's picture to be published in the legal organ of the county. The husband and wife shall be competent witnesses in such cases to testify for or against the other.

(c) The offense of abandonment is a continuing offense. Except as provided in subsection (i) of this Code section, former acquittal or conviction of the offense shall not be a bar to further prosecution therefor under this Code section, if it is made to appear that the child in question was in a dependent condition, as defined in this Code section, for a period of 30 days prior to the commencement of prosecution.

(d) In prosecutions under this Code section when the child is born out of wedlock, the venue of the offense shall be in the county in which the child and the mother are domiciled at the time of the swearing out of the arrest warrant; but, if the child and the mother are domiciled in different counties, venue shall be in the county in which the child is domiciled.

(e) Upon the trial of an accused father or mother under this Code section, it shall be no defense that the accused father or mother has never supported the child.

(f) In the trial of any abandonment proceeding in which the question of parentage arises, regardless of any presumptions with respect to parentage, the accused father may request a paternity blood test and agree and arrange to pay for same; and in such cases the court before which the matter is brought, upon pretrial motion of the defendant, shall order that the alleged parent, the known natural parent, and the child submit to any blood tests and comparisons which have been developed and adapted for purposes of establishing or disproving parentage and which are reasonably accessible to the alleged parent, the known natural parent, and the child. The results of those blood tests and comparisons, including the statistical likelihood of the alleged parent's parentage, if available, shall be admitted in evidence when offered by a duly qualified, licensed practicing physician, duly qualified immunologist, duly qualified geneticist, or other duly qualified person. Upon receipt of a motion and the entry of an order under this subsection, the court shall proceed as follows:

(1) Where the issue of parentage is to be decided by a jury, where the results of those blood tests and comparisons are not shown to be inconsistent with the results of any other blood tests ~~and comparisons~~, and where the results of those blood tests and comparisons indicate that the alleged parent cannot be the natural parent of the child, the jury shall be instructed that if they believe that the witness presenting the results testified truthfully as to those results and if they believe that the tests and comparisons were conducted properly, then it will be their duty to decide that the alleged parent is not the natural parent;

(2) The court shall require the defendant requesting the blood tests and comparisons pursuant to this subsection to be initially responsible for any of the expenses thereof. Upon the entry of a verdict incorporating a finding of parentage or nonparentage, the court shall tax the expenses for blood tests and comparisons, in addition to any fees for expert witnesses whose testimonies supported the admissibility thereof, as costs.

(g) In prosecutions under this Code section, when the child is born out of wedlock and the accused father is convicted, the father may be required by the court to pay the reasonable medical expenses paid by or incurred on behalf of the mother due to the birth of the child. (h) The accused father and the mother of a child born out of wedlock may enter into a written agreement providing for future support of the child by regular periodic payments to the mother until the child reaches the age of 18 years, marries, or becomes self-supporting; provided, however, that the agreement shall not be binding on either party until it has been approved by the court having jurisdiction to try the pending case.

(i) If, during the trial of any person charged with the offense of abandonment as defined in this Code section, the person contends that he or she is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, in a jury trial the trial judge shall charge the jury that if its verdict is for the acquittal of the person and its reason for so finding is that the person is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, then its verdict shall so state. In a trial before the court without the intervention of the jury, if the court renders a verdict of acquittal based on the contention of the person that he or she is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, the trial judge shall so state this fact in his verdict of acquittal. Where the verdict of the jury or the court is for acquittal of a person on the grounds that the person is not the father or mother of the child alleged to have been abandoned, the person cannot thereafter again be tried for the offense of abandoning the child, and the verdict of acquittal shall be a bar to all civil and criminal proceedings attempting to compel the person to support the child.

(j)(1) In a prosecution for and conviction of the offense of abandonment, the trial court may suspend the service of the sentence imposed in the case, upon such terms and conditions as it may prescribe for the support, by the defendant, of the child or children abandoned during the minority of the child or children. Service of the sentence, when so suspended, shall not begin unless and until ordered by the court having jurisdiction thereof, after a hearing as in cases of revocation or probated sentences, because of the failure or refusal of the defendant to comply with the terms and conditions upon which service of a sentence was suspended.

(2) Service of any sentence suspended in abandonment cases may be ordered by the court having jurisdiction thereof at any time before the child or children reach the age of majority, ~~after a hearing as provided~~ in paragraph (1) of this subsection and a finding by the court that the defendant has failed or refused to comply with the terms and conditions upon which service of the sentence was suspended by the court having jurisdiction thereof.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provisions of law, in abandonment cases where the suspension of sentence has been revoked and the defendant is serving the sentence, the court may thereafter again suspend the service of sentence under the same terms and conditions as the original suspension. The sentence shall not be considered probated and the defendant shall not be on probation, but the defendant shall again be under a suspended sentence. However, the combined time of incarceration of the defendant during the periods of revocation of suspended sentences shall not exceed the maximum period of punishment for the offense.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the terms and conditions prescribed by the court as to support by the defendant shall be subject to review and modification by the court, upon notice and hearing to the defendant, as to the ability of the defendant to furnish support and as to the adequacy of the present support payments to the child's or children's needs. The review provided for in this paragraph as to the ability of the defendant to furnish support and as to the adequacy of the present support payments to the child's or children's needs shall not be had in less than two-year intervals and shall authorize the court to increase as well as to decrease the amount of child support to be paid as a term and condition of the suspended sentence. The review as to ability to support and adequacy of support shall not be equivalent to a hearing held in cases of revocation of probated sentences for purposes of service of the suspended sentence; nor shall a modification, if any, be deemed a change in sentence; nor shall a modification, if any, be deemed to change the suspended sentence to a probated sentence."

SECTION 7.

Said title is further amended by striking subsection (a) of Code Section 19-6-15, relating to guidelines for calculating child support, and inserting in lieu thereof a new subsection (a) to read as follows:

"(a) This Code section shall apply to all temporary orders and final verdicts and decrees entered prior to March 1, 2006, and to any modifications of such final verdicts and decrees at any future time after the entry of such final verdicts and decrees. The provisions of this Code section shall not apply with respect to any divorce case in which there are no minor children, except to the limited extent expressly authorized in subsection (e) of this Code section; and in a divorce case in which there are no minor children the requirements of this Code section for findings of fact and inclusion of findings in the verdict or decree shall not apply. In the final verdict or decree, the trier of fact shall specify in what amount and from which party the minor children are entitled to permanent support. The final verdict or decree shall further specify as required by Code Section 19-5-12 in what manner, how often, to whom, and until when the support shall be paid. The final verdict or decree shall further include a written finding of the gross income of the father and the mother and the presence or absence of special circumstances in accordance with subsection (c) of this Code section. The trier of fact must also determine whether the accident and sickness insurance for the child or the children involved is reasonably available at reasonable costs through employment related or other group health insurance policies to an obligor. For purposes of this Code section, accident and sickness coverage shall be deemed available if the obligor has access to any policy of insurance authorized under Title 33 through an employer or other group health insurance plan. If the accident and sickness insurance is deemed available at reasonable cost, the court shall order the obligor to obtain the coverage; provided, however, if the obligee has accident and sickness insurance for the child or children reasonably available at reasonable costs through employment related or other group health insurance policies, then the court may order that the child or children be covered under such insurance and the obligor contribute as part of the child support order such part of the cost of providing such insurance or such part of any medical expenses incurred on behalf of the child or children not covered by such insurance as the court may deem equitable or appropriate. If currently unavailable or unreasonable in cost, the court shall order the obligor to obtain coverage when it becomes available at a reasonable cost, unless such insurance is provided by the obligee as provided in this subsection. When support is awarded, the party who is required to pay the support shall not be liable to third persons for necessities furnished to the children embraced in the verdict or decree. In any contested case, the parties shall submit to the court their proposed findings regarding the gross income of the father and the mother and the presence or absence of special circumstances. In any case in which child support is determined by a jury, the court shall charge the provisions of this Code section and the jury shall be required to return a special interrogatory similar to the form of the order contained in Code Section 19-5-12 regarding the gross income of the father and the mother and the presence or absence of special circumstances. Furthermore, nothing contained within this Code section shall prevent the parties from entering into an enforceable agreement to the contrary which may be made the order of the court pursuant to the review by the court of child support amounts contained in this Code section; provided, however, any such agreement of the parties shall include a written statement regarding the gross income of the father and the mother and the presence or absence of special circumstances in accordance with subsection (c) of this Code section."

SECTION 8.

Said title is further amended by adding a new Code Section 19-6-15.1 to read as follows:

"19-6-15.1.

(a) As used in this Code section, the term:

(1) 'Adjusted gross income' means the net determination of a parent's income, calculated by deducting from that parent's gross income any applicable self-employment taxes being paid by the parent and any preexisting child support order for current child support which is being paid by the parent.

(2) 'Adjusted support obligation' means the basic child support obligation from the child support obligation table, adjusted for parenting time, health insurance, and work related child care expenses.

(3) 'Basic child support obligation' means the amount of support displayed on the child support obligation table which corresponds to the combined adjusted gross income of both parents and the number of children for whom support is being determined. This amount is rebuttably presumed to be the appropriate amount of basic child support to be provided by both parents in the case immediately under consideration, prior to consideration of any adjustments for parenting time or additional expenses.

(4) 'Caretaker' means the person or entity providing care and supervision of a child more than 50 percent of the time. The caretaker may be the child's custodial parent. The caretaker may be a parent of the child or a nonparent relative of the child who voluntarily or otherwise, pursuant to court order or other legal arrangement, is providing care and supervision of the child. A caretaker may also be a private or public agency providing custodial care and supervision for the child through voluntary placement by the child's parent, nonparent relative, or other designated caretaker or by court order or other legal arrangement.

(5) 'Child support obligation table' means the chart created by the Georgia Child Support Commission which displays the dollar amount of the basic child support obligation corresponding to various levels of combined adjusted gross income of the children's parents and the number of children for whom a child support order is being established or modified. The table shall be used to calculate the basic child support obligation according to the provisions of this Code section. Deviations from the table shall comply with the requirements of this Code section.

(6) 'Combined adjusted gross income' means the amount of adjusted gross income calculated by adding together the adjusted gross incomes of both parents. This amount is then used to determine the basic child support obligation for both parents for the number of children for whom support is being calculated in the case immediately under consideration.

(7) 'Credit worksheet' means the worksheet used for listing information regarding a parent's preexisting child support order and self-employment tax.

(8) 'Custodial parent' means the parent with whom the child or children resides more than 50 percent of the time. The term also means a nonparent caretaker who has been given physical custody of the child or children. If each parent spends exactly 50 percent of the time with the child or children, then the court shall designate the parent with the lesser child support obligation as the custodial parent and the other parent as the noncustodial parent. If a custodial parent has not been designated, the caretaker with whom the child resides more than 50 percent of the time shall be the custodial parent.

(9) 'Day' or 'days' means that a child spends more than 12 hours of a calendar day with or under the control of a parent and that parent expends a reasonable amount of resources on the child during such time period, such as the cost of a meal or other costs directly related to the care and supervision of the child. Partial days of parenting time that are not consistent with this definition shall not be considered a 'day' under the child support guidelines. A 'day' under the control of a parent includes a day the child is not in the parent's home, but is under the parent's control, for example, with the parent's permission at camp or with friends.

(10) 'Final child support order' means the presumptive child support order adjusted by any deviations ordered by the court.

(11) 'Health insurance' means accident, sickness, health, medical, or dental insurance.

(12) 'Noncustodial parent' means the parent with whom the child resides less than 50 percent of the time.

(13) 'Parenting time adjustment' means an adjustment to the noncustodial parent's portion of the basic child support obligation based upon the noncustodial parent's parenting time with the child.

(14) 'Percentage of income' for each parent is obtained by dividing each parent's adjusted gross income by the combined total of both parents' adjusted gross income. The percentage of income is used to determine each parent's pro rata share of the basic child support obligation and each parent's share of the amount of additional expense for health insurance and work related child care. The percentage of income is also used to designate the amount of uninsured medical expenses that each parent is financially responsible to pay, absent an order of a court setting a different amount.

(15) 'Preexisting orders' means:

(A) An order in another case that requires a parent to make child support payments for another child or children, which child support the parent is actually paying, as evidenced by documentation including, but not limited to, payment history from a court clerk, Title IV-D agency, as defined in Code Section 19-6-31, the Department of Human Resources computer system, the department's Internet child support payment history, or canceled checks or other written proof of payments paid directly; and

(B) That the date of filing of the initial order for each such other case is earlier than the date of filing of the initial order in the case immediately before the court, regardless of the age of any child in any of the cases.

(16) 'Presumptive child support order' means the amount of support to be paid for the child or children derived from the parent's proportional share of the basic child support obligation, adjusted for parenting time, plus the parent's proportional share of any additional expenses. This amount is rebuttably presumed to be the appropriate child support order.

(17) 'Pro rata' means the proportion of one parent's adjusted gross income to both parents' combined adjusted gross income, or the proportion of one parent's support obligation to the whole support obligation. A parent's pro rata share of income is calculated by combining both parents' adjusted gross income and dividing each parent's separate adjusted gross income by the combined adjusted gross income. A parent's pro rata share of the basic support obligation is calculated by multiplying the basic child support obligation obtained from the child support obligation table by each parent's pro rata percentage of the combined adjusted gross income.

(18) 'Split parenting' can only occur in a child support case if there are two or more children of the same parents, where one parent is the custodial parent for at least one child of the parents, and the other parent is custodial parent for at least one other child of the parents. In a split parenting case, each parent is the custodial parent of any child spending more than 50 percent of the time with that parent and is the noncustodial parent of any child spending more than 50 percent of the time with the other parent. A split parenting situation will have two custodial parents and two noncustodial parents, but no child will have more than one custodial parent or noncustodial parent.

(19) 'Standard parenting' means a child support case in which all of the children supported under the order spend more than 50 percent of the time with the same custodial parent. There is only one custodial parent and one noncustodial parent in a standard parenting case.

(20) 'Theoretical support order' means a hypothetical order which allows the court to determine the amount of a child support obligation if an order existed. A theoretical support order is used to determine the amount of credit allowed as a deduction from a parent's gross income for a parent's qualified other child or children who are not under a preexisting child support order.

(21) 'Uninsured health care expenses' means the child's or children's uninsured medical expenses including, but not limited to, health insurance copayments, deductibles, and such other costs as are reasonably necessary for orthodontia, dental treatment, asthma treatments, physical therapy, vision care, and any acute or chronic medical or health problem or mental health illness, including counseling and other medical or mental health expenses, that are not covered by insurance.

(22) 'Work related child care costs' means expenses for the care of the child or children for whom support is being determined which are due to employment of either parent. In an appropriate case, the court may consider the child care costs associated with a parent's job search or the training or education of a parent necessary to obtain a job or enhance earning potential, not to exceed a reasonable time as determined by the court, if the parent proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the job search, job training, or education will benefit the child or children being supported. The term shall be projected for the next consecutive 12 months and averaged to obtain a monthly amount.

(23) 'Worksheet' or 'child support worksheet' means the worksheet used to record information necessary to determine and calculate gross income and child support.

(b)(1) The child support guidelines contained in this Code section are a minimum basis for determining child support obligations and shall apply as a rebuttable presumption in all legal proceedings involving the child support obligation of a parent, including, but not limited to, orders entered in criminal and juvenile proceedings, orders entered pursuant to Article 3 of Chapter 11 of this title, the 'Uniform Interstate Family Support Act,' and voluntary support agreements and consent orders approved by the court. The child support guidelines do not apply to orders for prior maintenance for reimbursement of child care costs incurred prior to the date an action for child support is filed or to child support orders entered against stepparents or other persons or agencies secondarily liable for child support. The child support guidelines shall be used when the court enters a temporary or permanent child support order in a contested or noncontested hearing. The rebuttable presumption award provided by these child support guidelines may be increased according to the best interest of the child for whom support is being considered, the circumstances of the parties, the grounds for deviation set forth in subsection (i) of this Code section, and to achieve the state policy of affording to children of unmarried parents, to the extent possible, the same economic standard of living enjoyed by children living in intact families consisting of parents with similar financial means.

(2) The provisions of this Code section shall not apply with respect to any divorce case in which there are no minor children, except to the limited extent authorized by subsection (d) of this Code section. In the final judgment or decree in a divorce case in which there are minor children, or in other cases which are governed by the provisions of this Code section, the court shall:

- (A) Specify in what amount and from which party the minor children are entitled to permanent support as determined by use of the worksheets;
- (B) Specify as required by Code Section 19-5-12 in what manner, how often, to whom, and until when the support shall be paid;
- (C) Include a written finding of the gross income of the father and the mother as determined by the factfinder;

(D) Determine whether health insurance for the child or children involved is reasonably available at a reasonable cost to either parent. If the insurance policy is reasonably available at a reasonable cost to the parent, then the court may order that the child or children be covered under such insurance; and

(E) Include written findings of fact as to whether one or more of the deviations allowed under this Code section are applicable; and if one or more such deviations are applicable, the written findings of fact shall further set forth:

- (i) The reasons the court deviated from the presumptive amount of child support;
- (ii) The amount of child support that would have been required under the child support guidelines if the presumptive amount had not been rebutted; and
- (iii) A finding that states how application of the child support guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in the case immediately under consideration considering the relative ability of each parent to provide support and how the best interests of the child or children who are subject to the support award determination are served by deviation from the presumptive guideline amount.

(3) When support is awarded, the party who is required to pay the support shall not be liable to third persons for necessities furnished to the child or children embraced in the judgment or decree. In any contested case, the parties shall submit to the court their worksheets and the presence or absence of other factors to be considered by the court pursuant to the provisions of this Code section. In any case in which the gross incomes of the father and the mother are determined by a jury, the court shall charge the provisions of this Code section applicable to the determination of gross income and the jury shall be required to return a special interrogatory. Based upon the jury's verdict as to gross income, the court shall determine the child support obligation in accordance with the provisions of this Code section.

(4) Nothing contained within this Code section shall prevent the parties from entering into an enforceable agreement to the contrary which may be made the order of the court pursuant to the review by the court of the adequacy of the child support amounts negotiated by the parties, including the provision for medical expenses and health insurance; provided, however, that if the agreement negotiated by the parties does not comply with the provisions contained in this Code section and does not contain findings of fact as required to support a deviation, the court shall reject such agreement. To assist in this determination by the court, the parties shall provide all child support worksheets utilized by the parties to determine the child support amounts proposed in the agreement.

(c) In the event of a hearing or trial on the issue of child support, the guidelines enumerated in this Code section are intended by the General Assembly to be guidelines only and any court so applying these guidelines shall not abrogate its responsibility in making the final determination of child support based on the evidence presented to it at the time of the hearing or trial.

(d) The duty to provide support for a minor child shall continue until the child reaches the age of majority, dies, marries, or becomes emancipated, whichever first occurs; provided, however, that, in any temporary or final order for child support with respect to any proceeding for divorce, separate maintenance, legitimacy, or paternity entered on or after March 1, 2006, the court, in the exercise of sound discretion, may direct either or both parents to provide financial assistance to a child who has not previously married or become emancipated, who is enrolled in and attending a secondary school, and who has attained the age of majority before completing his or her secondary school education, provided that such financial assistance shall not be required after a child attains 20 years of age. The provisions for support provided in this subsection may be enforced by either parent or the child for whose benefit the support is ordered.

(1)(A) Gross income of each parent shall be determined in the process of setting the presumptive child support order and shall include all income from any source, before deductions for taxes and other deductions such as preexisting child support orders and credits for other qualified children, whether earned or unearned, and includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- (i) Salaries;
- (ii) Commissions, fees, and tips;
- (iii) Income from self-employment;
- (iv) Bonuses;
- (v) Overtime payments;
- (vi) Severance pay;
- (vii) Recurring income from pensions or retirement plans including, but not limited to, Veterans' Administration, Railroad Retirement Board, Keoughs, and individual retirement accounts;
- (viii) Interest income;
- (ix) Dividend income;
- (x) Trust income;
- (xi) Income from annuities;
- (xii) Capital gains;
- (xiii) Disability or retirement benefits that are received from the Social Security Administration pursuant to Title XI of the federal Social Security Act;
- (xiv) Workers' compensation benefits, whether temporary or permanent;
- (xv) Unemployment insurance benefits;
- (xvi) Judgments recovered for personal injuries and awards from other civil actions;
- (xvii) Gifts that consist of cash or other liquid instruments, or which can be converted to cash;
- (xviii) Prizes;
- (xix) Lottery winnings;
- (xx) Alimony or maintenance received from persons other than parties to the proceeding before the court; and
- (xxi) Assets which are used for the support of the family.

(B) Excluded from gross income are the following:

- (i) Child support payments received by either parent for the benefit of a child or children of another relationship; and

(ii) ~~Benefits received from~~ means-tested public assistance programs such as, but not limited to:

(I) PeachCare for Kids Program, Temporary Assistance for Needy Families, or similar programs in other states or territories under Title IV-A of the federal Social Security Act;

(II) Food stamps or the value of food assistance provided by way of electronic benefits transfer procedures by the Department of Human Resources;

(III) Supplemental security income received under Title XVI of the federal Social Security Act;

(IV) Benefits received under Section 402(d) of the federal Social Security Act for disabled adult children of deceased disabled workers; and

(V) Low Income Heating and Energy Assistance Program payments.

(2)(A) When establishing an initial order of child support, if a parent fails to produce reliable evidence of income, such as tax returns for prior years, check stubs, or other information for determining current ability to support or ability to support in prior years, and the court has no other reliable evidence of the parent's income or income potential, gross income for the current year shall be determined by imputing gross income based on a 40 hour workweek at minimum wage.

(B) When cases with established orders are reviewed for modification and a parent fails to produce reliable evidence of income, such as tax returns for prior years, check stubs, or other information for determining current ability to support or ability to support in prior years, and the court has no other reliable evidence of that parent's income or income potential, the court may enter an order to increase the child support obligation of the parent failing or refusing to produce evidence of income by an increment of at least 10 percent per year of that parent's pro rata share of the basic child support obligation for each year since the support order was entered or last modified.

(C) In either circumstance in subparagraph (A) or (B) of this paragraph, either parent may later provide within 90 days, upon motion to the court, the reliable evidence necessary to determine the appropriate amount of support based upon reliable evidence. The court may increase or reduce the amount of current support from the date of filing of either parent's initial filing or motion to modify child support, but arrearages or retroactive amounts entered in an order based upon imputed income shall not be forgiven. When a parent, whose income has been imputed under subparagraph (A) or (B) of this paragraph, provides reliable evidence to support a modification of the amount of income imputed for that parent, the parent is not required to demonstrate the existence of a significant variance otherwise required for modification of an order pursuant to subsection (1) of this Code section.

(3)(A) Income from self-employment includes income from, but not limited to, business operations, work as an independent contractor or consultant, sales of goods or services, and rental properties, less ordinary and reasonable expenses necessary to produce such income. Income from self-employment, rent, royalties, proprietorship of a business, or joint ownership of a partnership, limited liability company, or closely held corporation is defined as gross receipts minus ordinary and necessary expenses required for self-employment or business operations. Ordinary and reasonable expenses of self-employment or business operations necessary to produce income do not include:

- (i) Excessive promotional, travel, vehicle, or personal living expenses, depreciation on equipment, or costs of operation of home offices; or
- (ii) Amounts allowable by the Internal Revenue Service for the accelerated component of depreciation expenses, investment tax credits, or any other business expenses determined by the court to be inappropriate for determining gross income.

In general, income and expenses from self-employment or operation of a business should be carefully reviewed by the factfinder and the court to determine an appropriate level of gross income available to the parent to satisfy a child support obligation. Generally, this amount will differ from a determination of business income for tax purposes.

(B)(i) An additional deduction of 6.2 percent of FICA and 1.45 percent of medicare, or in any amount subsequently set by federal law as FICA and medicare tax, shall be deducted from a parent's gross income earned from self-employment, up to the amounts allowed under federal law.

(ii) Any self-employment tax paid shall be deducted from gross income as part of the calculation of a parent's adjusted gross income.

(4)(A) Fringe benefits for inclusion as income or 'in kind' remuneration received by a parent in the course of employment, or operation of a trade or business, shall be counted as income if they significantly reduce personal living expenses.

(B) Such fringe benefits might include, but are not limited to, use of a company car, housing, or room and board.

(C) Basic allowance for housing, basic allowance for subsistence, and variable housing allowances for members of the armed services are considered income for the purposes of determining child support.

(D) Fringe benefits do not include employee benefits that are typically added to the salary, wage, or other compensation that a parent may receive as a standard added benefit, including, but not limited to, employer paid portions of health insurance premiums or employer contributions to a retirement or pension plan.

(5)(A) Benefits received under Title XI of the federal Social Security Act by a child on the obligor's account shall be counted as child support payments and shall be applied against the child support obligation ordered to be paid by the obligor for the child.

(B) If after calculating the obligor's gross income as defined in this subsection, including the countable Social Security benefits in division (1)(A)(xiii) of this subsection, and after calculating the amount of the child support obligation using the child support worksheet, the amount of the child support obligation is greater than the Social Security benefits paid on behalf of the child on the obligor's account, the obligor ~~shall be required to~~ pay the amount exceeding the Social Security benefit as part of the child support obligation in the case.

(C)(i) If after calculating the obligor's gross income as defined in this subsection, including the countable Social Security benefits in division (1)(A)(xiii) of this subsection, and after calculating the amount of the child support obligation using the child support worksheet, the amount of the child support obligation is equal to or less than the Social Security benefits paid to the caretaker on behalf of the child on the obligor's account, the child support obligation of that parent is met and no further child support obligation shall be paid.

(ii) Any benefit amounts under Title XI of the federal Social Security Act as determined by the Social Security Administration sent to the caretaker by the Social Security Administration for the child's benefit which are greater than the child support obligation ordered by the court shall be retained by the caretaker for the child's benefit and shall not be used as a reason for decreasing the child support order or reducing arrearages.

(D) The court shall make a written finding of fact in the child support order regarding the use of the Social Security benefits in the calculation of the child support obligation.

(6) Variable income such as commissions, bonuses, overtime pay, and dividends shall be averaged by the factfinder over a reasonable period of time consistent with the circumstances of the case and added to a parent's fixed salary or wages to determine gross income. When income is received on an irregular, nonrecurring or one-time basis, the court may, but is not required to, average or prorate the income over a reasonable specified period of time or require the parent to pay as a one-time support amount a percentage of his or her nonrecurring income, taking into consideration the percentage of recurring income of that parent.

(7)(A) A determination of whether a parent is willfully or voluntarily unemployed or underemployed shall ascertain the reasons for the parent's occupational choices and assess the reasonableness of these choices in light of the parent's obligation to support his or her child or children and to determine whether such choices benefit the child or children. A determination of willful and voluntary unemployment or underemployment is not limited to occupational choices motivated only by an intent to avoid or reduce the payment of child support. A determination of willful and voluntary unemployment or underemployment can be based on any intentional choice or act that affects a parent's income.

(B) Factors for the court to consider when determining willful and voluntary unemployment or underemployment include, but are not limited to:

(i) The parent's past and present employment;

(ii) The parent's education and training;

(iii) Whether unemployment or underemployment for the purpose of pursuing additional training or education is reasonable in light of the parent's obligation to support his or her child or children and, to this end, whether the training or education may ultimately benefit the child or children in the case immediately under consideration by increasing the parent's level of support for that child or those children in the future;

(iv) A parent's ownership of valuable assets and resources, such as an expensive home or automobile, that appear inappropriate or unreasonable for the income claimed by the parent; and

(v) The parent's role as caretaker of a handicapped or seriously ill child of that parent, or any other handicapped or seriously ill relative for whom that parent has assumed the role of caretaker, which eliminates or substantially reduces the parent's ability to work outside the home, and the need of that parent to continue in that role in the future.

(C) When considering the income potential of a parent whose work experience is limited due to the caretaker role of that parent, the court shall consider the following factors:

(i) Whether the parent acted in the role of full-time caretaker immediately prior to separation by the married parties or prior to the divorce or annulment of the marriage or dissolution of another relationship in which the parent was a full-time caretaker;

(ii) The length of time the parent staying at home has remained out of the workforce for this purpose;

(iii) The parent's education, training, and ability to work; and

(iv) Whether the parent is caring for a child or children who are four years of age or younger.

(D) If the court determines that a parent is willfully and voluntarily unemployed or underemployed, child support shall be calculated based on a determination of potential income, as evidenced by educational level or previous work experience. In the absence of any other reliable evidence, income may be imputed to the parent pursuant to a determination that gross income for the current year is based on a 40 hour workweek at minimum wage.

(E) A determination of willful and voluntary unemployment or underemployment shall not be made when an individual is activated from the National Guard or other armed forces unit or enlists or is drafted for full-time service in the armed forces of the United States.

(8)(A) An adjustment to the parent's gross income shall be made on the child support worksheet for current preexisting orders actually being paid under an order of support for a period of not less than 12 consecutive months immediately prior to the date of the hearing before the court to set, modify, or enforce child support.

(B) In calculating the adjustment for preexisting orders, the court shall include only those preexisting orders where the date of entry of the initial support order precedes the date of entry of the initial order in the case immediately under consideration.

(C) The priority for preexisting orders is determined by the date of the initial order in each case. Subsequent modifications of the initial support order shall not affect the priority position established by the date of the initial order.

(D) Adjustments are allowed for current preexisting support only to the extent that the payments are actually being paid as evidenced by documentation including, but not limited to, payment history from a court clerk, a Title IV-D agency, as defined in Code Section 19-6-31, the Department of Human Resources computer system, the department's Internet child support payment history, or canceled checks or other written proof of payments paid directly. The maximum credit allowed for a preexisting order is an average of the amount of current support actually paid under the preexisting order over the past 12 months prior to the hearing date.

(E) All preexisting orders shall be entered on the credit worksheet for the purpose of calculating the total amount of the credit to be included on the child support worksheet, but the preexisting orders shall not be used on the credit worksheet as a deduction against gross income for the purpose of calculating a theoretical child support order.

(F) Payments being made by a parent on any arrearages shall not be considered payments on preexisting or subsequent orders and shall not be used as a basis for reducing gross income.

(9)(A) In addition to the adjustments to gross income for self-employment tax provided in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) of this subsection and for preexisting orders provided in paragraph (8) of this subsection, credits for either parent's other child or children qualified under this paragraph may be considered by the court for the purpose of reducing the parent's gross income or as a reason for deviation. Credits may be considered for a qualified child:

- (i) For whom the parent is legally responsible and in whose home that child resides;
- (ii) The parent is actually supporting;
- (iii) Who is not subject to a preexisting order for child support; and
- (iv) Who is not before the court to set, modify, or enforce support in the case immediately under consideration.

Stepchildren and other minors in the home that the parent has no legal obligation to support shall not be considered in the calculation of this credit. To consider a parent's qualified other child or children for credit, a parent must present documentary evidence of the parent-child relationship to the court.

(B) Credits against income pursuant to this paragraph may be considered in such circumstances in which the failure to consider such child or children would cause substantial hardship to the parent. Use of this credit is appropriate when a child support order is entered. Credits may also be appropriate when a child support order is modified to rebut a claim for increased child support brought by the custodial parent. If the court, in its discretion, decides to apply this credit, a parent's current financial responsibility for his or her natural or adopted child or children who currently reside with the parent, other than a child or children for whom child support is being determined in the pending action, can be no greater than an amount

(i) equal to the basic child support obligation for that child or those children based on the parent's income if the other parent of such child or children does not live with the parent and child or children or (ii) one-half of the basic child support obligation for such child or children based on the combined incomes of both of the parents of such child or children if the other parent of such child or children lives with the parent and the child or children.

(C) Credits against income for another qualified child or other qualified children shall be calculated and recorded on the credit worksheet and then entered on the child support worksheet for the purpose of reducing the parent's gross income on the child support worksheet. However, except for self-employment taxes paid, no other amounts shall be subtracted from the parent's gross income on the credit worksheet when calculating a theoretical support order under this paragraph.

(10) Actual payments of alimony should not be considered as a deduction from gross income but may be considered as a factor to vary from the final presumptive child support order. If the court considers the actual payment of alimony, the court shall make a written finding of such consideration as a basis for deviation from the final presumptive child support order.

(11) In multiple family situations, the adjustments to a parent's gross income shall be calculated in the following order:

(A) Preexisting orders according to the date of the initial order; and

(B) After applying the deductions on the child support worksheet for preexisting orders, if any, in subparagraph (E) of paragraph (8) of this subsection, any credit for a parent's qualified other child or children may be considered using the procedure set forth in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph.

(f) The basic child support obligation is determined based upon the parent's gross income and by using the corresponding child support obligation table as established and maintained by the Georgia Child Support Commission. If the combined monthly adjusted gross income falls between the amounts shown in the table, then the child support obligation shall be based on the income bracket mostly closely matched to the combined monthly adjusted gross income. The number of children column on the table corresponds to children for whom parents share joint legal responsibility and for whom support is being sought.

(g)(1) The child support obligation table does not include the cost of the child's work related child care costs or the cost of health insurance premiums or uninsured health expenses. The additional expenses for the child's health insurance premium and work related child care shall be included in the calculations to determine child support.

(2)(A) Work related child care expenses necessary for the parent's employment, education, or vocational training that are determined by the court to be appropriate, and that are appropriate to the parents' financial abilities and to the lifestyle of the child or children if the parents and child or children were living together, shall be averaged for a monthly amount and entered on the child support worksheet in the column of the parent initially paying the expense. Work related child care expenses of a nonparent caretaker shall be considered when determining the amount of this expense.

(B) If a child care subsidy is being provided pursuant to a means-tested public assistance program, only the amount of the child care expense actually paid by either parent shall be included in the calculation.

(C) If either parent is the provider of child care services to the child or children for whom support is being determined, the value of those services shall not be added to the basic child support obligation when calculating the support award.

(D) If child care is provided by a family member, other unpaid person, or provided by a parent's employer without charge to the parent, then the value of these services shall not be added to the basic child support obligation.

(3)(A) The amount that is, or will be, paid by a parent for health insurance for the child or children for whom support is being determined shall be added to the basic child support obligation and prorated between the parents based upon their respective incomes. Payments made by a parent's employer for health insurance and not deducted from the parent's wages are not included. When a child or children for whom support is being determined are covered by a family policy, only the health insurance premium actually attributable to that child or those children is added. If this amount is not available or cannot be verified, the total cost of the premium shall be divided by the total number of persons covered by the policy and then multiplied by the number of covered children for whom support is being determined.

(B) The amount of the cost for the child's or children's health insurance premium and work related child care expenses shall be determined and added to the basic child support obligation as 'additional expenses' whether paid directly by the parent or through a payroll deduction.

(C) The total amount of the cost for the child's or children's health insurance premium and work related child care shall be divided between the parents pro rata to determine the total presumptive child support order and shall be included in the worksheet and written order of the court together with the amount of the basic child support obligation.

(4)(A) If health insurance that provides for the health care needs of the child or children can be obtained by a parent at reasonable cost, then an amount to cover the cost of the premium shall be added to the basic child support obligation. A health insurance premium paid by a nonparent caretaker shall be included when determining the amount of this expense. In determining the amount to be added to the order for this cost, only the amount of the insurance cost attributable to the child or children who are the subject of the support order shall be included.

(B) If coverage is applicable to other persons and the amount of the health insurance premium attributable to the child or children who are the subject of the current action for support is not verifiable, the total cost to the parent paying the premium shall be prorated by the number of persons covered so that only the cost attributable to the child or children who are the subject of the order under consideration is included. This amount shall be determined by dividing the total amount of the insurance premium by the number of persons covered by the insurance policy and taking the resulting amount and multiplying it by the number of children covered by the insurance policy. This monthly cost shall be entered on the child support worksheet in the column of the parent paying the premium.

(C) Eligibility for or enrollment of the child or children in Medicaid shall not satisfy the requirement that the child support order provide for the child's or children's health care needs.

(h)(1) The court shall determine each parent's pro rata share of the additional expenses by multiplying the percentage of income of each parent by the combined total additional expenses.

(2)(A) In standard parenting situations, the adjusted support obligation is the parent's share of the basic child support obligation plus the parent's share of any additional expenses for the child's or children's health insurance premium and work related child care.

(B) In split parenting situations, the adjusted support obligation is each parent's basic child support obligation for the child or children in the other parent's care plus each parent's share of any additional expenses for the child or children's health insurance premium and work related child care.

(C) If a parenting time adjustment has been calculated in either a standard or split parenting situation and that parent's share of the basic child support obligation is adjusted as specified in paragraph (5) of this subsection, then each parent's adjusted support obligation is calculated pursuant to this paragraph.

(3)(A) If a parent pays directly or through payroll deduction the child's or children's health insurance premium, or pays through payroll deduction work related child care costs, the total amount of the expenses paid in this manner shall first be entered on the child support worksheet to be used in calculating total additional expenses and each parent's adjusted support obligation.

(B) Once the adjusted support obligation has been calculated, the expenses paid by the parent as indicated in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph shall be deducted from the adjusted support obligation of that parent to credit the parent for the payment of these expenses. The amount of the deduction for the health insurance premium or payroll deduction for the work related child care expense shall be included in the child support order to identify the amount and nature of the child support obligation. These expenses shall not be included in the noncustodial parent's income deduction order. The order shall require that these expenses continue to be paid in the same manner as they were being paid prior to the instant action.

(C) To the extent that work related child care expenses are not included in subsection (g) of this Code section, the expense shall be accounted for in the noncustodial parent's income deduction order as part of the child support order. The custodial parent shall pay this expense in full out of his or her income and the child support award.

(4)(A) The child's or children's uninsured health expenses, including, but not limited to, deductibles, copayments, and dental, orthodontic, counseling, psychiatric, vision, hearing, and other medical needs not covered by insurance, shall be the financial responsibility of both parents. The order of the court shall include provisions for payment of the uninsured medical expenses. The parents shall divide these ~~expenses pro rata, unless~~ otherwise specifically ordered by the court.

(B) If a parent fails to pay his or her pro rata share of the child's or children's, uninsured medical expenses, as specified in the child support order, within a reasonable time after receipt of evidence documenting the uninsured portion of the expense, the other parent, the nonparent caretaker, or the state or its Title IV-D agency, as defined in Code Section 19-6-31, may enforce payment of the expense by any means permitted by law.

(5) No adjustment to gross income shall be made in the calculation of a child support obligation which seriously impairs the ability of the custodial parent in the case immediately under consideration to maintain minimally adequate housing, food, and clothing for the child or children being supported by the order and to provide other basic necessities, as determined by the court.

(i)(1) The amount of child support established by this Code section and the child support obligation table are rebuttable, and the court may deviate from the presumptive child support order in compliance with this subsection. In deviating from the child support guidelines, primary consideration shall be given to the best interest of the child or children for whom support under the child support guidelines are being determined.

(2) When ordering a deviation from the presumptive amount of child support established by the child support guidelines, the court's order shall contain written findings of fact stating:

(A) The reasons for the change or deviation from the presumptive child support order;

(B) The amount of child support that would have been required under the child support guidelines if the presumptive child support order had not been rebutted; and

(C) How, in its determination,

(i) Application of the child support guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in the case immediately under consideration; and

(ii) The best interests of the child for whom support is being determined will be served by deviation from the presumptive child support order.

No deviation in the amount of the child support obligation shall be made which seriously impairs the ability of the custodial parent in the case immediately under consideration to maintain minimally adequate housing, food, and clothing for the child or children being supported by the order and to provide other basic necessities, as determined by the court.

(3)(A) For purposes of this paragraph, parents are considered to be high-income parents if their combined adjusted gross income exceeds $20,000.00 per month.

(B) For high-income parents, the court shall set the child support obligation at the highest amount allowed by the child support obligation table but may consider upward deviation to attain an appropriate award of child support for high-income parents which is considered in the best interest of the child or children.

(4) Deviation from the child support guidelines may be appropriate for reasons in addition to those established under subsection (g) of this Code section when the court finds it is ~~in the best interest~~ of the child, in accordance with the requirements of subsection (e) of this Code section and the following procedures:

(A) In making its determination regarding a request for deviation pursuant to this subsection, the court shall consider all available income of the parents and shall make a written finding that an amount of child support other than the amount calculated under the child support guidelines is reasonably necessary to provide for the needs of the child or children for whom support is being determined in the case immediately under consideration. If the circumstances which supported the deviation cease to exist, the child support order may be modified to eliminate the deviation;

(B) In cases where the child or children are in the legal custody of the Department of Human Resources, the child protection or foster care agency of another state or territory, or any other child caring entity, public or private, the court may consider a deviation from the presumptive child support order if the deviation will assist in accomplishing a permanency plan or foster care plan for the child or children that has a goal of returning the child or children to the parent or parents and the parent's or parents' need to establish an adequate household or to otherwise adequately prepare herself or himself or themselves for the return of the child or children clearly justifies a deviation for this purpose;

(C) If parenting time related travel expenses are substantial due to the distance between the parents, the court may order the allocation of such costs by deviation from the basic child support obligation, taking into consideration the circumstances of the respective parties as well as which parent moved and the reason that the move was made; and

(D)(i) The child support obligation table includes average child rearing expenditures for families given the parents' monthly combined income and number of children. Extraordinary expenses are in excess of these average amounts and are highly variable among families. For these reasons, extraordinary expenses, other than the health insurance premium and work related child care, shall be considered on a case by case basis in the calculation of support and added to the basic support award as a deviation so that the actual amount of the expense is considered in the calculation of the final child support order for only those families actually incurring the expense.

(ii)(I) Extraordinary educational expenses may be added to the basic child support as a deviation. Extraordinary educational expenses include, but are not limited to, tuition, room and board, lab fees, books, fees, and other reasonable and necessary expenses associated with special needs education or private elementary and secondary schooling that are appropriate to the parent's financial abilities and to the lifestyle of the child or children if the parents and child or children were living together.

(II) In determining the amount of deviation for extraordinary educational expenses, scholarships, grants, stipends, and other cost reducing programs received by or on behalf of the child or children shall be considered.

(III) ~~If a deviation is allowed~~ for extraordinary educational expenses, a monthly average of these expenses shall be based on evidence of prior or anticipated expenses and entered on the child support worksheet in the deviation section.

(iii)(I) Special expenses incurred for child rearing, including but not limited to expense variations related to the food, clothing, and hygiene costs of children at different age levels, which can be quantified may be added to the child support obligation as a deviation from the presumptive child support order. Such expenses include, but are not limited to, summer camp, music or art lessons, travel, school sponsored extra curricular activities, such as band, clubs, and athletics, and other activities intended to enhance the athletic, social, or cultural development of a child but are not otherwise required to be used in calculating the child support order as are health insurance premiums and work related child care costs.

(II) A portion of the basic child support obligation is intended to cover average amounts of special expenses incurred in the rearing of a child. When special expenses exceed 7 percent of the monthly basic child support obligation, the court shall consider additional amounts of support as a deviation to cover the full amount of these special expenses.

(iv) In instances of extreme economic hardship, such as in cases involving extraordinary medical needs not covered by insurance or other extraordinary special needs for the child or children of a parent's current family, deviation from the child support guidelines may be considered. In such cases, the court shall consider the resources available for meeting such needs, including those available from agencies and other adults.

(5)(A) For purposes of this paragraph, a parent is considered to be a low-income person if his or her annual gross income is at or below the federal poverty level for a single person.

(B) The court may consider the low income of the custodial parent or the noncustodial parent as a basis for deviation from the guideline amounts.

(C) The court shall consider all nonexempt sources of income available to each party and all expenses actually paid by each party.

(D) The party seeking a low-income deviation shall present to the court documentation of all his or her income and expenses or provide sworn statements of all his or her income and expenses in support of the requested deviation.

(E) The court shall make a written finding in its order that the deviation from the child support guidelines based upon the low income and reasonable expenses of a party are clearly justified and shall make the necessary written findings pursuant to this paragraph.

(F) The court may deviate from the lowest amount of child support provided for in the basic child support guideline table and shall make the necessary written findings if it chooses to deviate.

(j)(1) The child support guidelines presume that when parents live separately, the child or children will typically reside primarily with the custodial parent and stay overnight with the noncustodial parent a minimum of every other weekend from Friday to Sunday, two weeks in the summer, and two weeks during holidays throughout the year, for a total of 80 days per year. The child support guidelines also recognize that some families may have different parenting situations and thus allow for an adjustment in the noncustodial parent's child support obligation, as appropriate, in compliance with the criteria specified in this subsection. The calculations made for each parenting situation shall be based on specific factual information regarding the amount of time each parent has with the child or children.

(2)(A) If the noncustodial parent spends 100 or more days per calendar year with a child or children, an assumption is made that the noncustodial parent is making greater expenditures on the child or children due to the duplication of some child rearing expenditures between the two households, for example, housing or food, and a reduction to the noncustodial parent's child support obligation may be made to account for these expenses.

(B) The noncustodial parent's child support obligation may be reduced for the days of additional parenting time based upon the following schedule:

Number of Days	Percent Reduction in Support
100-136 days	10 percent
137-151 days	20 percent
152-166 days	30 percent
167-181 days	40 percent
182 or more days	50 percent

(C) The presumption that more parenting time by the noncustodial parent shall result in a reduction to the noncustodial parent's support obligation may be rebutted by evidence.

(D) If there is more than one child in the case with whom the noncustodial parent spends 100 days or more per year, and the noncustodial parent is spending different amounts of time with each child, then the time the noncustodial parent spends with each child shall be averaged to determine the parenting time adjustment.

(3)(A) If the noncustodial parent spends 60 or fewer days per calendar year with a child or children, an assumption is made that the custodial parent is making greater expenditures on the child or children for items such as food and baby-sitting associated with the increased parenting time by the custodial parent, and an increase in the noncustodial parent's child support obligation may be made.

(B) The noncustodial parent's child support obligation may be increased for the reduction in days of the noncustodial parent's parenting time based upon the following schedule:

Number of Days www.libtool.com.cn	Percent Increase in Support
60-39 days	10 percent
38-24 days	20 percent
23-9 days	30 percent
8-0 days	35 percent

(C) The presumption that less parenting time by the noncustodial parent shall result in an increase to the noncustodial parent's support obligation may be rebutted by evidence.

(D) If there is more than one child in the case with whom the noncustodial parent spends 60 or fewer days per year, and the noncustodial parent is spending different amounts of time with each child, then the time the noncustodial parent spends with each child is averaged to determine the parenting time adjustment.

(4) If there are additional children for whom support is being calculated with whom the noncustodial parent spends more than 60 days but less than 100 days per calendar year, the days with these children are not included in the calculation for the parenting time adjustment.

(5) If a child support obligation is being calculated for multiple children, and the noncustodial parent spends 100 days or more per year with at least one child and 60 or fewer days with at least one child, then the percentage increase is offset against the percentage decrease and the resulting percentage is applied to the child support obligation.

(k) In the event a parent suffers an involuntary termination of employment, has an extended involuntary loss of average weekly hours, is involved in an organized strike, incurs a loss of health, or similar involuntary adversity resulting in a loss of income of 25 percent or more, then the portion of child support attributable to lost income shall not accrue from the date of the filing of the petition for modification, provided that service is made on the other parent.

(l)(1) The adoption of these child support guidelines constitutes a significant material change in the establishment and calculation of child support orders. In any proceeding to modify an existing order, an increase or decrease of 15 percent or more between the amount of the existing order and the amount of child support resulting from the application of these child support guidelines shall be presumed to constitute a substantial change of circumstances as may warrant a modification based upon the court's considerations of the parent's financial circumstances and the needs of the children. This differential shall be calculated by applying 15 percent to the existing award. If there is a material change in the father's income, the mother's income, the needs of the child or children, or the needs of either parent, either parent shall have the right to petition for modification of the child support award regardless of the length of time since the establishment or most recent modification of the child support award. If there is a difference of 30 percent or more between a new award and a prior award, the court may, at its discretion, phase in the new child support award over a period of up to one year with the phasing in being largely evenly distributed with at least an initial immediate adjustment of not less than 25 percent of the difference and at least one intermediate adjustment prior to the final adjustment at the end of the phase-in period.

(2) In proceedings for the modification of a child support award pursuant to the provisions of this Code section, the court may award attorneys fees, costs, and expenses of litigation to the prevailing party as the interests of justice may require.

(3) No petition to modify child support may be filed by either parent within a period of two years from the date of the final order on a previous petition by the same parent except where the child support obligation table created by the Georgia Child Support Commission creates a difference of 15 percent or more between a new award and a prior award.

(m) For split custody situations, a worksheet shall be prepared separately for the child or children for whom the father is custodial parent and for the child or children for whom the mother is the custodial parent; and that worksheet shall be entered into the record. For each of these two custodial situations, the court shall enter which parent is the obligor, the presumptive award, and the actual award, if different from the presumptive award; how and when the net cash support owed shall be paid; and any other child support responsibilities for each of the parents.

(n) The child support obligation table shall be proposed by the Georgia Child Support Commission and set as determined by joint resolution of the General Assembly.

(o) This Code section shall apply to all temporary orders and final verdicts and decrees entered on and after March 1, 2006, and to any modifications of such final verdicts and decrees at any future time after the entry of such final verdicts and decrees."

SECTION 9.

Said title is further amended by striking Code Section 19-6-19, relating to revision of judgment for permanent alimony or child support generally, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"19-6-19.

(a) The judgment of a court providing permanent alimony for the support of a spouse rendered on or after July 1, 1977, shall be subject to revision upon petition filed by either former spouse showing a change in the income and financial status of either former spouse. ~~The judgment of a court providing permanent alimony for the support of a child or children rendered on or after July 1, 1977, shall be subject to revision upon petition filed by either former spouse showing a change in the income and financial status of either former spouse or in the needs of the child or children.~~ In either case a Δ petition shall be filed and returnable under the same rules of procedure applicable to divorce proceedings. No petition may be filed by either former spouse under this subsection within a period of two years from the date of the final order on a previous petition by the same former spouse. After hearing both parties and the evidence, the jury, or the judge where a jury is not demanded by either party, may modify and revise the previous judgment, in accordance with the changed income and financial status of either former spouse ~~in the case of permanent alimony for the support of a former spouse, or in accordance with the changed income and financial status of either former spouse or in the needs of the child or children in the case of permanent alimony for the support of a child or children,~~ if such a change in the income and financial status is satisfactorily proved so as to warrant the modification and revision. In the hearing upon a petition filed as provided in this subsection, testimony may be given and evidence introduced relative to the income and financial status of either former spouse.

(b) Subsequent to a final judgment of divorce awarding periodic payment of alimony for the support of a spouse, the voluntary cohabitation of such former spouse with a third party in a meretricious relationship shall also be grounds to modify provisions made for periodic payments of permanent alimony for the support of the former spouse. As used in this subsection, the word 'cohabitation' means dwelling together continuously and openly in a meretricious relationship with another person, regardless of the sex of the other person. In the event the petitioner does not prevail in the petition for modification on the ground set forth in this subsection, the petitioner shall be liable for reasonable attorney's fees incurred by the respondent for the defense of the action.

(c) When an action for revision of a judgment for permanent alimony under this Code section is pending, the court in its discretion may allow, upon motion, the temporary modification of such a judgment, pending the final trial on the petition. In considering an application for temporary modification under this subsection, the court shall consider evidence of any changed circumstances of the parties and the reasonable probability of the petitioner obtaining revision upon final trial. The order granting temporary modification shall be subject to revision by the court at any time before final trial.

(d) In proceedings for the modification of alimony for the support of a spouse ~~or child~~ pursuant to the provisions of this Code section, the court may award attorneys' fees, costs, and expenses of litigation to the prevailing party as the interests of justice may require."

SECTION 10.

Said title is further amended by striking Code Section 19-6-20, relating to revision of judgment for permanent alimony or child support generally, merits not an issue, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"19-6-20.

In the trial on a petition authorized in subsection (a) of Code Section 19-6-19, the merits of whether a party, ~~a child or children, or both, are~~ is entitled to alimony ~~and support~~ are not an issue. The only issue is whether there has been such a substantial change in the income and financial status of either former spouse ~~or in the needs of the child or children, in cases of permanent alimony for the support of a child or children, or in the income and financial status of either former spouse,~~ in cases of permanent alimony for the support of a former spouse, as to warrant either a downward or upward revision or modification of the permanent alimony judgment."

SECTION 11.

Said title is further amended by striking Code Section 19-6-21, relating to revision of judgment for permanent alimony or child support not available in case of lump sum award, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"19-6-21.

A petition authorized in subsection (a) of Code Section 19-6-19 can be filed only where a party has been ordered by the final judgment in an alimony or divorce and alimony action to pay permanent alimony in weekly, monthly, annual, or similar periodic payments and not where the former spouse of such party, ~~the child or children, or both,~~ has been given an award from the corpus of the party's estate in lieu of such periodic payment."

SECTION 12.

Said title is further amended by striking Code Section 19-6-22, relating to revision of judgment for permanent alimony or child support, expenses for defense of litigation, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"19-6-22.

Where a petition authorized by subsection (a) of Code Section 19-6-19 is filed by a party obligated to pay alimony, the court may require the party to pay the reasonable expenses of litigation as may be incurred by the party's former spouse, ~~either~~ on behalf of the former spouse, ~~or the child or children, or both,~~ in defense thereof."

SECTION 13.

Said title is further amended by striking Code Section 19-6-24, relating to applicability of Code Section 19-6-18 or Code Sections 19-6-19 through 19-6-22 to judgments prior to March 9, 1955, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"19-6-24.

- (1) Both parties to the case in which the judgment for permanent alimony was rendered consent in writing to the revision, amendment, alteration, settlement, satisfaction, or release thereof;

- (3) The judge of the court wherein the original judgment for permanent alimony was rendered approves the revision, amendment, alteration, settlement, satisfaction, or release; and
- (4) The consent of the parties, together with the court's approval, is filed with the clerk of the court wherein the original judgment for permanent alimony was rendered."

SECTION 14.

Said title is further amended by striking subsection (b) of Code Section 19-6-34, relating to inclusion of life insurance in order of support, and inserting in lieu thereof a new subsection (b) to read as follows:

"(b) The amount of the premium for such life insurance shall be counted as a part of the support ordered pursuant to the provisions of Code Section 19-6-15 or 19-6-15.1, as applicable, provided that the court shall review the amount of the premium for reasonableness in the circumstances of the child, the parent ordered to pay support, and the other parent."

SECTION 15.

Said title is further amended by designating the existing matter in Chapter 6 as Article 1 and adding a new Article 2 to the end of the chapter to read as follows:

SECTION 16.

Said title is further amended by striking in its entirety Code Section 19-7-2, relating to parents' obligations to child, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"19-7-2.

It is the joint and several duty of each parent to provide for the maintenance, protection, and education of his or her child until the child reaches the age of majority, dies, marries, or becomes emancipated, whichever first occurs, except as otherwise authorized and ordered pursuant to subsection (e) of Code Section 19-6-15 or subsection (d) of Code Section 19-6-15.1 and except to the extent that the duty of the parents is otherwise or further defined by court order."

SECTION 17.

Said title is further amended by striking subsection (a) of Code Section 19-7-46.2, relating to temporary order of support, and inserting in lieu thereof a new subsection (a) to read as follows:

"(a) Upon motion by a party to a paternity action, a temporary order shall be issued in accordance with the guidelines prescribed in Code Section 19-6-15 or 19-6-15.1, as applicable, if there is clear and convincing evidence of paternity. Such temporary order will be valid pending an administrative or judicial determination of parentage."

SECTION 18.

Said title is further amended by striking Code Section 19-11-12, regarding determination of ability to support, and inserting in lieu thereof a new Code Section 19-11-12 to read as follows:

"19-11-12.

(a) The IV-D agency shall determine the ability of the noncustodial parent to support his or her child or children in accordance with the guidelines prescribed in Code Section 19-6-15 or 19-6-15.1, as applicable.

(b)(1) The IV-D agency shall periodically give notice to the obligor and obligee who are subject to an IV-D court order for child support, as defined in paragraph (1) of Code Section 19-11-3, of the right of each to request a review of the order by the IV-D agency for possible recommendation for adjustment of such order. Such notification should be provided within 36 months after the establishment of the order or the most recent review; however, failure to provide the notice within 36 months shall not affect the right of either party to request a review nor the right of the IV-D agency to conduct a review and to recommend an adjustment to the order. The notice can be included in the initial order or review recommendation.

(2) The establishment of a child support order or the entry of an order to modify a child support order or a determination of no change to a child support order under this Code section shall commence a 36 month cycle, the purpose of which is to provide the parties the right to a review of the order at least every 36 months or in such shorter cycle as the IV-D agency may determine. The failure of either party to request a review at least once every 36 months shall not affect the right of either party to request a review nor the right of the IV-D agency to conduct a review and to recommend an adjustment to the order at any time beyond the 36 month cycle.

(c)(1) The IV-D agency shall review IV-D court orders for child support, as defined in paragraph (1) of Code Section 19-11-3, for possible modification under this chapter. The review shall be performed upon the written request of either the obligor or obligee, or, if there is an assignment under subsection (a) of Code Section 19-11-6, upon the request of the IV-D agency or of the obligor or obligee. Exceptions to this procedure are cases where the IV-D agency determines that such a review would not be in the best interest of the child or children involved.

(2) If the request for the review occurs less than 36 months since the last issuance or last review of the order, the IV-D agency shall review, and if the requesting party demonstrates a substantial change in circumstances, seek to modify the order in accordance with the guidelines as provided by paragraph (2) of subsection (d) of this Code section.

(3) If the request for the review occurs at least 36 months after the last issuance or last review, the requesting party shall not be required to demonstrate a substantial change in circumstances, the need for additional support, or that the needs of the child have decreased. The sole basis for a recommendation for a change in the award of support under this paragraph shall be a significant inconsistency between the existing child support order and the amount of child support which would result from the application of Code Section 19-6-15 or 19-6-15.1, as applicable.

(d)(1) The IV-D agency shall notify the obligor and obligee at least 30 days before the commencement of a review of a child support order.

(2) The IV-D agency shall review and, if there is a significant inconsistency between the amount of the existing child support order and the amount of child support which would result from the application of Code Section 19-6-15 or 19-6-15.1, as applicable, the agency shall make a recommendation for an increase or decrease in the amount of an existing order for support. The IV-D agency shall not be deemed to be representing either the obligee or obligor in a proceeding under this Code section.

(3) Upon ~~completion of a review~~, the IV-D agency shall send notice by first-class mail to the obligor and obligee at their last known addresses of a proposed adjustment or a determination that there should be no change in the child support award amount. Each party shall have 30 days from the date of the notice to object in writing to the IV-D agency's proposed adjustment or determination of no change.

(4)(A) In the case of an administrative order, the agency shall request the administrative law judge to increase or decrease the amount in the existing order in accordance with the agency recommendation. If either the obligor or the obligee files with the agency within 30 days written objections to the agency's proposed adjustment to the child support order or determination of no change to the child support order, the matter shall be scheduled for an administrative hearing within the Office of State Administrative Hearings. The administrative order adjusting the child support award amount which results from a hearing or the failure to object to the agency's proposed adjustment or determination of no change shall, upon filing with the local clerk of the court, have the full effect of a modification of the original order or decree of support. As part of the order adjusting the child support award the administrative law judge shall issue an income and earnings deduction order which shall also be filed with the court pursuant to Code Sections 19-6-30 through 19-6-33.

(B) In the case of a judicial order, the agency shall file a petition asking the court to adopt the agency's recommendation for an increase or decrease in the amount in the existing order. Upon the filing of a written objection to the agency's proposed adjustment or determination of no change with the clerk of the superior court and with the agency, a de novo proceeding shall be scheduled with the court on the matter. If neither party files an objection within the 30 day notice period, the court shall issue an order adopting the recommendation of the IV-D agency. As part of the order adjusting the child support award, the court shall issue an income and earnings deduction order pursuant to Code Sections 19-6-30 through 19-6-33.

(e) When the trier of fact, the administrative law judge for administrative orders, or a judge of the superior court for court orders, as the case may be, determines that there is a significant inconsistency between the existing child support order and the amount of child support which would result from the application of Code Section 19-6-15 or 19-6-15.1, as applicable, the trier of fact may use this inconsistency as the basis to increase or decrease the amount of support ordered. The trier of fact may also address the repayment of any arrears accumulated under the existing order.

(f) An obligor shall not be relieved of his or her duty to provide support when such obligor has brought about his or her own unstable financial condition by voluntarily incurring subsequent obligations.

(g) The department shall be authorized to promulgate rules and regulations to implement the provisions of this Code section."

Said title is ~~further amended by~~ striking subsection (a) of Code Section 19-11-15, relating to voluntary support agreement, and inserting in lieu thereof a new subsection (a) to read as follows:

"(a) When the department has completed its investigation, has determined the ability of the absent parent to support his or her child or children in accordance with guidelines prescribed in Code Section 19-6-15 or 19-6-15.1, as applicable, and believes that the absent parent is able to furnish a certain amount of support, the department may, as an exception to Code Section 9-12-18, request the absent parent to enter into a proposed consent order and income deduction order to provide the support amount and accident and sickness insurance coverage consistent with Code Section 19-11-26 prior to the filing of an action with the superior court. The orders may not be set aside on the grounds that the parties consented thereto prior to the filing of the action. An income deduction order shall issue consistent with Code Sections 19-6-30 through 19-6-34. If the department is unable to secure a proposed consent order from the parent, the department may file an action in superior court or may initiate an administrative action pursuant to Chapter 13 of Title 50, the 'Georgia Administrative Procedure Act.'"

SECTION 20.

Section 15 of this Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval, and the remaining sections of this Act shall become effective on March 1, 2006.

A RESOLUTION urging the Department of Transportation to proceed with the initiation in 2005 of a pilot performance based asset maintenance project for highway maintenance; and for other purposes.

The Senate Transportation Committee offered the following substitute to SR 503:

A RESOLUTION

Urging the Department of Transportation to proceed with the initiation in 2005 of a pilot performance based asset management project for highway maintenance or bundling of certain maintenance functions; and for other purposes.

WHEREAS, the State of Georgia, like many states throughout the country today, is facing tough challenges with transportation infrastructure; and

WHEREAS, the Georgia Department of Transportation currently operates, maintains, and improves the existing 18,086 miles of roads and highways in Georgia; and

WHEREAS, vehicle miles traveled on our roadways in Georgia continue to increase by two percent annually, while budgetary constraints make it more and more difficult to keep up with the overwhelming needs of the traveling public; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Highway Administration has estimated that 12 percent of the bridges in Georgia are either structurally deficient; and

WHEREAS, no federal funding can be used for maintenance of bridges or roadways, requiring the state to use 100 percent state motor fuel tax; and

WHEREAS, the Governor, the General Assembly, and the Department of Transportation are attempting to meet these challenges and are deserving of support in fully exploring all avenues for innovation and improvement; and

WHEREAS, the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Economic Development governing the Department of Transportation budget held a hearing in 2005 to hear testimony on "best practices" in other states including piloting programs involving a "performance based asset management" approach to transportation maintenance; and

WHEREAS, particularly the State of Florida's Department of Transportation has embarked upon an asset management program for maintenance that has generated proven cost savings of 17 percent without impacting the level of service; and

WHEREAS, other state Departments of Transportation, such as the Texas Department of Transportation, have found that management tools other than performance based asset management, like building of certain noncost effective maintenance functions or blending of public and private resources provides better utilization of resources; and

WHEREAS, the Senate is committed to investigating new and innovative means to save tax dollars while at the same time providing a high level of service to the citizens of our state; and

WHEREAS, the commissioner of the Department of Transportation has during the past year initiated a research study to determine the feasibility of applying asset management concepts and other management tools, such as bundling of maintenance functions or blended public-private resources to highway maintenance in Georgia.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE SENATE that the members of this body recommend the Department of Transportation to consider the feasibility of a pilot performance based asset management project or other management tool such as bundling of maintenance functions or blending of public-private resources for highway maintenance in a location or district it deems most feasible for the benefit of the citizens of the State of Georgia.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate is authorized and directed to transmit an appropriate copy of this resolution to the commissioner of the Department of Transportation.

Honorable Lynn R. Smith, Chairman
House Natural Resources and Environment Committee
State Capitol, Room 228
Atlanta, Georgia 30334

SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
House Bill 559 (LC 18 4144)

Dear Chairman Smith:

This bill would exempt from state sales and use tax purchases of certain energy efficient products for the four days commencing on Thursday October 6, 2005 and concluding on Sunday October 9, 2005. The exemption would not include any applicable local sales and use taxes. The products identified are dishwashers, clothes washers, air conditioners, ceiling fans, incandescent or fluorescent light bulbs, programmable thermostats and refrigerators which meet the Energy Star efficiency standards.

The Georgia State University Fiscal Research Center estimates the impact of this legislation would be to reduce state tax revenues for Fiscal Year 2006 by $187,000. The Center provided the following narrative:

To develop this estimate, data were gathered in several categories
2005 forecast of total U.S. shipments of home appliances by product type (Source: Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers)
Market share data for products which meet the Energy Star standards
(Source: D&R International LTD)
Georgia and U.S. personal income to estimate the share of purchases made in Georgia (Source: Bureau of Economic Analysis)

In addition, assumptions were made regarding unit prices per product line to calculate annual expenditures on each product line. Assumptions were also made to account for missing data on shipments for ceiling fans, light bulbs and thermostats and Energy Star market share information on these products plus dehumidifiers.

Shipment data and pricing assumptions indicate that 2005 expenditures on all product lines will total about $21.4 billion in the U.S. Based on available market share data, sales of Energy Star compliant products included in the proposed legislation will equal about $8.3 billion in the U.S. These sales were increased by 10% to account for product lines included in the legislation but for which no shipment data was located.

Based on the ratio of Georgia personal income to total U.S. personal income of 2.65% for September, 2004, Georgia's purchases of Energy Star compliant devices covered by the legislation equals about $243 million for 2005. This equates to average weekly sales of $4.7 million.

Energy Star compliant products are more expensive than non-compliant products. Some states and utility companies actively promote sales of these products as part of a state-wide energy efficiency plan. Many customers are unwilling to pay the higher up front price for higher efficiency products in order to gain lower energy cost savings for the life of the product. The assessment here is that the reduction in the up front cost via the exemption from the 4% state sales tax will not elicit a measurable shift in market share from non-Energy Star compliant to Energy Star compliant products.

Further, given the tendency for most consumers to buy appliances either with the purchase of a home or as a replacement for a worn out, existing appliance, the size of the exemption is unlikely to have a measurable impact on timing of purchases – that is consumers are not likely to accelerate purchases of appliances in response to the sales tax exemption. Rather, the conclusion is that consumers who would have otherwise purchased an Energy Star compliant product during the one week period around the exemption period will crowd their purchases into the exemption period to capture the 4% exemption. Thus, the revenue impact is calculated based on one week of sales of Energy Star compliant products multiplied by the 4% states sales tax. The impact is estimated at $187,000 for FY 2006.

Sincerely,

/s/ Russell W Hinton
State Auditor

Office of Planning and Budget

(g) Eligibility for the converted policies or contracts shall be as follows:

~~(1) Any qualifying eligible individual whose insurance and its corresponding eligibility under the group policy, including any continuation available, elected, and exhausted under this Code section or the federal Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1986 (COBRA), has been terminated for any reason, including failure of the employer to pay premiums to the insurer, other than fraud or failure of the qualifying eligible individual to pay a required premium contribution to the employer or, if so required, to the insurer directly and who has at least 18 months of creditable coverage immediately prior to termination shall be entitled, without evidence of insurability, to convert to individual or group based coverage covering such qualifying eligible individual and any eligible dependents who were covered under the qualifying eligible individual's coverage under the group contract or group plan. Such conversion coverage must be, at the option of the individual, retroactive to the date of termination of the group coverage or the date on which continuation of COBRA coverage ended, whichever is later. The insurer must offer qualifying eligible individuals at least two distinct conversion options from which to choose.~~

~~One such choice of coverage shall be comparable to comprehensive health insurance coverage offered in the individual market in this state or comparable to a standard option of coverage available under the group or individual health insurance laws of this state. The other choice may be more limited in nature but must also qualify as creditable coverage. Each coverage shall be filed, together with applicable rates, for approval by the Commissioner. Such choices shall be known as the 'Enhanced Conversion Options';~~

~~(2) Premiums for the enhanced conversion options for all qualifying eligible individuals shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions:~~

~~(A) Solely for purposes of this subsection, the claims experience produced by all groups covered under comprehensive major medical or hospitalization accident and sickness insurance for each insurer shall be fully pooled to determine the group pool rate. Except to the extent that the claims experience of an individual group affects the overall experience of the group pool, the claims experience produced by any individual group of each insurer shall not be used in any manner for enhanced conversion policy rating purposes;~~

~~(B) Each insurer's group pool shall consist of each insurer's total claims experience produced by all groups in this state, regardless of the marketing mechanism or distribution system utilized in the sale of the group insurance from which the qualifying eligible individual is converting. The pool shall include the experience generated under any medical expense insurance coverage offered under separate group contracts and contracts issued to trusts, multiple employer trusts, or association groups or trusts, including trusts or arrangements providing group or group-type coverage issued to a trust or association or to any other group policyholder where such group or group-type contract provides coverage, primarily or incidentally, through contracts issued or issued for delivery in this state or provided by solicitation and sale to Georgia residents through an out-of-state multiple employer trust or arrangement; and any other group-type coverage which is determined to be a group shall also be included in the pool for enhanced conversion policy rating purposes; and~~

~~(C) Any other factors deemed relevant by the Commissioner may be considered in determination of each enhanced conversion policy pool rate so long as it does not have the effect of lessening the risk-spreading characteristic of the pooling requirement. Duration since issue and tier factors may not be considered in conversion policy rating. Notwithstanding subparagraph (A) of this paragraph, the total premium calculated for all enhanced conversion policies may deviate from the group pool rate by not more than plus or minus 50 percent based upon the experience generated under the pool of enhanced conversion policies so long as rates do not deviate for similarly situated individuals covered through the pool of enhanced conversion policies;~~

~~(3) Any group member who is not a qualifying eligible individual and whose insurance under the group policy has been terminated for any reason, including failure of the employer to pay premiums to the insurer, other than eligibility for medicare~~

- (reaching a limiting age for coverage under the group policy) or failure of the group member to pay a required premium contribution, and who has been continuously covered under the group contract or group plan, and under any contract or plan providing similar benefits which it replaces, for at least six months immediately prior to termination shall be entitled, without evidence of insurability, to convert to individual or group coverage covering such group member and any eligible dependents who were covered under the group member's coverage under the group contract or group plan. Such conversion coverage must be, at the option of the individual, retroactive to the date of termination of the group coverage or the date on which continuation or COBRA coverage ended, whichever is later. The premium of the basic converted policy shall be determined in accordance with the insurer's table of premium rates applicable to the age and classification of risks of each person to be covered under that policy and to the type and amount of coverage provided. This form of conversion coverage shall be known as the 'Basic Conversion Option'; and
- ~~(4)(2)~~ Nothing in this Code section shall be construed to prevent an insurer from offering additional options to ~~qualifying eligible individuals or~~ group members.
- (h) Each group certificate issued to each group member ~~or qualifying eligible individual~~, in addition to setting forth any conversion rights, shall set forth the continuation right in a separate provision bearing its own caption. The provisions shall clearly set forth a full description of the continuation and conversion rights available, including all requirements, limitations, and exceptions, the premium required, and the time of payment of all premiums due during the period of continuation or conversion.
- (i) This Code section shall not apply to limited benefit insurance policies. For the purposes of this Code section, the term 'limited benefit insurance' means accident and sickness insurance designed, advertised, and marketed to supplement major medical insurance. The term limited benefit insurance includes accident only, CHAMPUS supplement, dental, disability income, fixed indemnity, long-term care, medicare supplement, specified disease, vision, and any other accident and sickness insurance other than basic hospital expense, basic medical-surgical expense, and comprehensive major medical insurance coverage.
- (j) The Commissioner shall adopt such rules and regulations as he or she deems necessary for the administration of this Code section. Such rules and regulations may prescribe various conversion plans, including minimum conversion standards and minimum benefits, but not requiring benefits in excess of those provided under the group contract or group plan from which conversion is made, scope of coverage, preexisting limitations, optional coverages, reductions, notices to covered persons, and such other requirements as the Commissioner deems necessary for the protection of the citizens of this state.
- (k) This Code section shall apply to all group plans and group contracts delivered or issued for delivery in this state on or after July 1, 1998, and to group plans and group contracts then in effect on the first anniversary date occurring on or after July 1, 1998."

Coverages available under the Georgia Health Insurance Risk Pool must be made available not later than January 1, 2006, unless the board with the agreement of the Commissioner determines that reasonably sufficient funds necessary to issue coverage and pay claims are not available to the pool as provided in Code Section 33-29A-12."

An eligible enrollee shall be entitled to appeal to an independent review organization

 - (A) The eligible enrollee has a terminal condition that, according to the treating physician, has a substantial probability of causing death within two years from the date of the request for independent review or the eligible enrollee's ability to regain or maintain maximum function, as determined by the treating physician, would be impaired by withholding the experimental treatment;
 - (B) After exhaustion of standard treatment as provided by the evidence of coverage or a finding that such treatment would be of substantially lesser or of no benefit, the eligible enrollee's treating physician certifies that the eligible enrollee has a condition for which standard treatment would not be medically indicated for the eligible enrollee or for which there is no standard treatment available under the evidence of coverage of the eligible enrollee more beneficial than the treatment proposed;

 - (E) A specific treatment recommended would otherwise be included within the eligible enrollee's certificate of coverage, except for the determination by the managed care entity that such treatment is experimental for a particular condition.

33-20A-33.

Except where required pursuant to Code Section 51-1-49, a proposed treatment must require the expenditure of a minimum of $500.00 to qualify for independent review.

33-20A-34.

(a) The parent or guardian of a minor who is an eligible enrollee may act on behalf of the minor in requesting independent review. The legal guardian or representative of an incapacitated eligible enrollee shall be authorized to act on behalf of the eligible enrollee in requesting independent review. Except as provided in Code Section 51-1-49, independent review may not be requested by persons other than the eligible enrollee or a person acting on behalf of the eligible enrollee as provided in this Code section.

(b) A managed care entity shall be required to pay the full cost of applying for and obtaining ~~the independent review~~.

(c) The eligible enrollee and the managed care entity shall cooperate with the independent review organization to provide the information and documentation, including executing necessary releases for medical records, which are necessary for the independent review organization to make a determination of the claim.

33-20A-35.

(a) In the event that the outcome of the grievance procedure under Code Section 33-20A-5 is adverse to the eligible enrollee, the managed care entity shall include with the written notice of the outcome of the grievance procedure a statement specifying that any request for independent review must be made to the ~~planning agency department~~ on forms developed by the ~~planning agency department~~, and such forms shall be included with the notification. Such statement shall be in simple, clear language in boldface type which is larger and bolder than any other typeface which is in the notice and in at least 14 point typeface.

(b) An eligible enrollee must submit the written request for independent review to the ~~planning agency department~~. Instructions on how to request independent review shall be given to all eligible enrollees with the written notice required under this Code section together with instructions in simple, clear language as to what information, documentation, and procedure are required for independent review.

(c) Upon receipt of a completed form requesting independent review as required by subsection (a) of this Code section, the ~~planning agency department~~ shall notify the eligible enrollee of receipt and assign the request to an independent review organization on a rotating basis according to the date the request is received.

(d) Upon assigning a request for independent review to an independent review organization, the ~~planning agency department~~ shall provide written notification of the name and address of the assigned organization to both the requesting eligible enrollee and the managed care entity.

(e) No managed care entity may be certified by the Commissioner under Article 1 of this chapter unless the entity agrees to pay the costs of independent review to the independent review organization assigned by the ~~planning agency department~~ to conduct each review involving such entity's eligible enrollees.

(a) Within three business days of receipt of notice from the ~~planning agency department~~ of assignment of the application for determination to an independent review organization, the managed care entity shall submit to that organization the following:

- (1) Any information submitted to the managed care entity by the eligible enrollee in support of the eligible enrollee's grievance procedure filing;
- (2) A copy of the contract provisions or evidence of coverage of the managed care plan; and
- (3) Any other relevant documents or information used by the managed care entity in determining the outcome of the eligible enrollee's grievance.

Upon request, the managed care entity shall provide a copy of all documents required by this subsection, except for any proprietary or privileged information, to the eligible enrollee. The eligible enrollee may provide the independent review organization with any additional information the eligible enrollee deems relevant.

(b) The independent review organization shall request any additional information required for the review from the managed care entity and the eligible enrollee within five business days of receipt of the documentation required under this Code section. Any additional information requested by the independent review organization shall be submitted within five business days of receipt of the request, or an explanation of why the additional information is not being submitted shall be provided.

(c) Additional information obtained from the eligible enrollee shall be transmitted to the managed care entity, which may determine that such additional information justifies a reconsideration of the outcome of the grievance procedure. A decision by the managed care entity to cover fully the treatment in question upon reconsideration using such additional information shall terminate independent review.

(d) The expert reviewer of the independent review organization shall make a determination within 15 business days after expiration of all time limits set forth in this Code section, but such time limits may be extended or shortened by mutual agreement between the eligible enrollee and the managed care entity. The determination shall be in writing and state the basis of the reviewer's decision. A copy of the decision shall be delivered to the managed care entity, the eligible enrollee, and the ~~planning agency~~ department by at least first-class mail.

(e) The independent review organization's decision shall be based upon a review of the information and documentation submitted to it.

(f) Information required or authorized to be provided pursuant to this Code section may be provided by facsimile transmission or other electronic transmission.

(a) A decision of the independent review organization in favor of the eligible enrollee shall be final and binding on the managed care entity and the appropriate relief shall be provided without delay. A managed care entity bound by such decision of an independent review organization shall not be liable pursuant to Code Section 51-1-48 for abiding by such decision. Nothing in this Code section shall relieve the managed care entity from liability for damages proximately caused by its determination of the proposed treatment prior to such decision.

(b) A determination by the independent review organization in favor of a managed care entity shall create a rebuttable presumption in any subsequent action that the managed care entity's prior determination was appropriate and shall constitute a medical record for purposes of Code Section 24-7-8.

(c) In the event that, in the judgment of the treating health care provider, the health condition of the enrollee is such that following the provisions of Code Section 33-20A-36 would jeopardize the life or health of the eligible enrollee or the eligible enrollee's ability to regain maximum function, as determined by the treating health care provider, an expedited review shall be available. The expedited review process shall encompass all elements enumerated in Code Sections 33-20A-36 and 33-20A-40; provided, however, that a decision by the expert reviewer shall be rendered within 72 hours after the expert reviewer's receipt of all available requested documents.

Neither an independent review organization nor its employees, agents, or contractors shall be liable for damages arising from determinations made pursuant to this article, unless an act or omission thereof is made in bad faith or through gross negligence, constitutes fraud or willful misconduct, or demonstrates malice, wantonness, oppression, or that entire want of care which would raise the presumption of conscious indifference to the consequences.

33-20A-39.

(a) The ~~planning agency~~ department shall certify independent review organizations that meet the requirements of this Code section and any regulations promulgated by the ~~planning agency~~ department consistent with this article. An agreement to provide independent review for an eligible enrollee or managed care entity is not a conflict of interest under subsection (b) of this Code section.
- (d) The independent review organization shall have a quality assurance mechanism in place that ensures the timeliness and quality of the reviews, the qualifications and independence of the experts, and the confidentiality of medical records and review materials.
- (e) The ~~planning agency~~ department shall provide upon the request of any interested person a copy of all nonproprietary information filed with it pursuant to this article. Said chapter is further amended by striking Code Section 25-9-6, relating to prerequisites to blasting or excavating and marking sites, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"25-9-6.

(a) No person shall commence, perform, or engage in blasting or in excavating with mechanized excavating equipment on any tract or parcel of land in any county in this state unless and until the person planning the blasting or excavating has given 48 hours' notice by submitting a locate request to the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC, beginning the next business day after such notice is provided, excluding hours during days other than business days. Any person performing excavation is responsible for being aware of all information timely entered into the PRIS prior to the commencement of excavation. If, prior to the expiration of the 48 hour waiting period, all identified facility owners or operators have responded to the locate request, and if all have indicated that their facilities are either not in conflict or have been marked, then the person planning to perform excavation or blasting shall be authorized to commence work, subject to the other requirements of this Code section, without waiting the full 48 hours. The 48 hours' notice shall not be required for excavating where minimally intrusive excavation methods are used exclusively. Any locate request received by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC after business hours shall be deemed to have been received by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC the next business day. Such locate request shall:

- (1) Describe the tract or parcel of land upon which the blasting or excavation is to take place with sufficient particularity, as defined by policies developed and promulgated by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC, to enable the facility owner or operator to ascertain the precise tract or parcel of land involved;
 - (2) State the name, address, and telephone number of the person who will engage in the blasting or excavating;
 - (3) Describe the type of blasting or excavating to be engaged in by the person; and
 - (4) Designate the date upon which the blasting or excavating will commence.
- (b) In the event the location upon which the blasting or excavating is to take place cannot be described with sufficient particularity to enable the facility owner or operator to ascertain the precise tract or parcel involved, the person proposing the blasting or excavating shall mark the route or boundary of the site of the proposed blasting or excavating by means of white paint, white stakes, or white flags if practical, or schedule an on-site meeting with the locator or facility owner or operator and inform the ~~utility protection center~~ UPC, within a reasonable time, of the results of such meeting.
- (c) Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, notice given pursuant to subsection (a) of this Code section shall expire 21 calendar days following the date of such notice, and no blasting or excavating undertaken pursuant to this notice shall continue after such time ~~has expired. In the event~~ that the blasting or excavating which is the subject of the notice given pursuant to subsection (a) of this Code section will not be completed within 21 calendar days following the date of such notice, an additional notice must be given in accordance with subsection (a) of this Code section for the locate request to remain valid.

(d) For emergencies, notice shall expire at 7:00 A.M. three business days after the notification is made to the UPC.

~~(d)~~(e) Except for those persons submitting design locate requests, no person, including facility owners or operators, shall request marking of a site through the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC unless excavating is scheduled to commence. In addition, no person shall make repeated requests for re-marking, unless the repeated request is required for excavating to continue or due to circumstances not reasonably within the control of such person. Any person who willfully fails to comply with this subsection shall be ~~strictly~~ liable to the facility owner or operator for ~~three times the cost of marking the utility facility, not to exceed $1,000.00~~ $100.00 or for actual costs, whichever is greater, for each repeated request for re-marking.

~~(e)~~(f) If, subsequent to giving the notice to the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC required by subsection (a) of this Code section, a person planning excavating determines that such work will require blasting, then such person shall promptly so notify the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC and shall refrain from any blasting until the facility owner or operator responds within 24 hours, excluding hours during days other than business days, following receipt by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC of such notice.

~~(f)~~(g) When a locate request is made in accordance with subsection (a) of this Code section, excavators other than the person planning the blasting or excavating may conduct such activity, provided that the person planning the blasting or excavating shall remain responsible for ensuring that any stakes or other markings placed in accordance with this chapter remain in place and reasonably visible until such blasting or excavating is completed; and provided, further, that such blasting or excavating is:

- (1) Performed on the tract or parcel of land identified in the locate request;
- (2) Performed by a person authorized by and having a contractual relationship with the person planning the blasting or excavating;
- (3) The type of blasting or excavating described in the locate request; and
- (4) Carried out in accordance with all other requirements of this chapter.

(h) Facility owners or operators may bill an excavator their costs for any requests for re-marking other than for re-marks with no more than five individual addresses on a single locate request. Such costs shall be documented actual costs and shall not exceed $100.00 per re-mark request."

SECTION 6.

Said chapter is further amended by striking Code Section 25-9-7. relating to determining whether utility facilities are present, information to be provided to the utilities protection center, noncompliance, future utility facilities, and abandoned utility facilities, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"25-9-7. www.libtool.com.cn

(a)(1) Within 48 hours beginning the next business day after the business day following receipt by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC of the locate request filed in accordance with Code Section 25-9-6, excluding hours during days other than business days, each facility owner or operator shall determine whether or not utility facilities are located on the tract or parcel of land upon which the excavating or blasting is to occur. If utility facilities are determined to be present, the facility owner or operator shall designate, through stakes, flags, permanent markers, or other marks on the surface of the tract or parcel of land, the location of utility facilities. ~~In the event of extraordinary circumstances, the facility owner or operator shall notify the utilities protection center as provided in subsection (c) of this Code section. This subsection shall not apply to large projects.~~

(2) Designation ~~Such designation~~ of the location of utility facilities through staking ~~or, flagging, permanent markers, or other marking~~ shall be in accordance with the American Public Works Association (APWA) color code in place at the time the location of the utility facility is designated. Additional marking requirements beyond color code, if any, shall be prescribed by rules and regulations promulgated by the Public Service Commission.

(3) A facility owner or operator is not required to mark its own facilities within 48 hours if the facility owner or operator or its agents are the only parties performing the excavation; however, such facilities shall be designated prior to the actual start of excavation.

(b)(1) Within 48 hours beginning the next business day after the business day following receipt by the UPC of the locate request filed in accordance with Code Section 25-9-6, excluding hours during days other than business days, each sewer system owner or operator shall determine whether or not sewer laterals are located or likely to be located on the tract or parcel of land upon which the excavating or blasting is to occur. If sewer laterals are determined to be present or likely to be present, then the sewer system owner or operator shall assist in designating sewer laterals up to the edge of the public right of way. Such assistance shall not constitute ownership or operation of the sewer lateral by the sewer system owner or operator. Good faith compliance with provisions of this subsection in response to a locate request shall constitute full compliance with this chapter, and no person shall be found liable to any party for damages or injuries as a result of performing in compliance with the requirements of this subsection.

(2) To assist in designating sewer laterals, the sewer system owner or operator shall provide its best available information regarding the location of the sewer laterals to the excavator. This information shall be conveyed to the excavator in a manner that may include, but shall not be limited to, any one of the following methods:

(A) Marking the location of sewer laterals in accordance with subsection (a) of this section, provided that:

(i) Any sewer lateral designated using the best available information shall constitute a good faith attempt and shall be deemed to be in compliance with this subsection, provided that such mark represents only the best available information of the sewer system owner or operator and may not be accurate; and

(ii) If a sewer lateral is unlocatable, a triangular green mark shall be placed at the sewer main pointing at the address in question to indicate the presence of an unlocatable sewer lateral;

(B) Providing electronic copies of or delivering the records through facsimile or by other means to an agreed upon location within 48 hours beginning the next business day after the business day following receipt by the UPC of the locate request filed in accordance with Code Section 25-9-6, excluding hours during days other than business days; provided, however, that for local governing authorities that receive fewer than 50 locate requests annually, the local governing authority may designate the agreed upon location and communicate such designation to the excavator;

(C) Arranging to meet the excavator on site to provide the best available information about the location of the sewer laterals;

(D) Providing the records through other processes and to other locations approved by documented agreement between the excavator and the facility owner or operator;

or

(E) Any other reasonable means of conveyance approved by the commission after receiving recommendations from the advisory committee, provided that such means are equivalent to or exceed the provisions of subparagraph (A), (B), or (C) of this paragraph.

~~(b)(c)~~ Each facility owner or operator, either upon determining that no utility facility or sewer lateral is present on the tract or parcel of land or upon completion of the designation of the location of any utility facilities or sewer laterals on the tract or parcel of land as required by subsection (a) or (b) of this Code section, shall provide this information to the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC in accordance with procedures developed by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC, and which may include the use of the ~~Ticket Information Exchange System~~ PRIS. In no event shall such notice be provided later than midnight of the second business day following receipt by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC of actual notice filed in accordance with Code Section 25-9-6.

~~(c)(d)~~ In the event the facility owner or operator is unable to designate the location of the utility facilities or sewer laterals due to extraordinary circumstances, the facility owner or operator shall notify the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC and provide an estimated completion date in accordance with procedures developed by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC, which may include the use of the ~~Ticket Information Exchange System~~ PRIS.

~~(d)(e)~~ If, at the end of the time period specified in ~~subsection (a)~~ subsections (a) and (b) of this Code section, any facility owner or operator has not complied with the requirements of subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this Code section, as applicable, the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC shall issue a second request to each such facility owner or operator. If the facility owner or operator does not respond to this additional request by 12:00 Noon of that business day, either by notifying the ~~utilities protection center~~

UPC in accordance with procedures developed by the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC that no ~~utility facilities or sewer laterals~~ are present on the tract or parcel of land, or by designating the location of such utility facilities or sewer laterals in accordance with the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of this Code section, as applicable, then the person providing notice pursuant to Code Section 25-9-6 may proceed with the excavating or blasting, provided that there is no visible and obvious evidence of the presence of an unmarked utility facility or sewer lateral on the tract or parcel of land. Such person shall not be subject to any liability resulting from damage to the utility facility or sewer lateral as a result of the blasting or excavating, provided that such person complies with the requirements of Code Section 25-9-8.

(f) If visible and obvious evidence of the presence of an unmarked utility facility or sewer lateral does exist and the facility owner or operator either refuses to comply with subsections (a) through (d) of this Code section, as applicable, or is not a member of the UPC, then the excavator shall attempt to designate such facility or sewer lateral prior to excavating. The facility owner or operator shall be liable for the actual costs associated with the excavator designating such utility facilities and sewer laterals. Such costs shall not exceed $100.00 or documented actual costs, whichever is greater, for each locate request.

(e)(g) All utility facilities installed by facility owners or operators on or after January 1, 2001, shall be installed in a manner which will make them locatable using a generally accepted electronic locating method by facility owners or operators. All sewer laterals installed on or after January 1, 2006, shall be installed in a manner which will make them locatable by facility owners or operators using a generally accepted electronic locating method. In the event that an unlocatable utility facility or unlocatable sewer lateral becomes exposed when the facility owner or operator is present or in the case of sewer laterals when the sewer utility owner or operator is present on or after January 1, 2006, such utility facility or sewer lateral shall be made locatable through the use of a permanent marker or an updating of permanent records.

(f)(h) Facility owners or operators shall either maintain in a data base recorded information concerning the location and other characteristics of abandoned utility facilities, maintain such abandoned utility facilities in a locatable manner, or remove such abandoned utility facilities. Facility owners or operators shall provide information on abandoned utility facilities, when possible, in response to a locate request or design locate request. When the presence of an abandoned facility within an excavation site is known, the facility owner or operator should attempt to locate and mark the abandoned facility or provide information to the excavator regarding such facilities. When located or exposed, all abandoned utility facilities and sewer laterals shall be treated as live utility facilities and sewer laterals.

(i) Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, a facility owner or operator may use a locator to designate any or all utility facilities and sewer laterals. The use of a locator shall not relieve the facility owner or operator of any responsibility under this chapter. However, by contract a facility owner or operator may be indemnified by a locator for any failure on the part of the locator to comply with the provisions of this chapter.

(j) By January 11, 2006, the advisory committee shall propose to the Public Service Commission rules and processes specific to the locating of large projects. These rules shall include, but shall not be limited to, the establishment of detailed processes. Such rules may also include changes in the time period allowed for a facility owner or operator to comply with the provisions of this chapter and to the time period for which designations are valid. The commission shall promulgate rules addressing this subsection no later than June 1, 2006.

(k)(1) Within 48 hours beginning the next business day after the business day following receipt by the UPC of the locate request filed in accordance with Code Section 25-9-6, excluding hours during days other than business days, each facility owner or operator shall determine whether or not unlocatable facilities other than sewer laterals are present. In the event that such facilities are determined to be present, the facility owner or operator shall exercise reasonable care in locating such facilities. The exercise of reasonable care shall require, at a minimum, the use of the best available information to designate the facilities and notification to the UPC of such attempted location. Placing markers or otherwise leaving evidence of locations of facilities is deemed to be an acceptable form of notification to the excavator or locator.

(2) This subsection shall not apply to sewer laterals."

SECTION 7.

Said chapter is further amended by striking Code Section 25-9-8, relating to the obligations of blasters and excavators with regard to utility facilities, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"25-9-8.

(a) Persons engaged in blasting or in excavating with mechanized excavating equipment shall not strike, damage, injure, or loosen any utility facility or sewer lateral which has been staked, flagged, or marked in accordance with this chapter.

(b) When excavating or blasting is to take place within the tolerance zone, the excavator shall exercise such reasonable care as may be necessary for the protection of the utility facility or sewer lateral, including permanent markers and paint placed to designate utility facilities. This protection shall include, but may not be limited to, hand digging, pot holing, soft digging, vacuum excavation methods, pneumatic hand tools, other mechanical methods with the approval of the facility owner or operator, or other generally accepted methods. For parallel type excavations, the existing facility shall be exposed at intervals as often as necessary to avoid damages.

(c) When conducting trenchless excavation the excavator must exercise reasonable care, as described in subsection (b) of this Code section, and shall take additional care to attempt to prevent damage to utility facilities and sewer laterals. The recommendations of the HDD consortium applicable to the performance of trenchless excavation set out in the document 'Horizontal Directional Drilling Good Practice Guidelines,' dated May, 2001, are adopted by reference as a part of this subsection to describe such additional care. The advisory committee may recommend to the commission more stringent criteria as it deems necessary to define additional care and the commission is authorized to adopt additional criteria to define additional care.

(d) Any person engaged in blasting or in excavating with mechanized excavating equipment who strikes, damages, injures, or loosens any utility facility or sewer lateral, regardless of whether the utility facility or sewer lateral is marked, shall immediately cease such blasting or excavating and notify the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC and the appropriate facility owner or operator, if known. Upon receiving notice from the excavator or the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC, the facility owner or operator shall send personnel to the location as soon as possible to effect temporary or permanent repair of the ~~damages~~ damage. Until such time as the damage has been repaired, no person shall engage in excavating or blasting activities that may cause further damage to the utility facility or sewer lateral except as provided in Code Section 25-9-12."

SECTION 8.

Said chapter is further amended by striking subsection (a) of Code Section 25-9-9, relating to the degree of accuracy required in location information for utility facilities, and the effect on liability of inaccurate information, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(a) For the purposes of this chapter, ~~information concerning~~ the location of utility facilities which is provided by a facility owner or operator in accordance with subsection (a) of Code Section 25-9-7 to any person must be accurate to within 24 inches measured horizontally from the outer edge of either side of such utility facilities. If any utility facility becomes damaged by an excavator due to the furnishing of inaccurate information as to its location by the facility owner or operator, such excavator shall not be subject to any liability resulting from damage to the utility facility as a result of the blasting or excavating, provided that such person complies with the requirements of Code Section 25-9-8 and there is no visible and obvious evidence to the excavator of the presence of a mismarked utility facility."

SECTION 9.

Said chapter is further amended by striking Code Section 25-9-12, relating to notice requirements for emergency evacuations, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"25-9-12.

The notice requirements provided by Code Section 25-9-6 shall not be required of persons performing emergency excavations or excavation in extraordinary circumstances; provided, however, that any person who engages in an emergency excavation or excavation in extraordinary circumstances shall take all reasonable precautions to avoid or minimize damage to any existing utility facilities and sewer laterals; provided, further, that any person who engages in an emergency excavation or excavation in extraordinary circumstances shall give notice of the emergency excavation as soon as practical to the ~~utilities protection center~~ UPC. In giving such notice, such person must specifically identify the dangerous condition involved. If it is later determined ~~by the commission~~ that the excavation did not qualify as an emergency excavation, all liabilities and penalties will accrue as if no notice had been given."

SECTION 10.

Said chapter is further amended by striking Code Section 25-9-13, relating to penalties for violations of the chapter, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"25-9-13.

(a) Any person who violates the requirements of Code Section 25-9-6 and whose subsequent excavating or blasting damages utility facilities or sewer laterals shall be strictly liable for:

Honorable Larry O'Neal, Chairman
House Ways and Means Committee
State Capitol, Room 133
Atlanta, Georgia 30334

SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
House Bill 538 (LC 18 4202)

Dear Chairman O'Neal:

This bill would allow members of the National Guard and reservists on active duty for 90 or more consecutive days to exclude all income (earned and unearned) from Georgia income tax. This bill would amend current law, which provides for an exemption of military income from taxation under similar circumstances regarding active duty. The revenue impact therefore is due to the additional exclusion of non-military income for those qualifying for the exemption. The bill also provides for a no-cost extension of state licensure and registration requirements for guard and reserve members other than attorneys who meet the 90-day duty criteria

The Georgia State University Fiscal Research Center estimates the upper bound revenue impact of this change to be a revenue loss of approximately $9.7 million. The Center provided the following narrative regarding this estimate:

The revenue loss associated with this bill comes from four sources: unearned income (interest, dividends, etc.), wages from non-military employment in the same calendar year in which deployment took place, wages from non-military employers that are given by the previous employer to hold harmless those deployed, and the reduced revenue from license and registration renewals.

In 2003, it was reported that 7,700 reservists and National Guard troops from Georgia were on active duty (compared to a nationwide total of 204,000). For 2005, it is assumed that the number of active duty reservists and National Guard troops remains approximately the same and that these individuals meet the 90-day rule of this legislation. The Department of Defense publishes data on the number of reservists and Guard troops on active duty but does not publish the date of deployment. An upper bound revenue cost estimate is made assuming that 9 months of regular salary is covered under the income exclusion of this bill.

The 2000 U.S. Census Bureau's 5% sample of individuals is used to determine the average unearned income of individuals on active duty (data are not available specifically for reservists and national guard troops on active duty) and for those who report that they are training for reserves or National Guard duty. The income data reported in the 2000 Census is based on 1999 actual income. For those reporting active duty, average wages for Georgians are $24,377 per year and other income above wages is $1,000 on average. This suggests that for career military, total income is only slightly larger than their military pay. In the same data sample the average total income of individuals who report that they are training for reserves or National Guard is $33,108 and wage income is $28,029. The average payment to a National Guard or reservist in Georgia in 1999 was $6,200 (based on deflating 2003 data). This income should be reported as "other income" and therefore included in total income but not in wage income as reported to the Census. These data demonstrate that, on average, a member of the reserves or National Guard reports wages and very little "other income" aside from reserve pay.

Based on data from the Department of Defense, the average pay for Georgians on active duty is $40,800 per year (fiscal year 2003) and $43,500 at 2005 levels. Under current Georgia law (Code Section 48-7-27), this income is exempt from state income tax and data suggest that no hold harmless supplement would be given by non-military employers to these individuals. Therefore, the only anticipated revenue loss for these individuals is the non-military pay they received in a calendar year once they meet the 90-day rule. As noted above, assuming that this pertains to 9 months of salary, this results in a revenue loss of $4.2 million for this group of guard and reservists (66 percent of the total number of troops).

For individuals with above average wages and total income (about 33 percent of the reservist and guard troops), the average difference between wages and total income is also approximately equal to the average reservists pay in 1999, suggesting that there is little other non-military income. However, for these individuals at 2005 levels, active duty military pay is $20,480 less than their average wage. Conservatively assuming that 10 percent of that difference would be made up as supplements from employers and that all active duty reservist and guard troops report $1,000 in non-military income, the revenue cost associated with hold harmless payment from their employers is estimated to be $460,000 for 2005 at an average tax rate of 5.0 percent (developed using the Georgia Income Tax Microsimulation model) and the additional 9 months salary exemption is estimated to cost $4.9 million in revenue loss (assuming an annual average wage of $63,980 for this group of 33 percent of the total troops). A lower bound estimate assuming 3 months of non-military pay exemption yields a revenue loss of $3.5 million.

The Secretary of State lists 43 occupations for which Georgia has various registration and licensing requirements. The value of the renewals and costs for late renewal vary widely, with an unweighted average of $150. Using the Census data used above, it is estimated that approximately 10 percent of the reservists are in occupations for which licensing and registration fees would apply. Using these data, the revenue cost associated with this component of the bill is $120,000.

Sincerely,

/s/ Russell W Hinton
State Auditor

SR 21. By Senators Kemp of the 46th, Grant of the 25th, Tate of the 38th and Hamrick of the 30th:

A RESOLUTION creating the Joint Early Learning Initiative Commission; and for other purposes.

The House substitute was as follows:

www.libtool.com.cn A RESOLUTION

Creating the Joint Early Learning Initiative Commission; and for other purposes.

WHEREAS, quality early care and learning opportunities for all children, especially for at-risk children from birth to five years of age, are essential to improving school performance for Georgia students; and

WHEREAS, the state has invested lottery proceeds, state funds, and federal funds in the Office of School Readiness and Georgia's Pre-K Program, for a total of $360,959,969.00 in the 2004 budget adopted in the 2004 session; and

WHEREAS, there are proposals for delegation of authority and funding over certain federal early learning programs to the states; and

WHEREAS, a comprehensive review of early learning opportunities currently available that support health, social and emotional, cognitive and physical well being of children from birth to five years of age and recommendations for improvement of quality early care and learning opportunities would be helpful to the General Assembly in adopting education policies and appropriating funds for the most effective uses.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA that there is created the Joint Early Learning Initiative Commission to be composed of 21 members, including four members of the House of Representatives to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and four members of the Senate to be appointed by the Senate Committee on Assignments. The Governor shall appoint seven members, including one member with expertise relating to early care and learning programs, one parent with a child enrolled in a pre-kindergarten program, one parent with a child currently enrolled in Head Start or Early Head Start, one representative from the child care/early learning center community, one private provider pre-kindergarten instructor, one public school pre-kindergarten instructor, and one Head Start instructor. The Chancellor of the Board of Regents, the Commissioner of the Department of Technical Adult Education, the director of the Georgia Lottery Corporation, the director of the Georgia Student Finance Commission, the Georgia State School Superintendent or her designee, and the commissioner of Bright From the Start: Georgia Department of Early Care and Learning shall be ex-officio members of the commission. The Speaker of the House of Representatives shall designate a member of the House and the Senate Committee on Assignments shall designate a member of the Senate who shall serve as cochairpersons of the commission. The commission shall meet at the call of the cochairpersons.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the commission shall undertake a study of the following: issues relating to the anticipated action of the federal government in delegating authority relating to Head Start to the state; an examination of federal and state early learning programs to define efficiencies in each; options for combining federal and state programs if authority over federal funds and programs are delegated to the state; an investigation of early learning efforts statewide, including federal, state, and private programs to assess innovative approaches and to recommend effective practices; an investigation to develop and align early learning standards from birth to five years of age and from kindergarten through 12th grade, thus providing Georgia students with a seamless system of learning standards; investigate research that demonstrates that training and credentialing of early care and education teachers is critical to obtaining positive child outcomes and investigate and improve the professional development opportunities/system for early care and learning teachers by the creation of a statewide articulation agreement between community-based, tech school and colleges and universities that support the professional development of Georgia's early care and education teachers; possible expansion of early learning programs for at-risk three-year-olds; the creation of a statewide data base system that ensures a measure of accountability across state programs; an economic impact study that measures and demonstrates the value of federal, state, and local investments made in quality early care and education programs in Georgia; and the impact of an early education income tax credit for families with incomes under 200 percent of the federally designated poverty level that would allow low-income families to afford early education options that wealthier families can afford at institutions of their choice. The commission may recommend any actions or legislation which the commission deems necessary or appropriate. The commission may conduct such meetings at such places and at such times as it may deem necessary or convenient to enable it to exercise fully and effectively its powers, perform its duties, and accomplish the objectives and purposes of this resolution. The members of the commission shall receive the allowances authorized for legislative members of interim legislative committees but shall receive the same for not more than three days unless additional days are authorized. The funds necessary to carry out the provisions of this resolution shall come from the funds appropriated to the House of Representatives and Senate. The Carl Vinson Institute at the University of Georgia is authorized and directed to provide staff services to the commission. In the event the commission makes a report of its findings and recommendations, with suggestions for proposed legislation, if any, such report shall be made on or before December 31, 2006. The commission shall stand abolished on December 31, 2006.

Said title is further amended by striking Code Section 33-27-1, relating to group requirements generally, and inserting in lieu thereof a new Code Section 33-27-1 to read as follows:

No policy of group life insurance shall be delivered in this state unless it conforms to one of the following descriptions:

(1) EMPLOYEE GROUPS. A policy issued to an employer or to the trustees of a fund established by an employer, which employer or trustee shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employer for the benefit of persons other than the employer, subject to the following requirements:

(A) The employees eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the employees of the employer or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment. The policy may provide that the term 'employees' shall include the employees of one or more subsidiary corporations and the employees, individual proprietors, and partners of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietors, or partnerships, if the business of the employer and of such affiliated corporations, proprietors, or partnerships is under common control through stock ownership or contract or otherwise. The policy may provide that the term 'employees' shall include the individual proprietor or partners if the employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. The policy may provide that the term 'employees' shall include retired employees. No individual proprietor or partner shall be eligible for insurance under the policy unless he is actively engaged in and devotes a substantial part of his time to the conduct of the business of the proprietor or partnership. A policy issued to insure the employees of a public body may provide that the term 'employees' shall include elected or appointed officials;

(B) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder either from the employer's own funds or from charges collected from the insured employee specifically for such insurance or from funds contributed by both the employer and the employee. A policy in which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured employee must insure each eligible employee, except for any employee as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer;

(C) The policy must cover at least two employees at date of issue; and

(D) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the employees or by the employer or trustee.

(2) DEBTOR GROUPS. A policy issued to a creditor or to a trustee or agent appointed by two or more creditors, which creditor, trustee, or agent shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure debtors of the creditor, subject to the following requirements:

(A) The debtors eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the debtors of the creditor whose indebtedness is repayable either in installments, including any extraordinary payment of an installment or lease-purchase obligation, or in one sum at the end of a period not in excess of 24 months from the initial date of debt or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to the indebtedness or to the purchase giving rise to the indebtedness. The policy may provide that the term 'debtors' shall include the debtors of one or more subsidiary corporations and the debtors of one or more affiliated corporations, proprietors, or partnerships, if the business of the policyholder and of such affiliated corporations, proprietors, or partnerships is under common control through stock ownership, contract, or otherwise. No debtor shall be eligible unless the indebtedness constitutes an irrevocable obligation to repay which is binding upon him during his lifetime at the time the insurance becomes effective upon his life;

(B) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder either from the creditor's funds, from charges collected from the insured debtors, or from both. A policy on which part or all of the premium is to be derived from the collection from the insured debtors of identifiable charges not required of uninsured debtors shall not include, in the class or classes of debtors eligible for insurance, debtors under obligations outstanding at its date of issue without evidence of individual insurability unless at least 75 percent of the then eligible debtors elect to pay the required charges. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from the collection of such identifiable charges must insure all eligible debtors or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer;

(C) The policy may be issued only if the policy reserves to the insurer the right to require evidence of individual insurability if less than 75 percent of the new entrants become insured. The policy may exclude from the classes eligible for insurance classes of debtors determined by age;

(D) The amount of insurance on the life of any debtor shall at no time exceed the amount owed by him which is repayable in installments, the amount of the unpaid indebtedness, or $75,000.00, whichever is less. Where the indebtedness is repayable in one sum to the creditor, the insurance on the life of any debtor shall in no instance be in effect for a period in excess of ~~18~~ 24 months, except that such insurance may be continued for an additional period not exceeding six months in the case of default, extension, or recasting of the loan; and

(E) The insurance shall be payable to the policyholder. Such payment shall reduce or extinguish the unpaid indebtedness of the debtor to the extent of such payment.

(3) MORTGAGEE GROUP. A policy issued to a creditor, or to a trustee or agent appointed by two or more creditors, which creditor, trustee, or agent shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure mortgagors of the creditor. The insurance must be written in connection with a credit transaction that is secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust; made to finance the purchase of real property or the construction of a dwelling thereon, or to refinance a prior credit transaction made for the purpose; and shall be payable to the policyholder. Such payment shall reduce or extinguish the unpaid mortgage of the mortgagor to the extent of such payment.

(4) AGRICULTURAL LOANS. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Code section, group life insurance in connection with agricultural loans may be written up to the amount of the loan or loan commitment on the nondecreasing or level term plan; however, the amount of insurance on the life of any such debtor shall not on any anniversary date of the insurance exceed the amount then owed by him which is repayable in installments, the amount of the then unpaid indebtedness, or ~~$40,000.00~~ $75,000.00, whichever is less.

(4)(5) LABOR UNION GROUPS. A policy issued to a labor union, which shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure members of such union for the benefit of persons other than the union or any of its officials, representatives, or agents, subject to the following requirements:

(A) The members eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the members of the union or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment or to membership in the union, or both;

(B) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the policyholder either wholly from the union's funds or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. No policy may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured members specifically for their insurance must insure all eligible members or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer;

(C) The policy must cover at least 25 members at date of issue; and

(D) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the members or by the union.

~~(5)~~(6) TRUSTEE GROUPS. A policy issued to the trustees of a fund established by two or more employers or by one or more labor unions or by one or more employers and one or more labor unions, which trustees shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure employees of the employers or members of the unions for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the unions, subject to the following requirements:

(A) The persons eligible for insurance shall be all of the employees of the employers, all of the members of the unions, or all of any class or classes of employees or union members determined by conditions pertaining to their employment, to membership in the unions, or to both. The policy may provide that the term 'employees' shall include retired employees and the individual proprietor or partners if an employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. No director of a corporate employer shall be eligible for insurance under the policy unless such person is otherwise eligible as a bona fide employee of the corporation by performing services other than the usual duties of a director. No individual proprietor or partner shall be eligible for insurance under the policy unless he is actively engaged in and devotes a substantial part of his time to the conduct of the business of the proprietor or partnership. The policy may provide that the term 'employees' shall include the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with such trusteeship;

(B) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the trustees wholly from funds contributed by the employer or employers of the insured persons, by the union or unions, or by both or partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by the insured persons. No policy may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance must insure all eligible persons or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer;

(C) The policy must cover at date of issue at least 100 persons; and, if the fund is established by the members of an association of employers, the policy may be issued only if either the participating employers constitute at date of issue at least 60 percent of those employer members whose employees are not already covered for group life insurance or the total number of persons covered at date of issue exceeds 600; and the policy shall not require that, if a participating employer discontinues membership in the association, the insurance of his employees shall cease solely by reason of the discontinuance; and

~~(6)~~(7) ASSOCIATION GROUPS. The lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to an association, which shall be deemed the policyholder, to insure members of such association for the benefit of persons other than the association. As used in this paragraph, the term 'association' means an association of governmental or public employees, an association of employees of a common employer, or an organization formed and operated in good faith for purposes other than that of procuring insurance and composed of members engaged in a common trade, business, or profession. The policy shall be subject to the following requirements:

(A) The members eligible for insurance under the policy shall be all of the members of the association or all of any class or classes of the association determined by conditions pertaining to their employment, to their trade, business, or profession, to their membership in the association, or to any two or more of such conditions. The policy may provide that officers and employees of the association who are bona fide members may be insured under the policy;

(B) The policy must cover at least 25 members at date of issue;

(C) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the association or by the members; and

~~(7)~~(8) BANK AND CREDIT UNION GROUPS. A bank authorized to do business in this state may carry insurance upon its depositors for amounts not to exceed the savings deposit balances of each depositor or $5,000.00, whichever is less, and a credit union organized pursuant to the laws of this state or the Federal Credit Union Act may carry insurance upon its members for amounts not to exceed the share and deposit balances of each member or $5,000.00, whichever is less. Such insurance shall be subject to the requirements of subparagraphs (A) through (D) of paragraph ~~(6)~~ (7) of this Code section.

~~(8)~~(9) MULTIPLE EMPLOYER WELFAIR ARRANGEMENTS.

(A) The lives of a group of individuals may be insured under a policy issued to a legal entity providing a multiple employer welfare arrangement. As used in this paragraph, the term 'multiple employer welfare arrangement' means any employee benefit plan which is established or maintained for the purpose of offering or providing life insurance benefits to the employees of two or more employers, including self-employed individuals and their dependents. The term does not apply to any plan or arrangement which is established or maintained by a tax-exempt rural electric cooperative or a collective bargaining agreement.

(B) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection either by the employees, employers, or trustee.

~~(9)~~(10) SPECIAL EMPLOYEE GROUPS. A corporation or a trustee of a trust established by a corporation which has an insurable interest in employees pursuant to subsection (c) of Code Section 33-24-3 and authority to effectuate insurance on employees pursuant to paragraph (4) or (5) of subsection (a) of Code Section 33-24-6

AN ACT

To amend an Act creating the Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County, approved March 25, 1958 (Ga. L. 1958, p. 3288), as amended, so as to change the description of the commissioner districts; to provide for definitions and inclusions; to provide for continuation in office of current members; to provide for election and terms of office of subsequent members; to provide for submission of this Act for approval under the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended; to provide for effective dates; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA.

An Act creating the Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County, approved March 25, 1958 (Ga. L. 1958, p. 3288), as amended, is amended by striking subsection (a) of Section 1A of said Act and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"(a)(1) The Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County as it exists immediately prior to January 1, 2006, is continued in existence but on and after January 1, 2006, shall be constituted as provided in this Act. The Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County so continued and constituted, sometimes referred to in this Act as the 'board,' shall continue to have the powers, duties, rights, obligations, and liabilities of that board as existed immediately prior to January 1, 2006, and shall be subject to all constitutional and statutory provisions relating to boards of county commissioners.

(2) ~~Those members of the Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County who are serving as such immediately prior to January 1, 2006, and any person selected to fill a vacancy in any such office shall continue to serve as such members until the regular expiration of their respective terms of office and upon the election and qualification of their respective successors.~~ On and after January 1, 2006, the Board of Commissioners of Jeff Davis County shall consist of five members all of whom shall be elected from commissioner districts described in paragraph (3) of this subsection. Commissioner Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 as they exist immediately prior to January 1, 2006, shall continue to be designated as Commissioner Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5, respectively, but as newly described under this Act, and on and after January 1, 2006, such members of the board serving from those former commissioner districts shall be deemed to be serving from and representing their respective districts as newly described under this Act.

(3) For purposes of electing members of the board of commissioners, Jeff Davis County is divided into five commissioner districts. One member of the board shall be elected from each such district by majority vote of the qualified voters residing within such commissioner district. The five commissioner districts shall be and correspond to those five numbered districts described in and attached to and made a part of this Act and further identified as Plan Name: jeffdccsbw3 Plan Type: Local User: staff Administrator: Jeff Davis.

(4) When used in such attachment, the terms 'Tract' and 'BG' (Block Group) shall mean and describe the same geographical boundaries as provided in the report of the Bureau of the Census for the United States decennial census of 2000 for the State of Georgia. The separate numeric designations in a Tract description which are underneath a 'BG' heading shall mean and describe individual Blocks within a Block Group as provided in the report of the Bureau of the Census for the United States decennial census of 2000 for the State of Georgia. Any part of Jeff Davis County which is not included in any such district described in that attachment shall be included within that district contiguous to such part which contains the least population according to the United States decennial census of 2000 for the State of Georgia. Any part of Jeff Davis County which is described in that attachment as being in a particular district shall nevertheless not be included within such district if such part is not contiguous to such district. Such noncontiguous part shall instead be included within that district contiguous to such part which contains the least population according to the United States decennial census of 2000 for the State of Georgia. Except as otherwise provided in the description of any commissioner district, whenever the description of such district refers to a named city, it shall mean the geographical boundaries of that city as shown on the census map for the United States decennial census of 2000 for the State of Georgia."

its entirety.

SECTION 1.

Chapter 31 of Title 36 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to incorporation of municipal corporations, is amended by striking Code Section 36-31-2 thereof, relating to minimum distances between corporate boundaries, and inserting in its place the following:

"36-31-2.

~~(a) No local Act granting a municipal charter shall be enacted wherein any part of the proposed corporate boundary is less than three miles distance from the corporate boundary of any existing municipal corporation in this state; provided, however, that, if the residents of a certain geographical area within three miles of an existing municipal corporation have been denied annexation to the municipal corporation by the people of the municipal corporation, the residents of such geographical area shall be entitled to incorporate a new municipal corporation at any time within 12 months after such denial, and a local Act granting a municipal charter may be enacted; provided, further, that the population of the area proposed to be incorporated must exceed the population of the existing municipal corporation, and a certificate from the governing authority of the existing municipal corporation or from the judge of the superior court of the county, evidencing the denial of annexation and the population figures, must accompany the certificate of incorporation required by this chapter.~~

~~(b) Any provision of subsection (a) of this Code section to the contrary, a local Act granting a municipal charter to any area comprising the former boundaries of a municipal corporation the charter of which was repealed by operation of Code Section 36-30-7.1 may be enacted at the regular 1996 or 1997 session of the General Assembly without regard to the proximity of the proposed municipal corporation to an existing municipal corporation.~~

When a municipal corporation is created by local Act as authorized in this chapter, the provisions of Code Section 36-30-7.1 shall not apply for two years from the date the first elected officials of such municipal corporation take office. No later than July 1 following the expiration of such two-year period, the governing authority of the municipal corporation shall file a certification with the Department of Community Affairs stating whether the municipal corporation does or does not meet the standards for an active municipality under subsection (b) of Code Section 36-30-7.1."

SECTION 2.

Said Chapter 31 of Title 36 is further amended by striking Code section 36-31-4, relating to standards for areas to be incorporated, and inserting in its place a new Code section to read as follows:

To be eligible for original incorporation as a municipal corporation, the area embraced shall be so developed that at least 60 percent of the total number of lots and tracts in the area at the time of incorporation are used for residential, commercial, industrial, institutional, recreational, or governmental purposes and shall be subdivided into lots and tracts ~~such that at least 60 percent of the total acreage, not counting the acreage used~~ which at the time of incorporation is used for, held for future use for, or subject to a contract for future use for commercial, industrial, governmental, recreational, or institutional purposes, consists of lots and tracts of five acres or less in size."

SECTION 3.

Said Chapter 31 of Title 36 is further amended by adding at its end new Code sections to read as follows:

"36-31-6.

When a new municipal corporation is created by local Act, the Attorney General shall be responsible for seeking any and all preclearances required in connection with such Act and incorporation under the federal Voting Rights Act of 1965, as amended, until such time as the new municipal corporation notifies the Attorney General that it has the ability to seek any further preclearances required.

36-31-7

When a new municipal corporation is created by local Act, the governing authority of the municipal corporation shall have all the same powers to license and regulate alcoholic beverages within its territory as did the governing authority of the county when such territory was within the unincorporated area of the county. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, it is specifically provided that no petition, election, or other condition precedent which might otherwise be required under Title 3 to authorize sales of any alcoholic beverages shall be required in order for the governing authority of the municipality to exercise such powers.

(a) When a new municipal corporation is created by local Act, the local Act may provide for a transition period not to exceed 24 months for the orderly transition of governmental functions from the county to the new municipal corporation. The local Act may specify the time or times during the transition period (or the method or methods for determining the time or times during the transition period) at which:

- (1) Various governmental functions, services, and responsibilities will be assumed by the new municipal corporation within its territory; and
- (2) The municipal court of the new municipality shall begin to exercise its jurisdiction over various subject matters.

(b) When a chartering local Act so provides for a transition period, the county in which the new municipality is located shall continue to provide within the territory of the new city all government services and functions which it provided as of the date of enactment of the chartering local Act. The county shall continue to provide such services and functions until the end of the transition period; provided, however, that the new city may assume the provision of any service or function at such earlier time as may be specified in the chartering local Act or at such earlier time as may be agreed upon by the county and the new city.

(c) When a chartering local Act so provides for a transition period, on and after the first day the initial governing authority takes office, the governing authority may from time to time adopt appropriate measures to initiate collection within the territory of the new city during the transition period of all taxes, fees, assessments, fines and forfeitures, and other moneys. Where a particular tax, fee, assessment, fine, forfeiture, or other amount collected by the city during the transition period is specifically related to the provision of a particular government service or function by the county, the service or function shall continue to be provided by the county during the transition period contingent upon payment by the city of the actual cost of providing such service or function unless otherwise provided in a written agreement between the new city and the county.

(d) When a chartering local Act so provides for a transition period, the county in which the new city is located shall not from the time of enactment of the charter until the end of the transition period remove from the county road system any road within the territory of the new city except with the agreement of the new city.

(e) When a chartering local Act so provides for a transition period, the new municipality shall not be subject to the laws specified in this subsection during the transition period; provided, however, that the new city and other political subdivisions may during the transition period commence planning, negotiations, and other actions necessary or appropriate for compliance after the transition period. During the transition period, the new municipality shall not be subject to:

(1) Chapter 70 of this title, relating to planning and service delivery strategies;

(2) Provisions of Code Sections 12-8-31.1 and 12-8-39.2, relating to solid waste planning and solid waste management reporting;

(3) Provisions of Code Section 48-13-56, relating to reporting of excise taxes collected and expended pursuant to Article 3 of Chapter 13 of Title 48; and

(4) Provisions of Code Section 36-81-8, relating to reporting of local government finances, reporting of revenues derived from a tax levied pursuant to Article 3 of Chapter 13 of Title 48, and reporting of local government services and operations.

(f) When a chartering local Act so provides for a transition period, upon the termination of the transition period subsections (b) through (e) of this Code section shall cease to apply and the new city shall be a fully functioning municipal corporation and subject to all general laws of this state.

(g) As of the date a chartering local Act is approved by the Governor or becomes law without such approval, the Governor is authorized to appoint five persons to serve as interim representatives of the newly incorporated municipality until the election of the municipality's first governing authority. The interim representatives shall cease to serve as of the time the members of the first governing authority take office. The function of the interim representatives shall be to facilitate the provision of municipal services and facilities, the collection of taxes and fees, and the negotiation of intergovernmental agreements in preparation of the establishment of the new municipality. The interim representatives shall not have the ability to enter into any binding agreements, to expend public funds, or to incur any liability on behalf of the new municipality. Any person who is serving as or has served as an interim representative shall be ineligible to qualify for election as a member of the initial governing authority of the new municipality.

When a new municipal corporation is created by local Act, the chartering local Act may provide for the initial terms of office of members of the governing authority to be of any length or lengths; and the provisions of this Code section shall control over any conflicting provisions of Code Sections 21-2-541.1 and 21-2-541.2.

The General Assembly may, in connection with the incorporation of a new municipal corporation, at any time (before, after, or contemporaneously with the passage of the chartering Act) appropriate to the Department of Community Affairs funds for grants or loans or both to a specific existing or proposed municipal corporation. When funds are so appropriated, the department shall make grants as specified by recipient, amount, and purpose and loans as specified by recipient, amount, interest rate, term, and purpose in the appropriation unless the chartering Act fails to secure passage or otherwise fails to become effective.

When a municipal corporation is created by local Act within a county which has a special district for the provision of local government services consisting of the unincorporated area of the county, the territory within the new municipal corporation shall be removed from the special district except to the extent otherwise provided by Code Section 36-31-8 during a transition period and except that the county may continue to levy within such territory any previously imposed tax for the purpose of retiring any special district debt until such time as such debt is retired.

(a) The General Assembly finds that:

- (1) The purpose of a special services district is to provide special services to a given geographic area and to finance the provision of those services from taxes, fees, and assessments levied in the geographic area which benefits from the services;
- (2) The creation of a municipal corporation within a county which has a special services district for the unincorporated area of the county may result in the special services district being divided into noncontiguous areas or in existing noncontiguous areas of such district being even more remote from each other; and
- (3) The purpose of a special services district is defeated if it becomes divided into noncontiguous areas which are remote from each other and one or more of such noncontiguous areas is subsidizing the provision of services in other such noncontiguous areas.

(b) When a municipal corporation is created by local Act within a county which has a special district for the provision of local government services consisting of the unincorporated area of the county and following the creation of said municipal corporation the special district is divided into two or more noncontiguous areas, any special district taxes, fees, and assessments collected in such a noncontiguous area shall be spent to provide services in that noncontiguous area.

(c) When a municipal corporation is created by local Act within a county subject to this Code section, the county shall for the fiscal year in which the municipal corporation is chartered and for each of the next two fiscal years have included in its annual audit detailed findings as to:

(1) The amount of any special district taxes, assessments, and fees collected in each noncontiguous area of the special district;

(2) The total amount of expenditures by the county for:

(A) The provision of services within each noncontiguous area of the special district, including only those services which are provided by the county only in the special district; and

(B) The construction and maintenance of facilities for the provision of services referred to in subparagraph (A) of this paragraph; and

(3) The amount by which expenditures stated in paragraph (2) of this subsection exceed or are less than the amount stated in paragraph (1) of this subsection.

(d) The party performing the audit required by subsection (c) of this Code section shall prepare as promptly as is practicable a brief informational summary of the audit findings required by that subsection. The informational summary shall also include a statement of the amount of proceeds collected by the county pursuant to any tax under Article 2 of Chapter 8 of Title 48 which would be allocated to each noncontiguous area of the special district if such area received an allocation equal on a per capita basis to the average per capita allocation to the cities in the county. After each year's summary becomes available, a copy of the summary shall be included with the next ad valorem tax bills mailed by the county to residents of the special district consisting of the unincorporated area of the county.

(e) For purposes of determining applicability of this Code section, a county shall be considered to have a special district for the provision of local government services when a county has created a special district for such purposes pursuant to Article IX, Section II, Paragraph VI of the Constitution or has created a similar district for the provision of services under any other provision of any past or present Constitution or law."

SECTION 4.

Article 2 of Chapter 8 of Title 48 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to joint county and municipal local option sales tax, is amended by inserting a new subsection (f) at the end of Code Section 48-8-89.1, relating to distribution of the tax upon creation of a new municipal corporation in certain counties, to read as follows:

"(f)(1) This subsection shall apply only when:

(A) A municipal corporation is chartered by local Act within a county which has a special district for the provision of local government services consisting of the unincorporated area of the county; and

(B) The population of the unincorporated area of the county will, after removal of the population of the new municipality from the unincorporated area, constitute less than 20 percent of the population of the county according to the most recent decennial census.

The ballot box and voting compartments or booths shall be so arranged in the voting room within the enclosed space as to be in full view of those persons in the room outside the guardrail or barrier. The voting machine or machines shall be placed in the voting rooms within the enclosed space so that, unless its construction shall otherwise require, the ballot labels on the face of the machine can be plainly seen by the poll officers when the machine is not occupied by an elector. In the case of direct recording electronic (DRE) voting units, the units shall be arranged in such a manner as to ensure the privacy of the elector while voting on such units, to allow monitoring of the units by the poll officers while the polls are open, and to permit the public to observe the voting without affecting the privacy of the electors as they vote.

(b) The superintendent, unless otherwise provided by law, may make such arrangements as he or she deems proper for the storage of election equipment in the various precincts of the county or municipality at such times of the year that it will not be used for election purposes and may fix reasonable compensation therefor."

Falsely swearing or affirming such statement under oath shall be punishable as a felony, and the penalty shall be distinctly set forth on the face of the statement.~~

~~(c) An elector who registered to vote by mail, but did not comply with subsection (c) of Code Section 21-2-220, and who votes for the first time in this state shall present to the poll workers either one of the forms of identification listed in subsection (a) of this Code section or a copy of a current utility bill, bank statement, government check, paycheck, or other government document that shows the name and address of such elector. If such elector does not have any of the forms of identification listed in this subsection, such elector may vote a provisional ballot pursuant to Code Section 21-2-418 upon swearing or affirming that the elector is the person identified in the elector's~~ voter certificate. Such provisional ballot shall only be counted if the registrars are able to verify ~~current and valid~~ identification of the elector as provided in this subsection within the time period for verifying provisional ballots pursuant to Code Section 21-2-419. Falsely swearing or affirming such statement under oath shall be punishable as a felony, and the penalty shall be distinctly set forth on the face of the statement."

SECTION 60.

Said chapter is further amended by striking Code Section 21-2-418, relating to provisional ballots, and inserting in lieu thereof a new Code Section 21-2-418 to read as follows:

(a) If a person presents himself or herself at a polling place, absentee polling place, or registration office for the purpose of casting a ballot in a primary or election believing that he or she has timely registered to vote in such primary or election and the person's name does not appear on the list of registered electors ~~and it cannot be immediately determined that the person did timely register to vote in such primary or election~~, the person shall be entitled to cast a provisional ballot as provided in this Code section.

(b) Such person voting a provisional ballot shall complete an official voter registration form and a provisional ballot voting certificate which shall include information about the place, manner, and approximate date on which the person registered to vote. The person shall swear or affirm in writing that he or she previously registered to vote in such primary or election, is eligible to vote in such primary or election, has not voted previously in such primary or election, and meets the criteria for registering to vote in such primary or election. The form of the provisional ballot voting certificate shall be prescribed by the Secretary of State. The person shall also present the identification required by Code Section 21-2-417

(c) When the person has provided the information as required by this Code section, the person shall be issued a provisional ballot and allowed to cast such ballot as any other duly registered elector subject to the provisions of Code Section 21-2-419.

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this chapter to the contrary, in primaries and elections in which there is a federal candidate on the ballot, in the event that the time for closing the polls at a polling place or places is extended by court order, all electors who vote during such extended time period shall vote by provisional ballot only. Such ballots shall be separated and held apart from other provisional ballots cast by electors during normal poll hours. Primaries and elections in which there is no federal candidate on the ballot shall not be subject to the provisions of this subsection.

(e) The registrars shall establish a free access system, such as a toll-free telephone number or Internet website, by which any elector who casts a provisional ballot in a primary or election, or runoff of either, in which federal candidates are on the ballot may ascertain whether such ballot was counted and, if such ballot was not counted, the reason why such ballot was not counted. The registrars shall establish and maintain reasonable procedures necessary to protect the security, confidentiality, and integrity of personal information collected, stored, or otherwise used by such free access system.

Access to such information about an individual provisional ballot shall be restricted to the elector who cast such ballot.

(f) At the time an elector casts a provisional ballot, the poll officers shall give the elector written information that informs the elector of the existence of the free access system required by subsection (e) of this Code section by which the elector will be able to ascertain if his or her ballot was counted and, if such ballot was not counted, the reason why such ballot was not counted.

(g) Failure to establish such free access system shall subject the registrars and the county by which the registrars are employed to sanctions by the State Election Board.

(h) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter to the contrary, in the event that the voting machines or DRE units at a polling place malfunction and cannot be used to cast ballots or some other emergency situation exists which prevents the use of such equipment to cast votes, provisional ballots may be used by the electors at the polling place to cast their ballots. In such event, the ballots cast by electors whose names appear on the electors list for such polling place shall not be considered provisional ballots and shall not require verification as provided by Code Section 21-2-419; provided, however, that persons whose names do not appear on the electors list for such polling place shall vote provisional ballots which shall be subject to verification under Code Section 21-2-419."

SECTION 61.

Said chapter is further amended by striking Code Section 21-2-430, relating to opening of ballot boxes and posting of instruction cards and notices of penalties, and inserting in lieu thereof a new Code Section 21-2-430 to read as follows:

In precincts in which ballots are used, the poll officers shall, after taking the oath, publicly open the ballot boxes which have been furnished to them and shall, prior to opening of the polls, totally destroy any ballots and other papers which they may find therein which are not intended for use in such primary or election. When the polling place is opened, the ballot box shall be securely locked and shall not be opened until the close of the polls, as provided in Code Section 21-2-436. At the opening of the polls, the seals of the packages furnished by the superintendent shall be publicly broken and such packages shall be opened by the chief manager. The cards of instruction shall be immediately posted in each voting compartment. ~~Not less than three such cards and notices of penalties~~ One card of instruction, one notice of penalties, and one voting rights poster shall be immediately posted in or about the voting room outside the enclosed space; and such ~~cards card~~ card of instruction, ~~and notices notice~~ notice of penalties, ~~and voting rights poster~~ shall be given to any elector at his or her request so long as there are any on hand."

SECTION 62.

Said chapter is further amended by striking subsection (a) of Code Section 21-2-450, relating to opening of the polls, and inserting in lieu thereof a new subsection (a) to read as follows:

"(a)(1) ~~In the precincts in which voting machines are used, the seals of the package furnished by the superintendent shall be publicly broken at the opening of the polls and such package shall be opened by the chief manager. Not less than three cards of instruction and notices of penalties, One card of instructions, one notice of penalties, one voting rights poster,~~ and not less than two diagrams of the face of the machine shall be immediately posted in or about the voting room outside the enclosed space; and such cards, ~~and notices of penalties, and voting rights posters~~ shall be given to any elector at his or her request, so long as there are any on hand.

(2) The managers, before opening the envelope containing the keys which unlock the operating mechanism and registering counters or counter compartment of the voting machine, shall examine the number of the seal on the machine and the number registered on the protective counter or device and shall see whether they are the same as the numbers written on the envelope containing the keys. If either number shall be found not to agree, the envelope shall remain unopened until the poll officers shall have notified the proper custodian of voting machines; or the superintendent and until the custodian or some other person authorized by the superintendent shall have presented himself or herself at the polling place for the purpose of reexamining the machine and shall have certified that it is properly arranged. But, if the numbers on the seal and the protective counter or device shall both be found to agree with the numbers on the envelope, the envelope shall be opened, and where the voting machine provided is not equipped with a mechanism for printing paper proof sheets, the poll officers shall examine the registering counters and, for that purpose, shall open the doors concealing such counter, if the construction of the voting machine shall so require; and, before the polls are opened, each manager shall carefully examine every counter and shall see that it registers zero. When the voting machine provided is equipped with a mechanism for printing paper proof sheets and requires the simultaneous use of three keys to unlock the registering counters or counter compartment, the chief manager shall deliver one of the two keys to an assistant manager, to be retained by him or her, and shall then print at least two proof sheets, one of which each manager shall carefully examine to ascertain whether every counter registers zero and shall then preserve such proof sheets to be signed by them and returned to the superintendent, with the duplicate return sheet, and shall sign and post the other proof sheet upon the wall of the polling place, where it shall remain until the polls are closed. The key delivered by the chief manager to such assistant manager, as provided in this subsection, shall be retained by him or her until the polls have been closed; and the voting and counting mechanism of the machine shall have been locked and sealed against voting and shall then be returned to the chief manager, for return by him or her to the superintendent, as provided in this part."

Said chapter is further amended by striking Code Section 21-2-501, relating to number of votes required for election, and inserting in lieu thereof a new Code Section 21-2-501 to

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this Code section, no candidate shall be nominated for public office in any primary or special primary or elected to public office in any election or special election unless such candidate shall have received a majority of the votes cast to fill such nomination or public office. In instances where no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast, a run-off primary, special primary runoff, run-off election, or special election runoff between the candidates receiving the two highest numbers of votes shall be held. Unless such date is postponed by a court order, such run-off primary, or special primary runoff, ~~or special election runoff~~ shall be held on the twenty-first day after the day of holding the preceding primary or special primary or special election, provided that, unless postponed by court order, a runoff in the case of a ~~special primary~~ an election or special election shall be held ~~no sooner than the fourteenth day and no later than the twenty first~~ on the twenty-eighth day after the day of holding the preceding ~~special primary election~~ or special election, ~~which run-off day shall be determined by the Secretary of State in a runoff to fill a federal or state office or by the superintendent in a runoff to fill a county or militia district office.~~ If any candidate eligible to be in a runoff withdraws, dies, or is found to be ineligible, the remaining candidates receiving the two highest numbers of votes shall be the candidates in the runoff. The candidate receiving the highest number of the votes cast in such run-off primary, special primary runoff, run-off election, or special election runoff to fill the nomination or public office sought shall be declared the winner. The name of a write-in candidate eligible for election in a runoff shall be printed on the election or special election run-off ballot in the independent column. The run-off primary, special primary runoff, run-off election, or special election runoff shall be a continuation of the primary, special primary, election, or special election for the particular office concerned. Only the electors who were duly registered to vote and not subsequently deemed disqualified to vote in the primary, special primary, election, or special election for candidates for that particular office shall be entitled to vote therein, and only those votes cast for the persons designated as candidates in such run-off primary, special primary runoff, run-off election, or special election runoff shall be counted in the tabulation and canvass of the votes cast. No elector shall vote in a run-off primary or special primary runoff in violation of Code Section 21-2-224.

(b) For the purposes of this subsection ~~and notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (22) of Code Section 21-2-2~~, the word 'plurality' shall mean the receiving by one candidate alone of the highest number of votes cast. If the municipal charter or ordinances of a municipality as now existing or as amended subsequent to September 1, 1968, provide that a candidate may be nominated or elected by a plurality of the votes cast to fill such nomination or public office, such provision shall prevail. Otherwise, no municipal candidate shall be nominated for public office in any primary or elected to public office in any election unless such candidate shall have received a majority of the votes cast to fill such nomination or public office.

(c) In instances in which no municipal candidate receives a majority of the votes cast and the municipal charter or ordinances do not provide for nomination or election by a plurality ~~vote~~ ~~run-off~~ primary or election shall be held between the candidates receiving the two highest numbers of votes. Such runoff shall be held on the ~~twenty-first~~ twenty-eighth day after the day of holding the first primary or election, unless such run-off date is postponed by court order. Only the electors entitled to vote in the first primary or election shall be entitled to vote in any run-off primary or election resulting therefrom; provided, however, that no elector shall vote in a run-off primary in violation of Code Section 21-2-216. The run-off primary or election shall be a continuation of the first primary or election, and only those votes cast for the candidates receiving the two highest numbers of votes in the first primary or election shall be counted. No write-in votes may be cast in such a primary, run-off primary, or run-off election. If any candidate eligible to be in a runoff withdraws, dies, or is found to be ineligible, the remaining candidates receiving the two highest numbers of votes shall be the candidates in such runoff. The municipal candidate receiving the highest number of the votes cast in such run-off primary or run-off election to fill the nomination or public office sought shall be declared the winner.

(d) The name of a municipal write-in candidate eligible for election in a municipal runoff shall be printed on the municipal run-off election ballot in the independent column.

(e) In all cities having a population in excess of 100,000 according to the United States decennial census of 1980 or any future such census, in order for a municipal candidate to be nominated for public office in any primary or elected to public office in any municipal election, he or she must receive a majority of the votes cast.

(f) Except for presidential electors, to be elected to public office in a general election, a candidate must receive a plurality majority of the votes cast in an election to fill such public office. To be elected to the office of presidential electors, no slate of candidates shall be required to receive a plurality majority of the votes cast, but that slate of candidates shall be elected to such office which receives the highest number of votes cast.

~~(g) In the event that no candidate receives a plurality of the votes cast in a general election, a runoff of the general election between the candidates receiving the two highest numbers of votes shall be held. If more than one candidate in a general election receives a plurality of the votes cast, the candidate receiving the highest number of votes cast shall be declared the winner. Unless such date is postponed by a court order, such runoff shall be held on the twenty first day after the day of holding the preceding general election. If any candidate eligible to be in such runoff withdraws, dies, or is found to be ineligible, the remaining candidates receiving the two highest numbers of votes shall be the candidates in the runoff. The candidate receiving the highest number of the votes cast in such runoff to fill the public office such candidate seeks shall be declared the winner. The name of a write in candidate eligible for election in a runoff shall be printed on the run-off election ballot in the independent column. The run-off election of a general election shall be a continuation of the general election for the particular office concerned. Only the electors who were duly registered to vote and not~~

~~subsequently deemed disqualified to vote for that particular office in such general election shall be entitled to vote therein, and only those votes cast for the persons designated as candidates in such runoff shall be counted in the tabulation and canvass of the votes cast."~~

Said chapter is further amended by striking subsections (b) and (e) of Code Section 21-2-540, relating to conduct of special elections generally, and inserting in lieu thereof new subsections (b) and (e) to read as follows:

"(b) At least 29 days shall intervene between the call of a special primary and the holding of same, and at least 29 days shall intervene between the call of a special election and the holding of same. BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA:

SECTION 1.

Title 36 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to local government, is amended by adding a new article at the end of Chapter 82, relating to bonds, to be designated Article 11, to read as follows:

"ARTICLE 11

36-82-250.

As used in this article, the term:

(1) 'Counterparty' means the party entering into a qualified interest rate management agreement with the local governmental entity. A counterparty must be a bank, insurance company, or other financial institution duly qualified to do business in the state that either:

(A) Has, or whose obligations are guaranteed by an entity that has, at the time of entering into a qualified interest rate management agreement and for the entire term thereof, a long-term unsecured debt rating or financial strength rating in one of the top two ratings categories, without regard to any refinement or gradation of rating category by numerical modifier or otherwise, assigned by any two of the following: Moody's Investors Service, Inc., Standard & Poors Ratings Service, a division of The McGraw-Hill Companies, Inc., Fitch, Inc., or such other nationally recognized ratings service approved by the governing body of the local governmental entity; or

(B) Has collateralized its obligations under a qualified interest rate management agreement in a manner approved by the local governmental entity.

(2) 'Debt' shall include all debt and revenue obligations that a local governmental entity is authorized to incur by law, including without limitation general obligation debt in the form of bonds or other obligations, revenue bonds and other forms of revenue obligations, and all other debt or revenue undertakings, including, but not limited to, bonds, notes, warrants, certificates or other evidences of indebtedness, or other obligations for borrowed money issued or to be issued by any local governmental entity. 'Debt' includes any financing lease or installment purchase contracts of any local public authorities.

(3) 'Independent financial adviser' means a person or entity experienced in the financial aspects and risks of qualified interest rate management agreements that is retained by the local governmental entity to render advice with respect to a qualified interest rate management agreement. The independent financial adviser may not be the counterparty or an affiliate or agent of the counterparty on a qualified interest rate management agreement with respect to which the independent financial adviser is advising the local governmental entity.

(4) 'Interest rate management plan' means a written plan prepared or reviewed by an independent financial adviser with respect to qualified interest rate management agreements of the local governmental entity, which plan has been approved by the governing body of the local governmental entity.

(5) 'Lease or installment purchase contract' means multiyear lease, purchase, installment purchase, or lease purchase contracts within the meaning of Code Sections 20-2-506 and 36-60-13 or substantially similar other or successor Code sections.

(6) 'Local governmental entity' means any governmental body as defined in paragraph (2) of Code Section 36-82-61, as amended; provided, however, that such term shall only include authorities which are local public authorities included in the definition thereof set forth in subparagraphs (C) and (D) of paragraph (2) of Code Section 36-82-61, as amended.

(7) 'Qualified interest rate management agreement' means an agreement, including a confirmation evidencing a transaction effected under a master agreement entered into by the local governmental entity in accordance with, and fulfilling the requirements of, Code Section 36-82-253, which agreement in the judgment of the local governmental entity is designed to manage interest rate risk or interest cost of the local governmental entity on any debt or lease or installment purchase contract the local governmental entity is authorized to incur, including, but not limited to, interest rate swaps or exchange agreements, interest rate caps, collars, corridors, ceiling, floor, and lock agreements, forward agreements, swaptions, warrants, and other interest rate agreements which, in the judgment of the local governmental entity, will assist the local governmental entity in managing its interest rate risk or interest cost.

With respect to all or any portion of any debt or lease or installment purchase contract, either issued or anticipated to be issued by the local governmental entity, the local governmental entity may enter into, terminate, amend, or otherwise modify a qualified interest rate management agreement under such terms and conditions as the local governmental entity may determine, including, without limitation, provisions permitting the local governmental entity to pay to or receive from any counterparty any loss of benefits under such agreement upon early termination thereof or default under such agreement.

(a) Prior to executing and delivering a qualified interest rate management agreement, the local governmental entity shall have adopted an interest rate management plan that includes:

- (1) An analysis of the interest rate risk, basis risk, termination risk, credit risk, market-access risk, and other risks to the local governmental entity entering into qualified interest rate management agreements;
- (2) The local governmental entity's procedure for approving and executing qualified interest rate management agreements;

(3) The local governmental entity's plan to monitor interest rate risk, basis risk, termination risk, credit risk, market-access risk, and other risks;

(4) The local governmental entity's procedure for maintaining current records of all qualified interest rate management agreements that have been approved and executed; and

(5) Such other provisions as may from time to time be required by the governing body of the local governmental entity, including but not limited to additional provisions due to changes in market conditions for qualified interest rate management agreements.

(b) The local governmental entity shall conduct an annual review of its interest rate management plan as to the adequacy of the procedures set forth in such plan for the analysis and monitoring requirements set forth in subsection (a) of this Code section. A report summarizing the results of such review shall be submitted annually to the governing body of the local governmental entity. The requirements of this subsection shall not be construed as to require the review of any existing interest rate management plan by an independent financial adviser.

(a) Each qualified interest rate management agreement shall meet the following requirements:

(1) Subject to subsection (b) of this Code section, the maximum term, including any renewal periods, of any qualified interest rate management agreement may not exceed ten years unless such longer term has been approved by the governing body of the local governmental entity; provided, however, that in no case may the term of the qualified interest rate management agreement exceed the latest maturity date of the bonds, notes, or debt or lease or installment purchase contract referenced in the qualified interest rate management agreement;

(2) The local governmental entity shall enter into a qualified interest rate management agreement only with a counterparty meeting the requirements set forth in paragraph (1) of Code Section 36-82-250;

(3) Prior to the execution and delivery by the local governmental entity of any qualified interest rate management agreement, an interest rate management plan meeting the requirements of Code Section 36-82-252 must have been approved by the governing body of the local governmental entity and the governing body of the local governmental entity shall have been provided evidence that such qualified interest rate management agreement is in compliance with the existing interest rate management plan;

(4) Any qualified interest rate management agreement shall be payable only in the currency of the United States of America; and

(5) Unless otherwise approved by the governing body of the local governmental entity, the notional amount of any qualified interest rate management agreement shall not exceed the outstanding principal amount of the debt or the aggregate payments due under any lease or installment purchase contract to which such agreement relates.

(b) A qualified interest rate management agreement may renew from calendar year to calendar year and may provide for the payment of any fee related to a termination or a nonrenewal, so long as the following requirements are satisfied:

(1) Such qualified interest rate management agreement shall terminate absolutely at the close of the calendar year in which it was executed and at the close of each succeeding calendar year for which it may be renewed;

(2) Any such qualified interest rate management agreement may provide for automatic renewal unless positive action is taken by the local governmental entity to terminate such contract, or may provide for termination or renewal in some other manner not prohibited by law, which method of renewal or termination, in either case, shall be specified in the qualified interest rate management agreement; and

(3) Such qualified interest rate management agreement shall include a statement of the total obligation of the local governmental entity for the calendar year of execution and, if renewed, for the calendar year of renewal.

A qualified interest rate management agreement meeting the requirements of this subsection may also provide that the local governmental entity's obligations will terminate immediately and absolutely at such time as appropriated and other funds encumbered for payment by the local governmental entity pursuant to the terms of such qualified interest rate management agreement are no longer available to satisfy such obligations. The total obligation of the local governmental entity for the calendar year payable pursuant to a qualified interest rate management agreement may be stated in contingent but objective terms with respect to variable rate payments or termination payments, but in that event a qualified interest rate management agreement must provide that it will terminate immediately and absolutely at such time as appropriated and other funds encumbered for its payment are no longer available to satisfy the obligations of the local governmental entity under such agreement. A qualified interest rate management agreement executed under this subsection shall not be deemed to create a debt of the local governmental entity or otherwise obligate the payment of any sum beyond the calendar year of execution or, in the event of a renewal, beyond the calendar year of such renewal.

(c)(1) Any qualified interest rate management agreement of a local governmental entity may provide that it is an unconditional, limited recourse obligation of such local governmental entity payable from a specified revenue source.

(2) A local governmental entity may, in any qualified interest rate management agreement that constitutes a limited recourse obligation of the local governmental entity, pledge to the punctual payment of amounts due under the qualified interest rate management agreement revenues from a specified revenue source, which shall not include any taxes, including, without limitation, collateral derived from such revenue source or proceeds of the debt, including debt for future delivery, to which such qualified interest rate management agreement relates.

(d) A qualified interest rate management agreement that constitutes a limited recourse obligation shall not be payable from or charged upon any funds other than the revenue identified as the source of payment thereof, nor shall the local governmental entity entering into the same be subject to any pecuniary liability thereon. Every such qualified interest rate management agreement shall contain a recital setting forth the substance of this subsection.

(e) Any local governmental entity may enter into credit enhancement or liquidity agreements in connection with any qualified interest rate management agreement containing such terms and conditions as the governing body determines are necessary or desirable, provided that any such agreement has the same source of payment as the related qualified interest rate management agreement.

The local governmental entity that has entered into a qualified interest rate management agreement shall include in its annual financial statements information with respect to each qualified interest rate management agreement it has authorized or entered into, including any information required pursuant to any statement issued by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board.

When entering into any qualified interest rate management agreement authorized under this article, the agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Georgia, and jurisdiction over the local governmental entity in any matter concerning a qualified interest rate management agreement shall lie exclusively in the courts of the State of Georgia or in the applicable federal court having jurisdiction and located within the State of Georgia.

- (4) 'Independent financial adviser' means a person or entity experienced in the financial aspects and risks of qualified interest rate management agreements that is retained by the state party to render advice with respect to a qualified interest rate management agreement. The independent financial adviser may not be the counterparty or an affiliate or agent of the counterparty on a qualified interest rate management agreement with respect to which the independent financial adviser is advising the state party.
- (5) 'Interest rate management plan' means a written plan prepared or reviewed by an independent financial adviser with respect to qualified interest rate management agreements of the state party.
- (6) 'Lease or installment purchase contract' means multiyear lease, purchase, installment purchase, or lease purchase contracts within the meaning of Code Sections 50-5-64, 50-5-65, and 50-5-77 or substantially similar other or successor Code sections.

- (9) 'State authority' means any state authority as defined in paragraph (9) of Code Section 50-17-21, as amended.

- (a) The commission is authorized to and shall establish guidelines, rules, or regulations with respect to the procedures for approving interest rate management plans and with respect to any requirements for qualified interest rate management agreements. Such guidelines, rules, and regulations shall apply to the interest rate management plans and qualified interest rate management agreements of any state party. Such guidelines, rules, and regulations shall not constitute a rule within the meaning of Chapter 13 of this title, the 'Georgia Administrative Procedure Act,' including, without limitation, the term 'rule' as defined in paragraph (6) of Code Section 50-13-2 and used in Code Section 50-13-4.
- (b) With respect to all or any portion of any debt or any lease or installment purchase contract, either issued or anticipated to be issued by the state party, the state party may enter into, terminate, amend, or otherwise modify a qualified interest rate management agreement under such terms and conditions as the state party may determine, including, without limitation, provisions permitting the state party to pay to or receive from any counterparty any loss of benefits under such agreement upon early termination thereof or default under such agreement.
- (c) Payments received by a state party pursuant to the terms of a qualified interest rate management agreement shall not be deposited into the state general fund but shall be subject to disposition by the state party and applied in accord with the goals of managing interest rate risk and interest cost as set forth in the qualified interest rate management agreement, any authorizing document for the debt or the lease or installment purchase contract to which such qualified interest rate management agreement relates, or such state party's interest rate management plan.
- (d)(1) With respect to any qualified interest rate management agreement related to all or any portion of debt of a state party, the obligations of the state party contained in such qualified interest rate management agreement may be incurred as related or additional obligations of such debt and approved in the same manner as required for authorizing, approving, and issuing such debt to the extent not otherwise prohibited, limited, ~~or impractical and~~ consistent with any tax-exempt status of the related debt. If this power is exercised with respect to state debt, the obligations to pay a counterparty shall be subordinate to the obligations to pay holders of general obligation debt, guaranteed revenue debt, and all payments required under contracts entitled to the protection of the second paragraph of Paragraph I(a). Section VI, Article IX of the Constitution of 1976.

(2) When the obligations of the state party are not incurred as related or additional obligations pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection and the qualified interest rate management agreement relates to debt of a state authority, the qualified interest rate management agreement shall be on such terms and conditions as the state party and counterparty agree consistent with provisions of this article.

(3) When the obligations of the state party are not incurred as related or additional obligations pursuant to paragraph (1) of this subsection and the qualified interest rate management agreement relates to debt of the state or to a lease or installment purchase contract, the obligations of the state party contained in such qualified interest rate management agreement may renew from fiscal year to fiscal year and may provide for the payment of any fee related to a termination or a nonrenewal, so long as the following requirements are satisfied:

(A) Such qualified interest rate management agreement shall terminate absolutely at the close of the fiscal year in which it was executed and at the close of each succeeding fiscal year for which it may be renewed;

(B) Any renewal of such qualified interest rate management agreement shall require positive action taken by the state party or in such other manner not otherwise prohibited by law which method of renewal and termination, in either case, shall be specified in the qualified interest rate management agreement; and

(C) Such qualified interest rate management agreement shall include a statement of the total obligation of the state party for the fiscal year of execution and, if renewed, for the fiscal year of renewal.

A qualified interest rate management agreement meeting the requirements of this paragraph may also provide that the state's obligations will terminate immediately and absolutely at such time as appropriated and other funds encumbered for payment by the state pursuant to the terms of such qualified interest rate management agreement are no longer available to satisfy such obligations. The total obligation of the state for the fiscal year payable pursuant to a qualified interest rate management agreement may be stated in contingent but objective terms with respect to variable rate payments or termination payments, but in that event a qualified interest rate management agreement must provide that it will terminate immediately and absolutely at such time as appropriated and other funds encumbered for its payment are no longer available to satisfy the obligations of the state under such agreement. A qualified interest rate management agreement executed under this paragraph shall not be deemed to create a debt of the state or otherwise obligate the payment of any sum beyond the fiscal year of execution or, in the event of a renewal, beyond the fiscal year of such renewal. When a qualified interest rate management agreement is executed under this paragraph or paragraph (1) of this subsection, the obligation of the state may be treated as an operating expense of the commission within the meaning of Paragraph VII of Section IV of Article VII of the Constitution and within the meaning of paragraph (2) of subsection (g) of Code Section 50-17-22 and of subsection (b) of Code Section 50-17-27

(e)(1) The obligations of a state party to pay a counterparty under a qualified interest rate management agreement with respect to debt may be paid from any lawful source, to the extent not otherwise prohibited, limited, or impractical and consistent with any tax exempt status of the related debt and in compliance with the Budget Act, including without limitation, as to the state, proceeds of general obligation debt, earnings on investments of proceeds of general obligation debt, appropriations of state and federal funds, and agency funds; and, as to any state authority, any funds of such state authority to the extent not otherwise prohibited, limited, or impractical and consistent with any tax exempt status of the related debt.

(2) The obligations of a state party to pay a counterparty under a qualified interest rate management agreement with respect to a lease or installment purchase contract may be paid from any lawful source, to the extent not otherwise prohibited, limited, or impractical and consistent with any tax-exempt status of the related lease or installment purchase agreement and in compliance with the Budget Act, including without limitation appropriations of state and federal funds and agency funds.

(f)(1) With respect to obligations of a state authority to pay a counterparty, any qualified interest rate management agreement of a state authority may provide that it is an unconditional, limited recourse obligation of such state authority payable from a specified revenue source.

(2) A state authority may, in any qualified interest rate management agreement that constitutes a limited recourse obligation of the state authority, pledge to the punctual payment of amounts due under the qualified interest rate management agreement revenues from a specified revenue source, which shall not include any taxes, including without limitation collateral derived from such revenue source or proceeds of the debt, including debt for future delivery, to which such qualified interest rate management agreement relates.

(3) A qualified interest rate management agreement that constitutes a limited recourse obligation shall not be payable from or charged upon any funds other than the revenue identified as the source of payment thereof, nor shall the state authority entering into the same be subject to any pecuniary liability thereon. No counterparty under any such qualified interest rate management agreement shall ever have the right to compel any exercise of the taxing power of the state or the state authority to pay any amount due under any such qualified interest rate management agreement, nor to enforce payment thereof against any property of the state or state authority, other than the specified revenue source; nor shall any such qualified interest rate management agreement constitute a charge, lien, or encumbrance, legal or equitable, upon any property of the state or state authority, other than the specified revenue source. Every such qualified interest rate management agreement shall contain a recital setting forth the substance of this paragraph.

(g)(1) The commission shall act for the state with respect to debt of the state and a qualified interest rate management agreement. However, upon authorization of the Governor, the Office of Treasury and Fiscal Services shall act as fiscal agent or provide other administrative services.

(2) A state authority shall act for itself with respect to an interest rate management plan, a qualified interest rate management agreement, and an independent financial advisor regarding the debt of the state authority subject, however, to the guidelines, rules, and regulations of the commission under subsection (a) of this Code section. Further, the interest rate management plan, a qualified interest rate management agreement, and retention of an independent financial advisor will be treated as financial advisory matters within the exclusive authority and jurisdiction of the commission under paragraph (1) of subsection (f) of Code Section 50-17-22 and will require specific commission approval, unless the commission otherwise directs in either the specific case or in general terms. Upon authorization of the Governor, the Office of Treasury and Fiscal Services shall act as fiscal agent or provide other administrative services for a qualified interest rate management agreement of the state authority.

(3) The agency responsible for payment shall act for the state with respect to a lease or installment purchase contract but only under the supervision and approval of the commission. Upon authorization of the Governor, the Office of Treasury and Fiscal Services shall act as fiscal agent or provide other administrative services.

(a) Prior to executing and delivering a qualified interest rate management agreement, the state party shall have adopted an interest rate management plan that includes:

- (1) An analysis of the interest rate risk, basis risk, termination risk, credit risk, market-access risk, and other risks to the state party entering into qualified interest rate management agreements;
- (2) The state party's procedure for approving and executing qualified interest rate management agreements;
- (3) The state party's plan to monitor interest rate risk, basis risk, termination risk, credit risk, market-access risk, and other risks; and

Any interest rate management plan adopted by the state shall be approved by the commission or by a designated officer of the commission and shall have been reviewed by an independent financial adviser approved by the commission.

(b) The state party shall conduct an annual review of its interest rate management plan as to the adequacy of the procedures set forth in such plan for the analysis and monitoring requirements set forth in subsection (a) of this Code section. A report summarizing the results of such review shall be submitted annually to the commission and, with respect to any interest rate management plan of a state authority, to the governing body of such state authority. The requirements of this subsection shall not be construed as to require the review of any existing interest rate management plan by an independent financial adviser.

(a) Each qualified interest rate management agreement shall meet the following requirements:

(1) The maximum term, including any renewal periods, of any qualified interest rate management agreement of the state may not exceed ten years unless such longer term has been approved by the commission. In addition to approval of the commission required by paragraph (2) of subsection (g) of Code Section 50-17-101, the maximum term, including any renewal periods, of any qualified interest rate management agreement of a state authority may not exceed ten years unless such longer term has been approved by the governing body of the state authority. The foregoing provisions of this paragraph notwithstanding, in no case may the term of the qualified interest rate management agreement exceed the latest maturity date of the bonds, notes, debt, or lease or installment purchase contract referenced in the qualified interest rate management agreement.

(2) The state party shall enter into a qualified interest rate management agreement only with a counterparty meeting the requirements set forth in paragraph (2) of Code Section 50-17-100.

(3) Prior to the execution and delivery by the state of any qualified interest rate management agreement, an interest rate management plan meeting the requirements of Code Section 50-17-102 must have been submitted to the commission and the commission shall have been provided evidence that such qualified interest rate management agreement is in compliance with the existing interest rate management plan. (4) Any qualified interest rate management agreement shall be payable only in the currency of the United States of America.

(5) The notional amount of any qualified interest rate management agreement shall not exceed the outstanding principal amount of the debt or the aggregate payments due under any lease or installment purchase contract to which such agreement relates unless otherwise approved in writing by the commission for any qualified interest rate management agreement executed by the state or by the governing body of the state authority for any qualified interest rate management agreement executed by a state authority, subject to the approval of the commission required by paragraph (2) of subsection (g) of Code Section 50-17-101.

(b) Any ~~state party~~ may enter into credit enhancement or liquidity agreements in connection with any qualified interest rate management agreement containing such terms and conditions as the state party determines are necessary or desirable, provided that any such agreement has the same source of payment as the related qualified interest rate management agreement.

The state party that has entered into a qualified interest rate management agreement shall include in its annual financial statements information with respect to each qualified interest rate management agreement it has authorized or entered into, including any information required by any accounting or regulatory standard to which the state party is subject.

When entering into any qualified interest rate management agreement authorized under this article, the agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of Georgia, and jurisdiction over the state party in any matter concerning a qualified interest rate management agreement shall lie exclusively in the courts of the State of Georgia or in the applicable federal court having jurisdiction and located within the State of Georgia."

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA.

SECTION 1.

Part 1A of Article 2 of Chapter 5 of Title 46 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to the telephone system for the physically impaired, is amended by striking Code Section 46-5-30, relating to establishment, administration, and operation of state-wide dual party relay service, and inserting in its place the following:

"46-5-30.

(a) The General Assembly finds and declares that it is in the public interest to provide basic telecommunication services to all citizens of this state who, because of physical impairments, particularly hearing and speech impairments, cannot otherwise communicate over the telephone. It is further in the public interest to take advantage of innovative technological uses of basic telecommunications services to allow for universal access to information by blind and otherwise print disabled citizens of this state.

(b) The commission shall establish, implement, administer, and promote a state-wide single provider dual party relay service operating seven days per week, 24 hours per day, and contract for the administration and operation of such relay service. The commission shall also establish, implement, administer, and promote a state-wide audible universal information access service operating seven days per week and 24 hours per day and shall contract for the administration and operation of such information access service. The commission shall also further establish, implement, administer, and promote a telecommunications equipment distribution program and contract for the administration and operation of such program.

(c) The commission shall require all local exchange telephone companies in this state, except those operated by telephone membership corporations, to impose a monthly maintenance surcharge on all residential and business local exchange access facilities. For the purpose of this subsection, 'exchange access facility' means the access from a particular telephone subscriber's premise to the telephone system of a local exchange telephone company. 'Exchange access facility' includes local exchange company provided access lines, private branch exchange trunks, and centrex network access registers, all as defined by tariffs of telephone companies as approved by the commission. The amount of the surcharge shall be determined by the commission based upon the amount of funding necessary to accomplish the purposes of this Code section and provide the services on an ongoing basis; however, in no case shall the amount exceed 20¢ per month. A maximum of $0.05 of this monthly surcharge per access line ~~shall be utilized for~~ a telecommunications equipment distribution program and a maximum of $0.01 of this monthly surcharge per access line shall be utilized to fund an audible universal information access service. If the projected cost of the operation of the relay service exceeds a monthly surcharge of $0.15 at any time, funding for the telecommunications equipment distribution program and the audible universal information access service will be reduced by the amount required to fully fund the relay service, under the existing cap of $0.20 for the period of time necessary. No additional fees other than the surcharge authorized by this subsection shall be imposed on any user of such relay or information access service. The local exchange companies shall collect the surcharge from their customers and transfer the moneys collected to a special fund to be held separate from all other funds. The fund shall be used solely for the administration and operation of the relay service, the information access service, and the telecommunications equipment distribution program and shall not be imposed, collected, or expended for any other purpose.

(d) The dual party relay system shall protect the privacy of persons to whom relay services are provided and shall require all operators to maintain the confidentiality of all telephone messages. The confidentiality and privacy of persons to whom relay services are provided will be protected by means of the following:

- (1) The relay center shall not maintain any form of permanent copies of messages relayed by their operators or allow the content of telephone messages to be communicated to, or accessible to, nonstaff members;
- (2) Persons using the relay services shall not be required to provide any personal identifying information until the party they are calling is on the line, and shall only be required to identify themselves to the extent necessary to fulfill the purpose of their call;
- (3) Relay operators shall not leave messages with third parties unless instructed to do so by the person making the call;
- (4) Relay operators shall not intentionally alter a relayed conversation; and
- (5) Relay operators shall not refuse calls or limit the length of calls.

(e) Neither the commission nor the ~~provider~~ providers of the dual party relay system service or the audible universal information access service nor, except in cases of willful misconduct, gross negligence, or bad faith, the employees of the providers of the dual party relay system service or the audible universal information access service shall be liable for any claims, actions, damages, or causes of action arising out of or resulting from the establishment, participation in, or operation of the dual party relay system service or the audible universal information access service.

(f) The commission shall select the telecommunications carrier which will provide the relay system service and award the contract for this service to the offerer whose proposal is the most advantageous to the state, considering price, the interests of the hearing impaired and speech impaired community in having access to a high quality and technologically advanced telecommunication system, and all other factors listed in the commission's request for proposals.

(f.1) The commission shall select the service provider which will provide and manage the audible universal information access service and shall award the contract for this service to the offerer whose proposal is the most advantageous to the state, considering price, the interests of the blind and print disabled community in having access to a high quality and technologically advanced interactive audible universal information access system, the maintenance of such system, the training provided on the use of such service, outreach efforts, and all other factors listed in the commission's request for proposals.

(g) The commission shall select a distribution agency to manage the telecommunications equipment distribution program and award the contract for this service to the offerer whose proposal is the most advantageous to the state, considering price, the interests of the hearing impaired and speech impaired community in obtaining appropriate and effective telecommunications equipment, the training of recipients on the use of telecommunication devices, outreach efforts, and all other factors listed in the commission's request for proposals.

(h) The commission shall establish guidelines for eligibility for participation in the distribution program, taking into consideration a person's certified medical need and prohibiting distribution of telecommunications equipment to any person whose income exceeds 200 percent of the federal poverty level. The commission shall utilize appropriate external expertise, as necessary, to establish these guidelines, including contracting with public agencies or private entities. Funding for any such contracts will be covered by the $0.05 portion of the monthly surcharge utilized for the telecommunications equipment distribution program.

(i) The commission shall establish eligibility guidelines for participation in the audible universal information access service, taking into account a person's certified medical need. The commission shall utilize appropriate external expertise, as necessary, to establish these guidelines, including contracting with public agencies or private entities. Funding for such contracts will be covered by the $0.01 portion of the monthly surcharge utilized for the audible universal information access service.

~~(j)~~(i) The commission shall establish a telecommunications equipment distribution program advisory committee to provide input on program operation and the types of equipment to be, and being, distributed by the program. The commission shall select the equipment to be distributed by the program and shall incorporate this selection into the commission's request for proposals for a distribution agency.

~~(j)~~(k) The commission shall provide that the dual party telephone relay telephone system shall be operational no later than July 1, 1991, ~~and~~ that the telecommunications equipment distribution program shall be operational no later than March 31, 2003, and the audible universal information access service shall be operational no later than July 1, 2006."

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED
AN ACT

To amend Chapter 1 of Title 10 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to selling and other trade practices, so as to provide legislative findings; to provide definitions; to require information brokers to give notice to consumers of certain security breaches; to provide for related matters; to provide an effective date; to repeal conflicting laws; and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF GEORGIA.

SECTION 1.

Chapter 1 of Title 10 of the Official Code of Georgia Annotated, relating to selling and other trade practices, is amended by adding a new Article 34 to read as follows:

10-1-910.

The General Assembly finds and declares as follows:

- (1) The privacy and financial security of individuals is increasingly at risk due to the ever more widespread collection of personal information by both the private and public sectors;
- (2) Credit card transactions, magazine subscriptions, real estate records, automobile registrations, consumer surveys, warranty registrations, credit reports, and Internet websites are all sources of personal information and form the source material for identity thieves;

- (3) Identity theft is one of the fastest growing crimes committed in this state. Criminals who steal personal information such as social security numbers use the information to open credit card accounts, write bad checks, buy cars, purchase property, and commit other financial crimes with other people's identities;
- (4) Implementation of technology security plans and security software as part of an information security policy may provide protection to consumers and the general public from identity thieves;
- (5) Information brokers should clearly define the standards for authorized users of its data so that a breach by an unauthorized user is easily identifiable;
- (6) Identity theft is costly to the marketplace and to consumers; and
- (7) Victims of identity theft must act quickly to minimize the damage; therefore, expeditious notification of unauthorized acquisition and possible misuse of a person's personal information is imperative.

10-1-911.

As used in this article, the term:

- (1) 'Breach of the security of the system' means unauthorized acquisition of an individual's computerized data that compromises the security, confidentiality, or integrity of personal information of such individual maintained by an information broker. Good faith acquisition of personal information by an employee or agent of an information broker for the purposes of such information broker is not a breach of the security of the system, provided that the personal information is not used or subject to further unauthorized disclosure.
- (2) 'Information broker' means any person or entity who, for monetary fees or dues, engages in whole or in part in the business of collecting, assembling, evaluating, compiling, reporting, transmitting, transferring, or communicating information concerning individuals for the primary purpose of furnishing personal information to nonaffiliated third parties, but does not include any governmental agency whose records are maintained primarily for traffic safety, law enforcement, or licensing purposes.
- (3) 'Notice' means:
 - (A) Written notice;
 - (B) Electronic notice, if the notice provided is consistent with the provisions regarding electronic records and signatures set forth in Section 7001 of Title 15 of the United States Code; or
 - (C) Substitute notice, if the information broker demonstrates that the cost of providing notice would exceed $250,000.00, that the affected class of individuals to be notified exceeds 500,000, or that the information broker does not have sufficient contact information to provide written or electronic notice to such individuals. Substitute notice shall consist of all of the following:
 - (i) E-mail notice, if the information broker has an e-mail address for the individuals to be notified;
 - (ii) Conspicuous posting of the notice on the information broker's website page, if the information broker maintains one; and

(iii) Notification to major state-wide media.

Notwithstanding any provision of this paragraph to the contrary, an information broker that maintains its own notification procedures as part of an information security policy for the treatment of personal information and is otherwise consistent with the timing requirements of this article shall be deemed to be in compliance with the notification requirements of this article if it notifies the individuals who are the subjects of the notice in accordance with its policies in the event of a breach of the security of the system.

(4) 'Person' means any individual, partnership, corporation, limited liability company, trust, estate, cooperative, association, or other entity. The term 'person' as used in this article shall not be construed to require duplicative reporting by any individual, corporation, trust, estate, cooperative, association, or other entity involved in the same transaction.

(5) 'Personal information' means an individual's first name or first initial and last name in combination with any one or more of the following data elements, when either the name or the data elements are not encrypted or redacted:

(A) Social security number;

(B) Driver's license number or state identification card number;

(C) Account number, credit card number, or debit card number, if circumstances exist wherein such a number could be used without additional identifying information, access codes, or passwords;

(D) Account passwords or personal identification numbers or other access codes; or

(E) Any of the items contained in subparagraphs (A) through (D) of this paragraph when not in connection with the individual's first name or first initial and last name, if the information compromised would be sufficient to perform or attempt to perform identity theft against the person whose information was compromised.

The term 'personal information' does not include publicly available information that is lawfully made available to the general public from federal, state, or local government records.

(a) Any information broker that maintains computerized data that includes personal information of individuals shall give notice of any breach of the security of the system following discovery or notification of the breach in the security of the data to any resident of this state whose unencrypted personal information was, or is reasonably believed to have been, acquired by an unauthorized person. The notice shall be made in the most expedient time possible and without unreasonable delay, consistent with the legitimate needs of law enforcement, as provided in subsection (c) of this Code section, or with any measures necessary to determine the scope of the breach and restore the reasonable integrity, security, and confidentiality of the data system.

(b) Any person or business that maintains computerized data on behalf of an information broker that includes personal information of individuals that the person or business does not own shall notify the information broker of any breach of the security of the data immediately following discovery, if the personal information was, or is reasonably believed to have been, acquired by an unauthorized person.

(c) The notification required by this Code section may be delayed if a law enforcement agency determines that the notification will compromise a criminal investigation. The notification required by this Code section shall be made after the law enforcement agency determines that it will not compromise the investigation.

(d) In the event that an information broker discovers circumstances requiring notification pursuant to this Code section of more than 10,000 residents of this state at one time, the information broker shall also notify, without unreasonable delay, all consumer reporting agencies that compile and maintain files on consumers on a nationwide basis, as defined by 15 U.S.C. Section 1681a, of the timing, distribution, and content of the notices."

SECTION 2.

This Act shall become effective upon its approval by the Governor or upon its becoming law without such approval.

SECTION 3.

All laws and parts of laws in conflict with this Act are repealed.

(d) Nothing contained in this Code section shall be construed to permit a judge to impose, modify, or reduce a sentence below the minimum sentence required by law.

(e) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, drug court division staff shall be provided, upon request, with access to all records relevant to the treatment of the drug court division participant from any state or local government agency. "21-5-2.

It is declared to be the policy of this state, in furtherance of its responsibility to protect the integrity of the democratic process and to ensure fair elections for constitutional offices; state offices; district attorneys; members of the Georgia House of Representatives and Georgia Senate; all constitutional judicial officers; and all county and municipal elected officials, to institute and establish a requirement of public disclosure of campaign contributions and expenditures relative to the seeking of such offices, to the recall of public officers holding elective office, and to the influencing of voter approval or rejection of a proposed constitutional amendment, a state-wide referendum, or a proposed question which is to appear on the ballot in any county or municipal election. Further, it is the policy of this state that the state's public affairs will be best served by disclosures of significant private interests of public officers and officials which may influence the discharge of their public duties and responsibilities. The General Assembly further finds that it is for the public to determine whether significant private interests of public officers have influenced the state's public officers to the detriment of their public duties and responsibilities and, in order to make that determination and hold the public officers accountable, the public must have reasonable access to the disclosure of the significant private interests of the public officers of this state."

(a) There is created the Joint Legislative Ethics Committee, with such duties and powers as are set forth in this part. The committee shall be a part of the legislative branch of state government. The committee shall be governed by ten members appointed as follows:

If there are found no reasonable grounds to believe that a violation has occurred, the complaint shall be dismissed, subject to being reopened upon discovery of additional evidence or relevant material. If the committee determines that there are such reasonable grounds to believe that a violation has occurred, it shall give notice by summoning the persons believed to have committed the violation to a hearing. The committee may file a complaint charging violations of this part. Nothing in this Code section shall be construed to limit or encumber the right of the committee to initiate on probable cause an investigation on its own cognizance as it deems necessary to fulfill its obligations under this part;

- (10) With respect to punishment for violations by employees of the legislative branch of state government other than members of the General Assembly, the committee may order the violator to cease and desist from committing further violations and may issue employment related sanctions against such employee, including but not limited to reprimand, suspension, demotion, and termination; with respect to members of the General Assembly, the committee may make recommendations to the respective house of the type of punishment to be imposed.

(c) The committee shall designate the place where members of the public may file papers or correspond with the committee and receive any form or instruction from the committee. The committee shall preserve all complaints, statements, and other documentation received or generated by the committee.

The committee shall not initiate any investigation or inquiry into any matter under its jurisdiction based upon the complaint of any person unless that person shall produce the same in writing and verify the same under oath to the best information, knowledge, and belief of such person, the falsification of which shall be punishable as false swearing under Code Section 16-10-71. The person against whom any complaint is made shall be furnished by hand delivery or statutory overnight delivery or mailed by certified mail, return receipt requested, a copy of the complaint by the committee within five business days of the committee's receipt of such complaint.  April 12, 2005

Dear Colleagues,

My bid to become Georgia's first Republican Secretary of State became formal last Friday upon the filing of the appropriate campaign papers. This Campaign will be a future focused, tough, disciplined, winning effort and I believe you will be proud of what we do and how we do it. As you know, I don't believe in dress rehearsals and we are going to do this right while making some history once again.

I look forward to being out on the road and seeing what few parts of Georgia I haven't already represented courtesy of redistricting and the federal courts.

In the meantime, there is an important matter that needs to be addressed. The Caucus Rules we put in place upon taking the Majority in January 2003 are very clear. Article 6, Section one states, "In the event of a vacancy in any Caucus leadership office caused by death, retirement, resignation, or filing for another office, the office shall be filled for its unexpired term by a Caucus election"

Well, I'm not dead or retiring or resigning. Rest assured I intend to remain an active part of our Caucus right up until the Inaugural Ceremonies in January 2007. However, I have filed for another office and the rules are clear. Therefore, Chairman Balfour will be in touch with you with the timeline for a Caucus election to fill my unexpired term as your Majority Leader.

You will probably stop reading at this point, but I hope you don't...because I want you to know what an honor it has been to be a part of this Caucus Leadership Team for the past five years. I hope history will record that I had some small part in working with you all to make the historic transition from controlling 40 % of the Senate to having flipped that to exactly the opposite, with our Republican Caucus now controlling 60% of the Chamber. During that time you gave me the honor of serving you as Caucus Chair, Administration Floor Leader and then Majority Leader. I will be forever grateful for that privilege.

I look forward to serving along side you in the Caucus during the months to come...and to our service together in a different capacity after the elections of 2006.

God Bless you and God Bless the State of Georgia.

Article III, Section V, Paragraph XIII of the Georgia Constitution requires that I transmit these bills to you together with the reasons for such vetoes. These bills and corresponding reasons for the vetoes are attached.

Sincerely,

/s/ Sonny Perdue Governor

VETO NUMBER 1

HB 264 HB 264 significantly expands the authority of the Georgia Commission on Interstate Cooperation to include all interstate and international relations and expands the type and number of organizations that are considered joint governmental agencies. This new authority is vague and overbroad; I therefore VETO HB 264.

VETO NUMBER 2

HB 367 HB 367 includes many unrelated provisions including regulation of ignition interlock device providers, re-plating of license plates, changes for hazardous material transportation and requirements for driver training schools. The fatal flaw in this bill, however, is the provision that prohibits the operation of public driver improvement clinics in any county in which a private clinic is located. This provision would even require a public clinic to shut down whenever a private clinic begins operating in the same county. This provision is inconsistent with free market competition. I therefore VETO HB 367.

VETO NUMBER 3

HB 444 HB 444 changes the educational and professional requirements for engineers and land surveyors, essentially phasing-out the acceptability of apprenticeship experience and requiring a bachelor's degree. This legislation would ultimately, unnecessarily and inappropriately shut out many individuals from land surveying and likely result in increased costs to consumers. I believe that the underlying purpose of this bill can be better addressed through considering scope of practice as opposed to educational requirements. Therefore, I VETO HB 444.

www.libtool.com.cn

SB 68 Among other things, SB 68 expands the authority of the Georgia Board of Real Estate Appraisers and the Georgia Real Estate Commission to regulate continuing education instructors and the schools offering continuing education courses. These are privileges not given to similar professional boards and I see no demonstrated need for such expanded authority or regulation; I therefore VETO SB 68.

VETO NUMBER 5

SB 98 SB 98 authorizes local boards of education to provide life, disability, liability insurance, retirement or pension coverage, social security and employment security coverage for local board members. Such benefits would inevitably expand service on local school boards to full-time engagements. These wide-ranging benefits are beyond the scope of what is appropriate. I therefore VETO SB 98.

VETO NUMBER 6

SB 254 SB 254, among other things, relaxes the standards for the annual audit of legislative funds and expenditures by removing the requirement for detail. Because such relaxation is inappropriate, I VETO SB 254.

VETO NUMBER 7

SB 328 SB 328 is local legislation applicable to DeKalb County. This bill, among other things, would impose a $5.00 surcharge to fines levied by the State Court or Recorders Court in DeKalb County for the purpose of creating a technology fund for use in the offices of the clerk of the Superior Court, State Court, Magistrate Court and other courts in DeKalb County. In recent years, there has become an over-proliferation of court fines and fees as a means of funding various services at the state and local levels. The proliferation has occurred without a concurrent ability to track, account for and manage receipts to ensure efficiencies. I am unwilling to expand court fines for technology funds for the State and Superior Courts which have greater access to resources than other local courts. I therefore VETO SB 328.

VETO NUMBER 8

SB 338 SB 338 is local legislation applicable to Clayton County. The Clayton County Board of Commissioners has requested that it be vetoed. Local legislation should be a partnership between local officials and their legislative delegation. This bill will have a significant budgetary impact on the county for which the county commission is unprepared to bear the financial burden. I therefore VETO SB 338.

VETO NUMBER 9

www.libtool.com.cn

SB 339 SB 339 is local legislation applicable to Clayton County. The Clayton County Board of Commissioners has requested that it be vetoed. Local legislation should be a partnership between local officials and their legislative delegation. This bill will have a significant budgetary impact on the county for which the county commission is unprepared to bear the financial burden. I therefore VETO SB 339.

VETO NUMBER 10

SB 340 SB 340 is local legislation applicable to Clayton County. The Clayton County Board of Commissioners has requested that it be vetoed. Local legislation should be a partnership between local officials and their legislative delegation. This bill will have a significant budgetary impact on the county for which the county commission is unprepared to bear the financial burden. I therefore VETO SB 340.

VETO NUMBER 11

SB 341 SB 341 is local legislation applicable to Clayton County. The Clayton County Board of Commissioners has requested that it be vetoed. Local legislation should be a partnership between local officials and their legislative delegation. This bill will have a significant budgetary impact on the county for which the county commission is unprepared to bear the financial burden. I therefore VETO SB 341.

VETO NUMBER 12

SB 342 SB 342 is local legislation applicable to Clayton County. The Clayton County Board of Commissioners has requested that it be vetoed. Local legislation should be a partnership between local officials and their legislative delegation. This bill will have a significant budgetary impact on the county for which the county commission is unprepared to bear the financial burden. I therefore VETO SB 342.

VETO NUMBER 13

SB 343 SB 343 is local legislation applicable to Clayton County. The Clayton County Board of Commissioners has requested that it be vetoed. Local legislation should be a partnership between local officials and their legislative delegation. This bill will have a significant budgetary impact on the county for which the county commission is unprepared to bear the financial burden. I therefore VETO SB 343.

VETO NUMBER 14

SB 345 SB 345 is local legislation applicable to Clayton County. The Clayton County Board of Commissioners has requested that it be vetoed. Local legislation should be a ~~partnership between local~~ officials and their legislative delegation. This bill will have a significant budgetary impact on the county for which the county commission is unprepared to bear the financial burden. I therefore VETO SB 345.

VETO NUMBER 15

SB 351 SB 351 is local legislation applicable to Athens-Clarke County. Among other things, this bill would authorize the clerk of the state court to impose an additional $5.00 filing civil filing fee and a $5.00 surcharge to fines for the purpose of creating a technology fund for use in the State Court of Clarke County. In recent years, there has become an over-proliferation of court fines and fees as a means of funding various services at the state and local levels. The proliferation has occurred without a concurrent ability to track, account for and manage receipts to ensure efficiencies. I am unwilling to expand court fines for technology funds for the state court system which has greater access to resources than other local courts. I therefore VETO SB 351.

Section 8, pertaining to the Prosecuting Attorneys, page 5 of 85:

In the appropriations for the Superior Courts, the Council of Superior Court Judges Program is to be appropriated $882,809. This program can be funded through the transfer of funds from the other programs within the Superior Courts Budget Unit. Therefore, the $882,809 for the program (page 6 of 85, lines 90 through 92) in the provisions relative to Section 10, Superior Courts is vetoed.

Section 23, pertaining to the Employees' Retirement System of Georgia, page 28 of 85:

Language relative to the Public School Employees' Retirement System, a program of the Employees' Retirement System of Georgia reads: "It is the intent of the General Assembly that the employer contribution for Public School Employees' Retirement System shall not exceed $23.35 per member for State Fiscal Year 2005." The appropriations in HB 85 increased the benefit accrual rate per member by $0.50, from $13.00 to $13.50. However, the actuarial study to determine the actual employer contribution for the upcoming fiscal year 2006 has not been complete. In the appropriations for the Department of Motor Vehicle Safety, the Motorcycle Safety Program is to be appropriated $100,000. This program is currently funded through fees paid by applicants. SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
Senate Bill 1EX (LC 18 4734-EC)

Dear Chairman Grant:

This bill would change the rate of mileage reimbursement to state officers and employees traveling on state business in their personal motor vehicles. Currently, the rate is set in statute at $0.28 per mile. This bill would set the rate at the same mileage rate established by the U.S. General Services Administration for federal employees pursuant to Federal Travel Regulation Amendment 2005-01 as of July 1, 2005, or subsequently amended.

The fiscal impact of this bill is approximately $4.9 million. Amounts reported by state agencies for employee mileage reimbursement for FY 2005 were recalculated based upon the federal reimbursement rate. An adjustment was made to reflect the estimated percentage of state mileage reimbursement that was reimbursed from other funding sources (i.e., federal funds). The amount above includes $1.2 million estimated by the Board of Regents for mileage reimbursement to University System employees.

Sincerely,

/s/ Russell W Hinton
State Auditor

RE: Vote on September 8 by full Senate on SB 1EX-Mileage Reimbursement

Dear Mr. Eldridge:

I understand that a full floor vote will take place on the above referenced Senate Bill, and that this will occur on September 8, 2005, the third day of the Special Session. As you can see from the accompanying, I am under a Notice to take deposition of my client in a Federal Court case pending in the Middle District of Georgia. I was under the Notice before the call for the session was made by the Governor. The deposition is noticed for September 8, 2005 at 2:30 P.M. whereby I cannot attend the session on that date.

I have reviewed the legislation (SB 1EX-mileage reimbursement bill) and write to request that the Journal reflect that I fully support the Bill and would cast a vote yes for the Bill had I been able to appear in person.

As relayed, I had myself prepared a version of the same legislation in early August which further demonstrates my support for the same. I understand that this can be done and thank you for your time. With kindest personal regards, I am,

Sincerely,
/s/ Michael S. Meyer von Bremen

SUBJECT: Fiscal Note
House Bill 1EX (LC 18 4735-EC)

Dear Chairman O'Neal:

This legislation would temporarily suspend the collection of motor fuel taxes. This moratorium would apply to both the excise tax and the 4% prepaid sales tax. The prepaid tax is split 3% to motor fuel revenue which is dedicated to the Department of Transportation and 1% to the state General Fund. This suspension would last for approximately 30 days.

The Georgia State University Fiscal Research Center estimates the overall impact of this moratorium is to reduce state revenues by approximately $75.5 million in FY 2006. This decrease would consist of approximately $66.1 million in motor fuel revenue that will impact the state in FY 2007 and $9.4 million in General Fund revenue that will impact the state in FY 2006. The Fiscal Research Center provided the following narrative regarding this estimate:

The starting point of this analysis was the Department of Revenue's report on FY 2005 motor fuel tax receipts. These receipts were approximately $461 million from the excise tax and $330 million from the first 3% of the prepaid sales tax. The excise tax revenue was divided by the 7.5 cent per gallon excise tax rate to estimate gallons consumed in Georgia.

For FY 2006, it was assumed that gallon consumption grows by 1% over FY 2005. This consumption quantity was multiplied by the excise tax rate and the current prepaid sales tax rate which is 7.5 cents per gallon for gasoline. This calculation yields annual totals of $466.0 million in excise tax, $349.5 million from the first 3% of the prepaid sales tax and $116.5 million from the last 1% of the prepaid sales tax rate.

Based on recent average monthly receipts, September's motor fuel revenue is expected to equal about 8.1% of the annual total. This yields estimates of the revenue reduction from a September moratorium. These estimates are approximately $37.8 million in excise tax revenue, $28.3 million from the first 3% of the prepaid sales tax and $9.4 million from the last 1% of the prepaid sales tax. The combined impacts are a $66.1 million decrease in motor fuel revenues and a $9.4 million decrease in general fund revenues for a $75.5 million overall decrease in state revenues.
